Calvin Proves He Knows His Swine, Rogers Observes

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., May 25.—By Golly, you got to give Calvin credit for consistency. He told 'em a year ago that he thought this farm bill was wrong. They took it back and took out the word "hog" and replaced it with "pork," but he still wouldn't fall for it.

Politicians couldn't understand any man vetoing a bill with an election coming on.

I have always claimed that the farmer will get no relief by legislation, for there is more people eating than there is raising, so he is a minority before he starts.

His relief should come through taxes. When a farm don't pay anything it shouldn't be taxed.

I am not worrying about Andy Payne winning the race, but I am worried if he will win anything else.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Suggestion made in The News last night of several uses to be made of the immense concrete stack at the Rosena furnace property sounds good to Pa Newc. It seems to us that one of them, or maybe more, could be carried out gracefully, and to advantage to the city.

James Peebles of Lawrence county has been named as a member of the state executive committee of the Prohibition party. Mr. Peebles has for many years been a leading member of the Prohibition party, and he's still a staunch member of the party, despite the fact that the prohibition amendment was adopted some years ago.

Overcoats and straw hats seemed to be the combination that was the thing on the streets of New Castle last night. Weather was quite cool.

Butler is following the plan adopted by New Castle, with regard to daylight savings time. It is announced that Butler will go on the new time schedule the first week of June, and will conclude the program with the last week of August, the same as in New Castle. Pa Newc believes that most of the cities will finally come to this program as the logical one for observance of the time change.

Ezra Meeker, famous pioneer, who rode around a wild circus arena here a year or two since, is to be one of the men in attendance at the Republican party convention at Kansas City next month. He is now 98 years of age.

William J. Freed of Wampum R. D. 2, writes to Pa Newc that he has a Rhode Island hen that on May 23 laid an egg that measured eight inches around the long way and six inches the short way. Any other claimants for honors?

Another of the pupils of Martin Gantz school in the early days is Mrs. A. M. Stockburger of 808 Chestnut street, it has been learned by Pa Newc. She attended the school in 1854 and is now 83 years of age. She recalls that her teachers in 1854 were Miss Lyda Loy and Miss Bonnell. Mrs. Stockburger's maiden name was Mary Warner.

Buy a Buddy Poppy tomorrow! And don't make the contribution a stingy one.

Annual out-of-doors May pageant will take place at New Wilmington on Saturday, when the Westminster college students will present their ceremonies incident to crowning of the May queen.

Tonight will be class night for a number of Lawrence county schools. Pa Newc would like to attend all of them. The abilities of the various classes are presented probably better on class night than at any other school performances.

Lawrence county should be enthused over their Boy Scout camp. It is the best in the country, say officials of this and other councils. And early in June it is to be the scene of the

Senators Allow Consideration Of Several Measures

Tax Reduction Bill Conference Report Is Taken Up This Afternoon

FILIBUSTER LASTS OVER 24 HOURS

Report On Muscle Shoals Project Is Adopted By Senate, 43-34

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 25.—After paralyzing the 70th Congress for more than 24 hours by blocking all legislation in the Senate, a group of filibustering senators at noon today relaxed their battle long enough to permit adoption of a conference report on the $100,000,000 Muscle Shoals project.

The vote was 43 to 34.

The report was sent to the House where leaders predicted its early adoption.

A further break in the filibuster came a few minutes later when the boulder dam bill was temporarily sidetracked to permit consideration of the conference report on the new $223,000,000 tax reduction bill. A sharp fight ensued over the action of the conferees in dropping a provision calling for full publicity on all tax returns.

Yields Floor

A ceaseless flood of oratory halted all legislative activity in the Senate from early yesterday afternoon, when the Senate finished over-riding presidential vetoes, until shortly after 11 o'clock this morning. Then Senator McKellar (D) of Tenn., leading the fight against the Muscle Shoals bill, announced he would yield the floor. His eyes were almost closed, his head sagged wearily from want of sleep and his voice was husky from making two speeches over a period of seven hours.

McKellar's opposition was based solely on inclusion of a provision to build a $37,500,000 dam at Cove creek in Tennessee, 100 miles above Muscle Shoals. He charged the bill took private property without the state's consent. He sought in vain to amend the report to allow the state to tax the property and to control its operation. All such proposals were ruled out of order by Vice President Dawes under Senate's rules.

Administration leaders joined with the Boulder dam advocates in helping to break the Muscle Shoals filibuster, because they feared the new tax reduction bill might be killed in the legislative deadlock. They denied rumors that the adjournment date

Letters May Be Clue To Mystery

Two Are Received In Case Of Missing Youngstown, O., Girl

POLICE LOOK INTO POSSIBLE ANGLES

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 25.—New clues in the form of two letters are being followed today by Youngstown police in their search for 10-year-old Beatrice Rosenbaum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Rosenbaum, who disappeared from the home of her parents on May 14.

Police are hopeful that the letters will be instrumental in solving the mystery surrounding the girl's disappearance. One of the letters which said, "keep on, you are going good, you will never find her alive," bore the postmark of Litchfield, O. Across the bottom of the letter was scrawled a crude skull and cross bones and the word "Bah!"

The second letter said, "See some man in Willard, O.," This letter was postmarked Willard.

Both of the letters were addressed to the child's parents at their home here. The letters were turned over to the police who immediately carried their investigation to Litchfield.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—President Coolidge signed a bill raising the pension to Civil War widows from $30 to $40 a month.

BOY KING FEELS CARES OF RULE

Although he's reigning under a regency, the boy king, Michael of Roumania, has already felt the cares of his office, with the peasant party staging protests against the present government. King Michael is shown above, with the Princess Mother Helen, and Dowager Queen Marie, acknowledging the salute of his regiments as they pass in review in celebration of national independence day at Bucharest. Below is a view of a small delegation of peasants marching along a country road to join a congress at Alba Julia in protest against the government.

Kellogg Queries Many Countries On Outlawing Of War

Six Nations Invited To Offer Ideas On Conference For Universal Peace

ACT SUGGESTED BY CHAMBERLAIN

Invite Many Governments To Consider Proposal And Meet In Near Future

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The negotiations for the universal renunciation of war by treaty were extended today to all the dominions of the British Empire.

An identic notes to Canada, Ireland, Australia, India, South Africa, and New Zealand, Secretary of State Kellogg formally invited those governments to participate directly in the future correspondence on the project.

Delivered By Minister

At Ottawa and Dublin the notes were delivered directly to the Dominion and Free State governments by the United States ministers. The others were delivered through Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign minister.

The invitations were suggested by Chamberlain in his reply last week to Kellogg's note of April 13 inaugurating the multi-lateral negotiations.

"It is most gratifying," said Kellogg's note, "to find His Majesty's government in the Dominion and the government of India so favorably included toward the treaty."

The original Kellogg invitation went only to Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Japan. The negotiations are now halted for the time awaiting the reply of Japan. All other powers have responded with variously qualified acceptances.

Plans Flight To Australia

Three-Stop Flight From California To Australia Is In Preparation

AUSTRALIANS TO PILOT HUGE CRAFT

(International News Service)

LONG BEACH, Cal., May 25.—The giant triple-motored monoplane Southern Cross was undergoing last-minute preparations for its flight today to Oakland, where it will be groomed for a contemplated three-stop air journey to Australia.

The great craft will be piloted on its projected trans-Pacific flight by Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, Australian flyer. Captain T. P. Ulm, also an Australian aviator, will act as co-pilot, according to an announcement made here. Two Americans, Captain Harry W. Lyon Jr. and James Warner, will accompany the Australians as navigator and radio operator respectively, Captain Kingsford-Smith stated.

It is planned to take off on the long air journey next Thursday from the Oakland airport. The first stop, according to Captain Kingsford-Smith, will be Honolulu; the second, Kaual Island in the Hawaiian group; the third, Suva, Fiji Islands, and the destination of the proposed flight, Brisbane, Australia.

Radio Corporation Is Cited Today For Unfair Competition

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 25.—A complaint citation charging unfair competition and restraint of trade was issued against the Radio Corporation of America today by the Federal Trade Commission.

The citation is the outgrowth of the long investigation which the commission made into the ramifications of the so-called "radio trust." The corporation has thirty days in which to file an answer.

The practice of the corporation in so writing its contract that all radio set manufacturers are compelled to use RCA tubes was condemned by the commission as unfair practice and trade restraint.

Army Flier Takes To Parachute When Plane Takes Fire

Lieutenant Umpstead Saves Life By Making 1,500 Feet Parachute Jump

(International News Service)

MITCHEL FIELD, N. Y., May 25.—Lieut. Stanley Umpstead was forced to take to his parachute when his army pursuit plane in which he was flying over the field here today caught fire 3,000 feet in the air.

Umpstead tried to land the plane but it went out of control 1,500 feet above ground. He leaped with his parachute from the plane, landing safely on the field uninjured. At the border of the field the plane crashed still burning and is a total loss.

Naval Building Bill Likely To Fail Of Passage

State Department Shows Concern Over Naval Building Bill Before Congress

KELLOGG HOPEFUL MEASURE ENACTED

Measure Embodies What American Delegation At Geneva Demanded Last Summer

WASHINGTON, May 25.—State department officials are concerned by the failure of congress to enact the $275,000,000 naval building bill now caught in the end of the session legislation maelstrom in the senate.

The diplomatic influence of the United States in the next naval limitations conference, certain to be held in 1931 if not before, will be vastly impaired by the failure of the bill. Despite the fact that the defeat would be purely technical, revolving as it does about the parliamentary tangle in the senate rather than upon the merits of the bill itself the inactivity of congress would be construed throughout the world as congressional repudiation of the Coolidge-Kellogg policy of naval parity.

Secretary Kellogg is anxious to see the measure passed. It embodies what the American delegation persistently demanded at the abortive Geneoa conference last summer.

The bill which would provide for 15 cruisers and one aircraft carrier has been passed by the house and favorably reported out by the senate naval committee.

Jeweler Is Killed, Train Hits Auto

(International News Service)

Engine Is Derailed And Train Wrecked; Passengers Are Shaken Up

Many Indiana Legislators Are On Train Figuring In Mishap

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 25.—The engineer and fireman were killed and a score of passengers were shaken up when train No. 36, on the Monon, due in Chicago at 7:10 a. m., from Indianapolis, struck the trailer of a truck at St. John, Ind., early today.

The engine rolled over in a ditch along the right-of-way and five of the seven sleepers on the all-Pullman train were overturned.

The train, leaving Indianapolis at 12:25 a. m., carried a large number of state senators, representatives and other delegates to the Indiana state Republican convention at the Hoosier capital, homeward bound to Lake county and surrounding territory.

Chinese Armies Waging Terrific Battle, Reported

Southern Chinese Forces Continue Drive Toward City Of Peking

JAPANESE TROOPS ARE REINFORCED

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 25.—The opposing northern and southern Chinese forces are again waging terrific battles along a wide front, dispatches from Hong Kong received by the Exchange Telegraph company reported today.

With Peking as their objective, the southern armies are making determined efforts to capture Tingchow, Hoklenfu and Tsangchoy, which are considered key centers. The northerners, however, are putting up stubborn resistance and latest reports do not indicate that they are yielding to their foes.

Fearing that the concerted drive of the southerners may result in the fall of Peking and a consequent disorderly retreat of northern troops northward into Manchuria, the Japanese field generals in China have dispatched a large force to Chinchow Fu.

The Japanese are determined to prevent any straggling Chinese troops from endangering Japanese lives and property in Manchuria by looting. The force dispatched to Chinchow Fu includes an infantry regiment and an artillery brigade.

Mother Of Thirteen Children Who Had Husband Arrested; Hands Out Some Philosophy

(International News Service)

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 25.—With tears streaming from his eyes, Edward Cromwell, 40, promised today that he would not endanger the life of his fragile wife by compelling her to bear more children.

He was released from jail yesterday where he was held on complaint of his wife, Edith, who wanted authorities to compel him to stop making her bring children into the world. She has had 13, all but five of whom died.

"I love children and I want plenty of them," he said. "But everybody seems to think that my wife is not able to bear any more. I'm going to take their advice and just work to support my family from now on."

Hope's He Still Has Job

"We don't have enough food to keep us going," said Mrs. Cromwell, "but if Ed behaves himself the way he says he will I think we will get along all right. If he sticks to it I'll be happy with him. Our only worry now is that he might have lost his job on account of my having him arrested.

"When I look back at myself as a young girl eighteen years old and look at myself now, I can't believe my eyes. I was just a happy kid and a lot of people said I was good looking and I was bright and smart and full of pep.

"I hate to say it but it's the truth. Marriage has brought me ill health and poverty. Bearing thirteen children has just about ruined me.

"There are millions of cases like mine. And there are millions of pretty, bright well dressed young girls who will marry inconsiderate men. A short time afterward they will no longer have pretty clothes. They ought to think this over, especially if they are planning to marry a poor man."

Colorado Robbers Are Near Capture, Trapped In Hills

Lamar Colorado Bank Robbers Surrounded By Posse Of 200 Armed Men

(International News Service)

DIGHTON, Kan., May 25.—The Lamar Colorado bank bandits were reported by officials here shortly before noon today to be surrounded near the Smoky Hill river, several miles northwest of here. A posse of about 200 men, with two airplanes overhead, were said to have located the bandits and their capture appeared momentary.

May Grant Bell Permission To Attend Funeral

Wife Of John A. Bell, Aged Convicted Carnegie Banker, Dies Of Pneumonia

LATE FINANCIER HOSPITAL PRISONER

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 25.—John A. Bell, convicted Carnegie banker, tomorrow probably will attend the funeral service of his wife, Mrs. Mathilda Foster Bell, who died from pneumonia yesterday in her home at 1323 Denniston avenue.

Should permission to attend his wife's funeral be given the aged banker who is now serving six and a half years in the Allegheny General hospital following his conviction on charges growing out of the wrecking of the Carnegie Trust company, he will probably be accompanied by his brother-in-law, Attorney John S. Robb and County Jail Warden John McNeil.

Bell is said to be a hopeless paralytic.

Although no arrangements have been made for his presence at the services, Warden McNeil said that the obtaining of a court order for the purpose was regarded as a mere formality.

Confirm Class At Temple Israel

Impressive Program Is Presented At Temple Thursday Evening

FOUR MEMBERS OF THIS YEAR'S CLASS

Four young lassies took part in a service in Temple Israel Thursday night, May 24, a religious service that was more impressive than any mere sermon could be, a religious service that struck home its message in such a way that it left its impress upon the minds and hearts of those who were present. It was Confirmation Day, the first such service to be held in Temple Israel, and the memory of it will be an inspiration to similar services that will follow in the years to come.

Previous confirmation services have been held under the auspices of B'Nai Brith, this one was for the children of members of Temple Israel and for this reason the class was not as large as it has been on other occasions. The four confirmants, Doris Shenkan, Rosalyn V. Freeman, Sara Aaronson

Message From Dirigible Tells Cause Of Delay

Some Anxiety Was Manifest Over Failure Of Balloon To Arrive On Time

ICE COATING OVER GREAT DIRIGIBLE

Gen. Nobile Expects To Complete Polar Trip Late This Afternoon

(Bulletin)

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 25.—Anxiety over the progress of the Italian polar balloon Italia was dispelled this afternoon when the following Central News dispatch was received from King's Bay, Spitzbergen:

"Gen. Umberto Nobile, head of the expedition, sent a radiogram from the Italia that heavy headwinds and an ice coating upon the balloon's envelope had delayed progress, but that the dirigible is now flying strongly. Gen. Nobile said he expected to reach King's Bay between four and five o'clock this afternoon."

The radiogram was received at King's Bay at 2:15 p. m.

LONDON, May 25.—The absence of news from King's Bay early this afternoon regarding the arrival of the Italian polar exploration balloon Italia had aroused anxiety that the dirigible may have encountered serious difficulties in getting back to its base.

The Italia was due to reach King's Bay, Spitzbergen, at noon and it was expected that news of the arrival would be flashed immediately by wireless. As the afternoon wore on and no word was received speculation gave way to anxiety over the progress of the balloon.

Word early today from the dirigible conveyed the information that it was fighting its way through a storm and that a coating of ice had formed upon the envelope.

Mrs. Coolidge Takes Back Seat As John's Girl Friend Rides

President's Son Takes Florence Trumbull For Ride, Mother In Rumble Seat

(International News Service)

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., May 25.—When "the boy's girl friend" is along even the first lady of the land has to take a back seat in the automobile.

John Coolidge was driving. At his side was Miss Florence Trumbull, daughter of Connecticut's governor and owner of the sport roadster. Mrs. Calvin Coolidge and her friend, Mrs. R. B. Hill, both wrapped in blankets were in the rumble seat.

After visiting Mrs. Coolidge's mother, Mrs. Lemira Goodhue, at Cooley-Dickinson hospital, the party enjoyed a brisk ride over the country roads of Hampshire county.

Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, who has been here with her sick mother a week, plans to leave for Washington tomorrow. Her mother's condition remains about the same.

Arthur Mometer

It isn't always the time you're off that makes up a holiday, its the planning of trips that you'd like to take, and the time you must be away. Its just as much fun mapping out some trip, that you know you will never take, a ride through the mountains or up the state, or down to some pleasure lake. The trip itself is a joy of course, but the planning is lots of fun, and when you are through with your mental trip, you're back just where you began. With a map and a pipe and an easy chair, a fellow goes far away, and the cost is little, the fun is big, its seventy-seven today.

Asks $25,000 As Result Of Crash At Street Corner

Harry Shaw Files Suit Against William Hedegore For Youngstown Accident

In a suit filed at the prothonotary's office this morning Harry Shaw, a resident of Ohio, asks $25,000 damages from William Hedegore of Lawrence county as a result of an automobile accident in Youngstown in August, 1927.

In the statement of claim, Shaw claims that a truck belonging to him and being driven by Arthur O. Johnson, was being driven east on Himrod avenue. Hedegore was driving an automobile north on Jackson avenue, which intersects Himrod. At the point of intersection Shaw claims that the auto of defendant hit his truck with great force. Shaw was badly injured about the head and face. He claims that he was forced to expend $200 in doctor bills and that it will be necessary for him to expend $300 more.

At the time of the accident Shaw says that he was able to earn $150 per month and that he lost considerable time. He says that the brakes on the Hedegore machine were old and defective, and that the machine was being driven at around 45 miles per hour.

Will Attempt To Pass Farm Relief Bill Over Veto

Farm Bloc Leaders Believe Effort To Enact Measure Will Be Failure

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 25.—At the insistence of farm organizations, congressional farm bloc leaders today agreed to attempt the hopeless task of enacting the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill over President Coolidge's veto.

Senator McNary (R) of Oregon, who has opposed the action as futile, announced he would call up the president's veto message "at the earliest possible moment, with interfering with the pending legislation."

It will require a two-thirds vote by both house and senate to enact the bill over the veto. Administration leaders predicted defeat for the measure.

annual camporee of western Pennsylvania, when several thousand boys will go into camp for several days.

New Castle abounds in surprises. At the end of East Main street, Pa Newc found yesterday afternoon that he could do some mountain climbing. For the end of the street goes "straight up in the air."

By the new motor code, bumper lights are forbidden. Yet every now and then in the evening, Pa Newc sees one or more cars with them burning.

All Pennsylvania colleges were given achievement tests a few weeks ago. While it is better that the results not be made public, even the seniors have misgivings as to the results of the quizz. One says that she never knew that she could forget so much of the information that "addle-pated" profs pass out.

While Pa Newc is getting rather tired writing about it, dogs of all sorts are still running wild over the North Hill, tearing up gardens, flower beds and upsetting garbage cans. These dogs, if they are kept within the city limits, should be tied up.

The urge of the water is strong, sometimes too strong. Yesterday two little children were wading in the shallows of the Neshannock.

We noticed a field of corn last evening in which the blades of corn were through the ground about two inches. This is the first corn that we have noticed that is "up". We fear that weather is still a little cold for the growth of corn but hope that these precocious blades may prosper. Most of the fields of oats throughout this part of the country seem to be coming along fine and the rains last week seem to be boosting the hay crop. The wheat looks kind of scraggly in some places. The winter was a little hard on wheat this year.

Doubtless the last great institution to achieve fool-proof production will be the stork.

Filibuster Is Threatened On Tax Reduction

FINAL PASSAGE NOW IN DOUBT

Senate Conferees Agree To Strike Out Publicity Clause On Income Taxes

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Final enactment of the new compromise $223,000,000 tax bill was threatened today by the action of senate conferees in agreeing to strike out the provision forcing publicity on all income tax returns.

This provision, inserted by the senate, was one of the two major tax issues raised by the insurgent bloc which supported the administration throughout its tax fight. The other was the successful fight to retain the existing federal inheritance taxes. With the publicity clause rejected by the conferees, the insurgent bloc threatened to block final action on the bill by a filibuster.

"I'll say there'll be a filibuster if the senate doesn't keep the publicity clause in the tax bill," observed Senator Couzens (R) of Michigan, who arranged the alliance between the insurgents and the administration forces.

The fiscal draft of the tax bill carried no relief on normal income taxes, no relief on surtaxes, retained the existing federal inheritance tax, provided a total of $225,295,000 in reductions and $2,800,000 in increases. The net reduction totaled $223,495,000.

Ask Bus Stop In Seventh Wd.

Chamber Of Commerce Asked To Take Up Matter With Railroad And State

COMPANY B SENDS THANKS TO BOARD

A letter of thanks for the support of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce from Sergeant Forest L. Florida, Company B, 125th Engineers, National Guard of Pennsylvania, was read to those present when the regular semi-monthly meeting of the board directors of the Chamber took place Thursday at noon in the dining room of the Elks club, reports James W. Cole, secretary of the organization.

The local Chamber, states Mr. Cole, loaned Company B enough money so that Sergt. Florida could be sent to France with the Guard of Honor that will help to dedicate Pennsylvania's world war memorials.

Two guests were present, J. C. Raney and John M. Bevan of the seventh ward, who represented the people living in the seventh ward.

These men asked the aid of the Chamber of Commerce to obtain a seventh ward stop for the Pennsylvania Railroad busses which travel between New Castle and Lawrence Junction. At the present time, the people of the seventh ward are forced to come to the New Castle station or to go to the junction every time they wish to take a trip. This inconvenience, it was suggested, could be eliminated by a seventh ward stop.

From the suggestion made at the meeting, the Chamber of Commerce thinks that it would be for the benefit of the people of the seventh ward if a stop were to be made by the busses either on Cherry or Liberty street, or a regular stop be made at the Cherry street station to pick up and drop seventh ward passengers.

Other regular routine business of the Chamber was transacted.

Those present at the meeting were: President David S. Pyle and directors O. P. Brown, T. W. Dickey, J. K. Love, James M. Smith and Ira Ramsey.

would be postponed from next Tuesday to Saturday, June 2, declaring the filibuster would be stopped in time to carry out the legislative program.

After McKellar quit, Senator Tydings (D) of Maryland, who held the floor for three hours during the night, and Senator King (D) of Utah, protested against the Senate's action. The vote then followed.

In Session All Night

WASHINGTON, May 25.—After a hectic all night session, the Senate early today was vainly trying to break a desperate double-barreled filibuster aimed at defeating the $100,000,000 Muscle Shoals conference report and the famous Swing-Johnson Boulder dam bill.

A group of opponents of the Boulder dam bill, joining with a handful of foes of the Muscle Shoals bill, brought the Senate's legislative machinery to a halt by refusing to allow a vote on either measure. As a result, the Senate was held in continuous session to force final action on the bills, by breaking down the opposition through sheer exhaustion.

At 7 o'clock this morning, the Senate had been in continuous session for twenty hours.

Well Organized

The filibuster was so well organized and functioned so smoothly that it blocked action not only on the two bills at which it was directed but on all other legislation as well. The administration's new tax reduction bill, the second deficiency appropriation bill, and hundreds of less important measures all were tied up by the deadlock.

It was the purpose of administration leaders to keep the Senate continuously in session until the filibuster is broken or until it appears that neither the Muscle Shoals nor Boulder dam bill can finally be enacted. A decision may not be reached before Sunday and the Senate, consequently, faced a continuous session today, all through tonight, tomorrow and Saturday night.

The speech-making began at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. After several hours of over-riding presidential vetoes, the Senate began debate on the Muscle Shoals conference report. Senator McKellar (D) of Tenn., immediately opened an attack on it. Others joined him. During the night session, Senators Bruce (D) of Md., Sackett (R) of Ky., Tydings (D) of Md., and Blease (D) of S. C., held the floor. Tydings spoke for over three hours while Blease held the floor from 1:30 this morning to 4 o'clock.

Besides her parents the little girl leaves three brothers, Henry, Frank and Alton, Jr., and one sister, Emma.

Funeral services will take place Sunday, May 27 at 1:30 p. m., at Clarington, Pa. Interment will be made in Beechwood cemetery of that place.

FAST TRAIN STRIKES AUTO TRUCK TRAILER; ENGINE CREW KILLED

Tells of Wreck

Max Mullhuer, a Chicago city fireman, who was a passenger on the train, gave an eye-witness story of the wreck.

"The train, a fast express, was making time," he said. "When a truck with a trailer attached tried to beat the train to the crossing. The truck cleared, but the trailer was struck squarely. Bits of the trailer gear were heavy enough to derail the engine, turning it on its side, with the fireman and engineer pinned beneath.

"I helped get the fireman out, but he was dead. The engineer was buried so far under the wreck that it was impossible to get him without a derrick.

"The Pullmans, five of them, were derailed or overturned, but aside from a severe shock and perhaps minor cuts and bruises none of the passengers, so far as I could learn, was injured."

and Beatrice Gonick, were gowned in white and carried white roses, their class flower, typifying "Trust". It was a beautiful sight, to see these young women, offering themselves as confirmants to the religion of their fathers, and by this service making their public avowal of following the teachings of that ancient religion.

Processional to Altar.

Following the Shabuoth service, the processional march pealed out, with Mrs. W. L. Cosel at the organ. The confirmants came down the aisle of the temple with A. Gonick and Emanuel Shenkan leading them. Previous to the processional, the confirmants had been in charge of Mrs. J. A. Altschuler and Mrs. B. Kline. As the confirmants came to the altar they presented their floral offerings. The opening prayer was delivered by Doris Shenkan, following which the temple choir sang "Father See Thy Suppliant Children", and the floral prayer was delivered by Rosalyn V. Freeman.

Sara Aaronson spoke on "The Holy Bible", Beatrice Gonick on "Jewish Holidays" and the class recited the Ten Commandments, after which the interpretation of them was given by Rosalyn V. Freeman. Sara Aaronson presented the "Thanks to the Parents" and the Declaration of Faith by the class followed. The choir sang "Hark the Voice of Children," after which the confirmation and blessing took place, with Rabbi J. B. Menkes performing this duty. The diplomas were presented to the class by the president of the congregation Marcus Feuchtwanger, the closing prayer was delivered by Beatrice Gonick and the recessional march was played by Mrs. W. L. Cosel.

The confirmation sermon by Rabbi J. B. Menkes was one that not only the confirmants but the congregation will remember. He charged them to be loyal to the faith of their fathers, to keep themselves clean and pure, and to follow the tenets of those leaders in Israel who centuries ago set down the doctrines of the race.

One of the pleasing features of this service was the rendition of solos by Miss Anna Levy and Miss Florence Weinberg. Each of the soloists had numbers most suitable to the occasion.

As a memento of the occasion, the ladies of the Sisterhood of Temple Israel presented each of the class with a Holy Bible. Following the closing of the confirmation exercises, a reception was held in the social room of the temple, at which refreshments were served.

Pre-Death Statement Of Radium Victim To Be Offered In Court

Suit Of Young Girl Doomed To Early Death By Radium To Be Heard Monday

(International News Service)

ORANGE, N. J., May 25.—The pre-death statement of Miss Eleanor Eckert of Essex Falls will be used as new evidence by the five girls who it is claimed are doomed to an early death as a result of radium poisoning, in their suit against the United States Radium Corporation for $1,250,000, it was reported today.

Miss Eckert who died last December, four days after making her statement, worked at the same plant where the five plaintiffs contracted their tissue-consuming ailment.

An autopsy upon her body showed that she was so full of radium that her bones fairly glistened in the dark.

In her statement Miss Eckert said that she was employed at the United States Radium Corporation plant from 1916 to 1927, painting clocks, watch dials, etc., and that in September a fall caused the scraping of a bone which resulted in the radium activities in her system.

The girl's statement was corroborated by doctors who pointed out that the radium poisoning in the girl's system only reached a climax with the fall.

Monday the case of one of the five girls, Grace Fryer, will be brought to trial.

Miss Fryer has offered her body to science after death. Her physicians said her days are numbered.

RADIO OFFICIAL IS KILLED IN CRASH AS PLANE TOPPLES

Aged Man Victim Of Two Machines

BERWICK, Pa., May 25.—Struck by a hit-and-run driver, then run over by another machine before it could stop, James Martone, 70, of Alemadia, suffered injuries which caused his death an hour later in the Berwick hospital.

Martone was walking on the state highway two miles west of here when struck. Harold Bogart, of Mifflinsville, told police he saw a coupe swaying from one side of the road to the other. It struck Martone and sped on.

The car of Mrs. Margaret Baer, of 103 North Hyde Park, Scranton, was following the coupe and struck Martone's body before Burton Baer, the driver, could stop.

Baer took Martone to the Berwick hospital, unconscious. He died within an hour.

MISS EUNICE POWERS WEDS CLARENCE BOSTON

Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock a pretty wedding was solemnized in the Third U. P. church, when Miss Eunice Refina Powers, daughter of Mrs. R. E. Powers, Milton street, became the bride of Clarence Everett Boston, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Boston, Butler avenue.

The church was decorated with palms and ferns, and Dr. S. E. Irvine, pastor of the First U. P. church officiated, assisted by Rev. S. B. Copeland, pastor of the Third U. P. church.

Mrs. Francis N. Eakin played the wedding march, and preceeding the ceremony David West sang "O Promise Me."

The bride who was given in marriage by her brother, John Powers, wore a gown of white satin and lace, and her tulle veil was caught with lillies of the valley. She carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaids wore lovely frocks of flat crepe, in pastel shades, Miss Christine Welker, of Mercer, Pa., in blue, Miss Martha Gilfillan in yellow, Miss Kathryn Newbury in green, and Miss Katherine Boston in orchid. They carried showers of ping roses tied with maleen

Paul Guthrie served as best man, and the ushers were Harry Alford, Russell McNickle, Alex Newell and Joseph Powers, brother of the bride.

SAYS HE'S REAL ANDY GUMP—SUES

SUING cartoonists for fabulous amounts has come to be one of the great American sports, since comic artists got into the millionaire class. Usually they are sued for divorce, like film stars, after attaining prosperity. Sometimes they are sued for real or fancied violation of copyright.

The latter form of suit it brought, in Corning, N. Y., against Sidney Smith, creator of Andy Gump, whose cartoon is a daily feature of The New Castle News. A Corning citizen avers that he is the original of the aforesaid Gump, having had part of his lower jaw removed many years ago in a Baltimore hospital, leaving a facial defect which the artist copied. Even some of his relatives, he declares, have been introduced in the Gump cartoons. All of which the artist denies.

The suit is interesting in its assumption that a man's face is his own that by virtue of owning his face he possesses a sort of "facial copyright" which cannot be infringed without payment of suitable damages. It may be fought through the courts very seriously, inasmuch as the suitable damages sought happen to be an even million dollars.

The defendant, despite the trouble made for him, might properly thank the plaintiff for the compliment—and the advertising.

HORROR OF POISON GAS IN GERMAN CITY

NOTHING could revive the world horror of poison gas so effectively as the recent catastrophe at Hamburg, Germany, which cost several lives and caused serious injury to hundreds of persons.

Phosgene gas is a terrible lung irritant and where it does not cause death immediately may leave effects leading to the agony of lingering illness and incapacity. Germany first introduced this poison in the World War as a mixture with chlorine gas to make it more deadly. It seems a horrible retribution that secret storage and traffic in this gas in post-war years should have been exposed by an accident which ended in wholesale tragedy.

Irreconcilable groups in Germany frequently have been accused by the French of storing and manufacturing quantities of poison gas, but technically at least there was no ban against phosgene, as it is used in the manufacture of aniline dyes, says a newspaper message. But to locate and maintain the factory and the storage tanks in the midst of one of Germany's largest cities was an amazing proceeding.

At the very least this gas should have been stored in some isolated district where an accident might have caused comparatively slight injury. The very thought of its escape at night in the midst of a great city to strike sleeping households and float here and there with the wind, leaving dead and injured humans and animals in its wake in Hamburg and several suburbs, is a nightmare.

Germans certainly will tolerate no continuation of the urban storage and manufacture, no matter what commercial advantages or thoughts of military revenge may have actuated the maintenance of this supply.

Thousands of American veterans of the World War remain today as tortured victims of poison gas. Fully thirty-three per cent of the combat casualties of the A. E. F. in France were caused by poison gas of various types. During the last year of the World War it accounted for sixteen per cent of British casualties and it was constantly coming into greater use. The Germans began the use of gas in October, 1914, by pouring an irritant substance into the core of shrapnel shells. Next came tear gas in explosive shells. The first great gas attack at Langemarck was made in April, 1915, and by December of that year phosgene had been added and the war of new horrors was on in earnest. Two other acute lung irritants were added, to make a total of four. There were two tear gases, one paralyzing gas (Prussic acid), three "sneeze" gases which irritated the eyes, nose and chest cavities, and finally mustard gas, which remained for weeks in areas over which it was discharged. The Armistice called a halt upon the use of still deadlier weapons in the field of chemical warfare, but work has progressed quietly in laboratories and factories despite the ban of the League of Nations it is asserted.

PAY IT BACK IN FLOWERS

HERE is a happy suggestion from the Far West. Carry flower seeds when you go driving, select fertile spots and plant the seeds. Have a supply with you when you go hiking across the fields, select places along the fences and plant the seeds.

When on picnic visits to the woods take flower seed, plant them, make possible a wealth of bloom and beauty for yourself and other visitors next year. It will cost a few cents, require a few minutes of time, will help make the highways, fields and woods more beautiful. A small investment, with continuing large returns.

That suggestion should appeal to people from the cities who have been gathering wild bloom in the country for many years. Careless people tear out the plant to get the bloom, they harm the schrubs to have a few minutes' joy with the fragrant blossoms.

Having helped decrease the wild bloom, why may they not welcome an opportunity to repay in kind? If the good people would adopt that suggestion for a few years the banks along the highways would be covered with bloom.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:19. Sun rises tomorrow 4:35.

New Yorkers, we understand, change apartments with the same easy indifference they swap wives. It must occasionally give a woman a funny feeling to move into one of her old apartments with a new husband.

If we are allowed to make a suggestion, as a taxpayer and not as a newspaper publisher, we would like to suggest that the ground on which the Martin Gantz school now stands be used for park purposes after the school is not used any more. Getting the lot on the corner would not be a a bad idea, either. We hope no one feels hurt at the suggestion.

Excavators have found water in an Egyptian tomb that was put there at the time of the building of the Pyramids. We advise them to boil it.

A man was arrested recently for stealing face powder. Th' doggone sissy!

A woman at Bridgeport, Conn., has had her husband, a teamster who gets $18 a week, put into jail. She is the mother of 13 children and her husband wants a big family, and when she protests he says the Lord will provide. How she is going to make things better by having him in jail we don't know, but she evidently knows her husband.

It is only the short-sighted business man who, when he finds no market for his wares, is taken unawares.

A flock of women are planning to fly across the ocean this summer. We are glad to note that they are about all unmarried ladies and they naturally will not leave any loving husbands behind to mourn their loss. We are against any lady who will leave a loving husband to fly across the ocean with one or two other men.

Some Poetry.

If I should die tonite, and you should come to my cold corpse and say,
Weeping and heartsick o'er my lifeless clay
I say, if I should die tonite,
And you should come in deepest grief and woe
And say, here's the ten dollars that I owe,
I might arise in my large cravat and say,
What's that!

If I should die tonite, and you should come to my cold corpse and kneel,
Clasping my bier to show the grief you feel,
I say, if I should die tonite,
And you should come to me there and then,
And even hint about paying that ten,
I might arise the while,
But I'd drop dead again.

About 45 insurance companies wrote a total of six or seven billion dollars during the last six months. It would be interesting to know what proportions were between life and automobile.

Onen of the applicants for naturalization papers in the local court said in answer to one of the questions that George Washington was President when he came here. That should not be held against him, as a lot of Americans do not know right now who is President, and they have had all the chances in the world to know. That fellow will make a good average voter in the environment he will find here.

During the past few days about a dozen chaps have asked us to give them the price of a sandwich and a cup of coffee or a bowl of soup. Every one of those babies had booze on their breaths and we did not have to be nearer than five feet from them to get a whiff of it that would make a garbage wagon driver faint. We give nothing to that kind of bozos. We hope no one feels hurt.

We read some place or other recently where face veils are trying to stage a comeback, and, as a matter of fact, we think a lot of women ought to put on something to cover up the other things they put on. Putting on just enough is all right with us.

In passing through this vale of tears do not lose sight of the fact that the first thought of most chaps is for themselves and they feel so strong for themselves that they do not have any feeling left for other fellow humans. We cannot work up any grief for those babies when they finally leave this earth.

Critics intimate that all our protestations of boasted freedom are as tinkling symbols and sounding brass. Yea, bo, even the Statue of Liberty is hollow.

For some years Chris Coulthard, superintendent of the local traction company, has furnished busses to transport the veterans of the Civil War from the Opera House to Greenwood cemetery. He has agreed to do so again this year. Our hat is off to Chris and his company.

There are 1,371 subscriptions in the local Community Chest made during the last campaign for funds, on which twenty thousand dollars is due, and nothing has been paid on that number of subscriptions. The money is needed by the institutions it was raised for. Why not make good on your written promise?

"Meals Lower Now Than for Fifteen Years", reads a headline. It's remarkable what a lot of exclusive information a lot of newspapers get.

Hot-house methods also cause early development of the blooming idiot.

The Bremen flyers have decided not to hop back over the Atlantic in a plane when they go home. We think ourselves that going over once is all right, and letting well enough alone is good policy. So many have not gone over one way yet in a plane.

An aviator flew from Buffalo to Galveston, Texas, in 13 hours and 25 minutes, including time for stopping and taking on fuel at two places. The trip was all made in daylight. That does not look so bad to us.

An alleged expert says that in ten years travel by air will be as safe as other forms, which isn't saying much at that.

We read that Thomas A. Edison is at work on a "restful movie apparatus". Why not an adaption of the head rest on the barber's chair?

A young man posing as a messenger in Wall Street walked away with securities valued at over $26,000. Any young man who could get away with that amount of plunder from Wall Street brokers can surely be considered mighty slick and a wonder. There are a lot of people who try to get money away from Wall Street but they have to leave without it.

The wealthiest man in Nebraska who has been divorced from two wives and paid them a million and a half each, has been married again and says he is married positively this time. Maybe his money is running short. A lot of birds could not give one wife half what he has given to one of his.

"The half was never told" is an old saying, but if the other half in some cases were told things would be shown as being very much rottener than they appear.

There are people who criticise policemen who could not pass the examination the policeman has to go through to get on the force.

A beach resort already announces that it will not permit the "flaunting of nudity." Girls who incline to nudity are hereby warned not to wave it in the air.

A newspaper says there is an overproduction of politicians, which would not be so bad of itself if they were a different sort of politician. The trouble is that they run too much to the deadly sameness of type.

Atterbury Gets Lindbergh.
The President's Veto.
Turtle And Man.
Sing, And Be Well.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE (Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Much airplane news. Nobile, Italian, started at 4:40 Wednesday morning from Spitzbergen to cross the North Pole, 750 miles away. He hoped to land at the pole and plant a big wooden cross given to him by the Pope but was forced by storms to turn back.

Another Italian, Capt. Sabelli, good fighter in the war, expects to start from New York to Rome in a few days in a Bellanca plane.

And the French start a flight westward from Brest to the Statue of Liberty by way of the Azores within two weeks.

The important air news is Lindbergh's appointment as chief advisor of the Air-Rail company to carry passengers across the continent in Pullmans at night, airplanes by day in 48 hours. That Lindbergh deal is a triumph for Gen. Atterbury head of the Pennsylvania railroad who visited Henry Ford at Dearborn last Friday.

President Coolidge vetoes the McNary-Haugen bill, pronouncing it UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

The President says it would aid foreign competitors of our farmers instead of solving our own farm problem, stimulate profiteering and call for new gigantic bureaucracy.

That probably ends the bill for the session leaving one worry for the next president.

Every year for 22 years Howard Porter's tame mud turtle has crawled from its swampy home to a mountain two miles away, returning when summer ends.

Evolutionists tell you that monkeys migrating from damp low lands, uphill toward the mountains with front legs higher than hind legs, gradually learned to stand up straight. And in consequence men now walk upright and look at the stars instead of the ground.

You are not compelled to believe that.

Mme. Reggio opera singer climbed the 1,358 steps of New York's Woolworth building in 13 minutes and 4 seconds, beating previous records.

Thirty-eight years old, weight 104 pounds, the lady earned $3,000 by the climb and did a useful thing by impressing the health value of singing. Nothing develops the lungs as singing does. Sing at your work and avoid consumption. Teach your children to sing. Imitate the British who always sing whether they CAN sing or not.

England's King and Queen have met an American girl of whom her country may be proud. Miss Ruth Draper presented at court last night inherited a compound intelligence and her work proves it.

A young woman of such rare intelligence and talent should be married and mother of many children. That of course is her business but careers for women unfortunately often keep fine children out of the world.

That war gas explosion in Hamburg becomes more interesting to Americans. Chicago's stockyards will be interested to know one single gas tank exploding made it necessary to burn all foodstuffs WITHIN FIVE MILES OF THE EXPLOSION.

What would a dozen such tanks do if dropped from the air exploding in city streets?

When a plane goes wrong parachutes carry passengers safely to earth. This column suggested two or three years ago that one big parachute might save a failing plane with all its passengers making individual parachute jumping unnecessary.

Wednesday at Tracy, Cal., the thing was done. Pilot McKeon stopped his engine 2,200 feet up released a small parachute which then released a big parachute of "bi-plane" type with a silk canopy 72 feet wide.

This super-parachute let the plane float slowly to earth with little damage to the ship, none to the pilot.

One blast, one underground explosion, one cave-in, kill miners in West Virginia, Kentucky and Nevada. And hope has been abandoned for more than 100 miners in the Mather mine in Pennsylvania.

Those that, from comfortable offices oppose increase of miners' wages above the line of bare necessity would not care to do the miner's work.

Ten seniors of Princeton University announce their intention to take up aviation as a life work. Ocean flights have stimulated that interest.

Germany's "rocket car" reaches a speed of 130 miles an hour in 10 seconds from the start. Driven by explosives from the rear the new engine is expected "to revolutionize air travel."

Dr. Crane's Editorial

TOO OLD

Very often we hear a man of 50 years or so complaining that his youth is over and that he no longer has a chance.

What has age to do with it! Youth is a matter of spirit.

Look at Trader Horn. He peddled tinware all his life in one of the remote countries of the world and at seventy-three blossoms out as the author of one of the world's best sellers.

Youth is that spirit that tackles the impossible. It moves mountains. It turns defeat into victory.

There is a man by the name of Sieberling in Akron, Ohio, who at one time was the head of a great rubber enterprise, but at sixty-three found his personal fortune destroyed and his business swept from under him.

That was a pretty good time to sit down and weep. That is what old age would have done. But Sieberling at sixty-three was young, so instead of sitting down and weeping he got up and hustled. Today, in the brief space of less than seven years, he is again a commanding figure in the industry he helped to create.

Back in 1898 he borrowed $1,500 and organized a company which he named after Charles Goodyear, the man who invented vulcanizing rubber. Within twenty years he had built up a $200,000,000 business and his cargoes were on every sea and his market in every port.

Then came the war and post-war depression. In a few weeks—in fifteen days of the 1921 market crisis—the work for a lifetime lay shattered at his feet. Sieberling was done, they said.

But he himself said, "Man never hits bottom. I can come back! I will come back! I must come back!"

So he set to work and worked hard. Within a year after his disaster he organized another rubber company and within twelve months he had bought a factory and doubled its maximum output.

Today, he is an outstanding figure in the American rubber industry. He has got back his personal fortune. Once cast to the bottom of the heap, he has again risen to the top.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

BLOW, BLOW YOUR HORN!

The automobile driver who uses his horn at all times and in all places would find Venezuela a Paradise. The laws of Venezuela require that each automobile must have two horns, a hand horn for the city and an electrical horn for the country. That country is a good country for automobile horns.

Actual practice shows that passenger cars in Venezuela are usually equipped with three motor horns, one hand-operated and the other two electrical. The button for one of the electrical horns is on the steering wheel, while the other is placed on the left door of the car and is operated by pressure from the driver's knee. This is declared essential in driving over mountainous roads whose steep grades and sharp curves necessitate continuous sounding of the horn.

There is no Venezuelan law which prohibits the use of all horns at once, is desirable. Think what a wonderful time the "horn blower" would have in a traffic jam with three horns at his command. Then the motor car could also make good use of various toned sirens, using one to announce he's coming and another his going away, to say nothing of his "calling horn."

The innocent pedestrian would have a terrible time in these United States with such a horney condition.

HOBBIES

Philadelphia has been having a "hobby fair." Boys about fifteen years old have been displaying interests which have engaged their attention. One boy is interested in electricity and another in drawing bird pictures. They all have hobbies—plain or fancy. This is a good idea if it isn't carried too far. Hobbies are matters of recreation and refreshment of mind. They are vastly better than unoccupied leisure. But in the early years of a man's life no hobby is quite so valuable as his work. If he is going to get somewhere in life he needs, for a time, to give his total energy to that.

CHURCH AND LABOR

Labor leaders are reasonable when they expect the church to ally itself closely with the cause of the workingman. No spiritual appeal that amounts to anything can be made to a man who is not enjoying good wages or decent working conditions. The church ought to favor every movement, whether sponsored by labor organizations or employers, which aims at improving the conditions of workingmen.

SAFE FLYING

AMERICANS ABROAD

From time to time we are told that Europeans have a bad opinion of Americans. They think we are materialistic, bad-mannered, wanting in culture, over-rich, not keen enough about art. If Europeans think these things it is because they have been taught by Americans abroad. Too many so-called Americans think it is smart to travel abroad and curry favor and popularity by belittling their own country. Our own people accuse us of more ills and failures than Europeans by themselves would ever think of.

With all its faults the American democracy is the greatest experiment in government the world has ever tried. We ought to be proud of that fact — and on proper occasions we ought to be proud enough to say so.

TRUTH AND GOOD TASTE

Probably it didn't cause a ripple west of the Hudson river, but the firing of Heywood Broun from the staff of the New York World recently created a lot of conversation in New York. Mr. Broun is well known among the intellectuals in the city, although the material he writes could not properly be called intellectual. This is neither praise nor disparagement. I have been a devoted reader of Broun's daily column for years, and have found it generally quite worth reading for entertainment. Broun has the quality of originality in his thinking, and therefore his writing is provocative. But he was never an utterer of profound truths, and I do not think he ever intended that people should look upon him as a thinker or a writer of literature.

But Mr. Broun wrote a piece in The Nation that got him fired from the World. In fact, he wrote about the World in The Nation, and what he wrote was not at all to the liking of the World. He told about some incidents in the World office that sounded like tales told out of school.

* * *

The World, in announcing that Mr. Broun was fired, accused him of disloyalty. Broun, replying through the Nation, raised the question of the real nature of loyalty. Well, I confess that I'm puzzled about this question of what loyalty is. But it seems to me fairly clear that loyalty does not consist of telling the world about your employer's secrets, skeletons, shortcomings or faults. Loyalty may fall short sometimes, but it isn't as bad as that.

I know it's sentimental and weak, according to the standards of a great many smart writers, but I still believe in loyalty. Of course, there remains the possibility of putting me to shame by saying, "What is loyalty?" I have asked the question myself. But it is fairly easy to me to indicate the kind of loyalty I believe in.

* * *

I do not believe that any gentleman ever goes about peddling in the market place the names and addresses of the women who have kissed him. If a woman is gentle or kind or weak, these qualities inspire in a gentleman a feeling of loyalty. He may say to himself, "Well, she really hasn't such a beautiful nose as I thought she had," or "Truly, her voice is disagreeable to the ear," but he doesn't say these things in the public prints. Well, that is a kind of loyalty that is intimately bound up with good taste.

When one is prominently connected with a newspaper, one doesn't stand upon the housetops and megaphone the faults and inner secrets of that paper to the public. At least, not in the places where I was trained. Maybe that is an old-fashioned notion, but God help journalism when this old-fashioned loyalty ceases to be the creed of able writers!

There are many truths that we do not shout at every passer-by. I admire candor, but still more I admire good taste. One can't tell everything one knows in public, and it takes good taste to select the tellable things and repress the impulse to cry out the truths that would be better unspoken.

YOUTH IS KILLED BY GAS BLAST

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., May 25.—Jack Welty, 18, was burned to death and Douglas Messick, 22, is in a hospital suffering from burns which will probably result fatally, as the result of a fire, following a gasoline explosion in a storage room at the Martinsburg "Journal", by which the two were employed. The youths were cleaning a press at the time of the explosion.

Cascade Park To Draw Thousands

Plans Are Complete For Annual Observance Of Memorial Day

MANY FEATURES AT LOCAL RESORT

Memorial Day at Cascade Park, New Castle, will be a gala event in which thousands of persons from all sections of western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio will participate for the first big holiday of the outdoor season.

Always a favorite resort for dancing and recreation because of its broad expanse of natural beauty, the park containing more than 80 acres beautifully wooded and adorned with flowers, Cascade is especially popular for all-day outings because of its superior accommodations. Picnic groves and pavilions, thoroughly equipped, afford space for thousands of picnickers at a time. Restaurant and lunch stands give desirable refreshment facilities, while cook houses with free use of electricity and gas for cooking afford a highly desirable adjunct to the picnic dinner or supper.

Decoration Day will be marked by special features, including a display of fireworks in the evening of the elaborate kind for which Cascade is noted.

Dancing will be an outstanding attraction. Rainbow Terrace, which has been remodeled and redecorated for this season, will be open from noon till midnight for the dancers. Music will be furnished by Morrell Starke's Terrace Garden orchestra, which already has made a wonderful impression upon the park crowds, though the season is but a week old.

This combination of versatile musicians came to Cascade for the season direct from Cleveland, where it was a favorite dance band throughout the winter, well known to many from this section who danced to its music in the Lake City. The orchestra introduces excellent singers and other novelties, an especially pleasing feature being the use of a trio of violinists for waltzes.

All the amusements of the park are ready for the Decoration Day crowds, and the Midway will be bright and gay with amusements and attractions for young and old. New amusements this season include the "Tilt-a-Whirl", a thrilling and novel ride which is to be found only in the leading parks of the country, and a new edition of the "Dodge 'Em", which is a brand new ride under an old name, entirely different from the "Dodge 'Em" heretofore known to amusement seekers.

Cascade's great swimming pool, the most commodious in this section of the country, also is ready for the big holiday. The pool, or rather series of three pools, accommodates 5,000 bathers at a time. The main pool is for adult swimmers and bathers, while special adjoining pools provide deep water for high divers and shallow water for the smallest children to paddle in.

Another special feature of Cascade that will be at its best for Decoration Day is the children's playground, a veritable park-within-the-park for the kiddies alone. It is replete with free play devices and also has its own Kiddies' Midway.

Ample parking space is provided for autoists and a new field has been provided for games and sports.

Just Folks

Janet Discusses Earache.

The worst of all causes for little girls' tears
Is that terrible aching in little girls' ears,
And if I were running the world which I'm not,
I'd chase the old earache right out of the lot.
So that never again
Would that terrible pain
Start up in the night in a little girl's head
And keep her awake when she's lying in bed.

Whenever your earaches however you try
To be a brave girl you must whimper and cry,
For it hurts every minute and I cannot see
Just why such a terrible torture should be
If I had my way
I should certainly say:
"Clear out, Mr. Earache, with all of your tears, Don't ever again trouble little girl's ears."

You can't sleep by day and you can't sleep by night
You can't put your head on the pillow just right,
You never get comfy—the pain is so bad,
You can't sleep with mother; you can't sleep with dad.
You toss and you sigh,
And you fret and you cry.
The pain is just dreadful the way that it jumps,
It's worse than the emasles and worse than the mumps.

If I were a fairy and magic I knew,
If I could work wonders the first thing I'd do
Would be to blow charm into little girl's ears
Which would keep away pain when that swelling appears,
I'd whisper it low
So that no one would know,
"Abracadabra! now fly away pain!"
And the children would never have earache again.

Sentence Sermons

WHEN A MAN SAYS—

"Everything is rotten," he is really making a confession.

"Every man has his price," he is about ready to name his own.

"Business is business," he is usually trying to console his conscience.

"Every man for himself," he usually is.

"Talk is cheap," let him ask the man who has been sued for libel.

"Love is blind," he is probably looking for an alibi.

"You have to make a living," that's about all he's doing.

FIND SON'S BODY IN FATHER'S POND

UHRICHSVILLE, O., May 25.—The body of David, four-year-old son of Lyle Scott, Newport, who disappeared yesterday morning was found later entangled in weeds and water lilies at the edge of a pond on his father's farm, where he evidently fell from a bridge.

After 25 years of intense thinking by thousands of scientists and high-priced engineers, an epoch-making means of carrying sound is finally perfected. Then it is used to transmit harmonica solos.

I still claim that a feller can take chances on his life so often that he finally loses all sense o' what caution is!

To Shoot Dogs Roaming Here

Police Are Aroused Over Large Number Of City Complaints

DOG OWNERS MUST KEEP DOGS TIED UP

Complaints have become so numerous again concerning the allowing of dogs to run at large in this city that the police are under strict orders to make it just as unpleasant as possible for dogs found at large, especially those having no licenses.

All dogs without licenses will be shot on sight, while those pets who have their licenses but are permitted to run at large will be held until rescued by their owners.

Already quite a number of stray dogs have been shot.

Under no circumstances are dogs, licensed or unlicensed, permitted to run at large. Those who value their pets should keep them tied up.

Peter's Adventures in Animal Land

By Mrs. Florence Smith Vincent

IN THE LAND OF STRANGERS

"Sell you at market!" Mrs. Rabbit wrung her paws, and Sonny-Bunny gasped, and Peter's sharp eyes caught the shiver that shook Mrs. Bobolink's tail. But as if he had said nothing at all unusual, Mr. Bobolink cheerily chirped on:

"Is it any wonder we Bobolinks are always glad to return from our travels? Whatever folks do to us when we are strangers in a strange land, however bad is the reputation we are given—and goodness knows we may deserve it—here in our own country we are loved and kown as the Bobolinks. Here in our beloved meadow we feed only on insects that would hurt the farmer's crops. Here we sing all the day long. My, how we Bobolinks can sing! I tell you it seems good to be among friends."

Peter had an idea, and to save his soul he couldn't help expressing it.

"Perhaps the people who live in the lands through which you travel would love you if you wouldn't eat up the things they grow. If all you did was to gobble up the harmful worms and sing like you do in this meadow, how could they help it?"

"I suppose there is some truth in what you say, Two-Legs," agreed Bobolink. "But a fellow must go on a spree once in a while. To tell you the truth, we don't care how much harm we do once we are away from our friends and among strangers!"

For a moment there was silence in the meadow, then Mrs. Rabbit waved a gray paw at the Bobolinks.

"Of course you don't care how much harm you do in the land of strangers, Bobolink. Why should you? That's the way I explain things to Sonny-Bunny when he asks me questions about the cabbage patch. I tell him that since the farmer who is so much bigger and stronger than we rabbits are does his very best to catch us in terrible traps that break our legs and lets that awful cat loose to pounce upon us when he can, it is all very well, and serves him right when we nibble a bit of his lettuce. Only I have warned the child never to go there alone. It isn't as if"—

MRS. RABBIT WAVED A GREY PAW AT THE BOBOLINKS." OF COURSE YOU DON'T CARE HOW MUCH HARM YOU DO IN THE LAND OF STRANGERS."

"Certainly not," declared Bobolink, without waiting to hear what Mrs. Gray Rabbit was going to add. Evidently he did not intend to let her continue the conversation. "When you are among friends, be friendly, but when you are among strangers who do not like you, be as hateful as you can! That is my motto!"

How To Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELEN E RUBINSTEIN
Noted Beauty Expert

THE SECRET LANGUAGE OF YOUR MOUTH

Palmists will tell you that you have a hand of promise and achievement. And in the hand of achievement the lines change with life's experience. But we need no palmist to tell us that the lines of the mouth change as we progress, as our characters change, for better or for worse. Why, all that you are, all that you have been, and all that you can be, shows in the lines you have marked around your mouth.

Hardships and disappointments harden these curves, and the corners droop downward unless you call will power and courage to your aid and smile in the face of bitter things as well as sweet.

A sense of humor makes a beautiful mouth, the lips are curving, generous, and mobile. A humorous mouth has an eternal little curve at the corner of the mouth. It looks for all the world as though it would break into a sunny smile at the merest hint of provocation. It's a beautiful mouth to look at, a beautiful one to have.

Thin lips are usually temper lips; sometimes they show self-discipline, sometimes suppression, sometimes no more than a gray life, a blind life, eyes shut to the joy of living, closed tight against sweetness and softness of everyday living. A happy, livable, lovable disposition is reflected in generous curves and curves that are upward turned, all of the time.

What can you do about your mouth? Absolutely everything! You can remember not to clench your teeth or to pull your lower lip or to overwork your mouth and jaw muscles through that most unpleasant of all bad habits, gum-chewing. You can bear in mind that teeth kept slightly apart make for a greater fullness of the lips and for a sweeter expression. You can remember to set a watch on your mind, to refuse to permit anger or cruelty or bitter thoughts to run away with you. You can remember not to bottle up all of your feelings, either the good or the bad ones. Suppression is good neither for the soul nor for the face. And while we're on the question of suppression, let me warn you not to mistake self-control for suppression. When you suppress a thought it is still there in your mind, brooding, waiting to spring to life at the earliest opportunity. Self-control is not only action control, it is thought control as well. And your face reflects your thoughts. Remember that "God gave us our features, but our mouths we make ourselves." So make your mouth a lovely reflection of the very best that is in you, and if there is much that is not of the best, for the beauty of your soul and the beauty of your face, change it now!

Well Known Coast Utilities Magnate Called By Death

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Plans for the burial of John Martin, nationally known public utilities executive and former president of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, were suspended here Thursday pending the arrival of his eldest son, John Stevens Martin, from Chicago.

It is thought that Lewis H. Martin, another son, who is at present on tour with the stage actress, Jane Cowl, will also come here for the funeral.

Martin, who was stricken with heart failure at his home here, was one of the organizers and at one time chairman of the board of the Mid-Continent Utilities Corporation, serving Illinois and Alabama.

TO SHIP REMAINS OVER 6000 MILES

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 24.—Arrangements are being made here to ship the body of Sheehan Michael, a local Assyrian merchant, who dropped dead in his garage in Locust St., to Beirut, Syria, estimated to be 6000 miles from Uniontown. It is estimated that the funeral trip will cost about $5,000.

The body will remain in a local morgue for a month, in order to give relatives time to make preparations to receive it in Syria and have it interred between the graves of the man's mother and father.

Michael was 60 years old and had been in this country about 35 years.

Poster Contest Prize-Winners

Annual Awards To Pupils In Schools Made By Carnegie Company

JUDGES ANNOUNCE DECISIONS THURSDAY

Entire City School System Not In Competition This Year

Prize winners in the Safety Poster contest of the Carnegie Steel company were announced Thursday afternoon after the judges had spent considerable time going over the exhibit and comparing them. The posters are hung in the Carnegie auditorium and while the number is smaller than that of last year, the quality and originality of ideas seems to be much improved.

Instead of making it a city-wide contest in the public schools this year, Miss Emilie Salomon selected grades in various buildings to compete and as a result, the winners in each grade set out below will be seen to have come from the same building.

Competition Keen.

Competition this year was exceptionally keen and in several instances the judges were forced to go over an exhibit several times and then discuss the merits of three or four possible prize winners.

The Safety Poster idea is one that originated in New Castle, with the Carnegie Steel company. Through the cooperation of the schools and the company, prize posters were selected from this and other Carnegie Steel cities and the winners put into the annual safety calendar.

So successful has been the idea that each year it has come to be a feature of the various schools. A prize of $5 is presented to the first prize winners in each grade, and a prize of $1 to the second prize winners in grades one and two, and a prize of $1 to honorable mention posters in the other grades.

Winners Selected.

Grade 2—First prize, Helen Domrad, 2-A-1, Lincoln-Garfield; second prize, Marie Cubellis, 2-A-1, Lincoln-Garfield.

Grade 4—First prize, Edmond Parasewitz, 4-A, Terrace; honorable mention, Walter Yanaskewitz, 4-A Terrace.

Grade 6—Helen Kolesar, 6-A, Terrace; honorable mention, Edward Otlowski, 6-B, Terrace.

Grade 7—Nick Calvanese, grade 7, Mahoning junior high; honorable mention, Ruth Schnebly, grade 7, Mahoning junior high.

Grade 8—Fred Alexander, 8-A, Franklin junior high; honorable mention, Robert Brown, 8-B-4, Franklin junior high.

The judges this year were John A. Oartel, chief of safety bureau, Carnegie Steel; Miss Emilie Salomon, supervisor of art, New Castle public schools; Dr. Phillip G. Fenlon, vice president Western Pennsylvania Safety council; A. R. Mathieson, director of welfare, Carnegie Steel company; J. Fletcher Hunter, safety engineer, Carnegie Steel company; J. Clarence Miller, director of safety, New Castle plant; Bart Richards.

WISHING TO WED COWBOY LEARNS "ROPES"

NEW YORK, May 25.—Joseph E. Ward, 37, native of Rising Star, Tex., a cowpuncher and a good one, was singing a new "Cowboy's Lament" today as he left the marriage license bureau with his fiancee.

He had just been refused a license to wed Anna Lokie, 19, because Anna had no positive proof that she really is 19.

There was nothing for Anna to do but to get her parents' consent in Dennison, O.

"It's a long way to Dennison," said Ward, "but we'll be loping back for that license in a day or two."

Await Return From Europe Of New State Chairman

(From News Bureau, State Capital)

HARRISBURG, May 25.—Auditor General Edward Martin, the newely elected Republican State chairman, when he returns from Europe within the next few weeks is expected to make known his plans for the conduct of the committee during his tenure of office. General Martin at present is in France attending the dedication of the Pennsylvania war memorials.

Officials at the capitol say there will be no change in the present Republican State headquarters which are now located in Philadelphia.

With General Martin sure to be elected State Treasurer at the November election and Secretary of the Commonwealth Charles Johnson, secretary of the committee, here at the State House much of the work incident to running the committee will be conducted at Harrisburg. It will be possible for both officials to meet leaders and delegations, especially from the centrally located countries, at the capitol.

It is expected however, that General Martin will make regular visits to headquarters to look after details from that point. Since his home is in Washington he can attend to committee business on his visits to the western section of the state.

Whether the new State chairman will retain the executive committee remains to be seen. That committee was created two years ago when the State committee reorganized. Col. Eric Fisher Wood, of Pittsburgh, was placed in charge of the committee. Last fall he submitted his resignation for former Chairman Mellon but he continued to act as committee chairman until the ex-chairman was succeeded by General Martin.

To Drill For Oil And Gas Near Hermitage

SHARON, Pa., May 25.—With some 6,000 acres now under lease, Pittsburgh capitalists are about to begin a thorough test of the territory about Hermitage for both oil and gas. One rig is now in position and drilling will begin within a day or two. Much excitement among property owners naturally results.

It is the intention to drill the first test well to a depth of at least 3,500 feet, and the results then attained will largely determine future operations. However, a number of wells are to be sunk on the land now under lease, according to those in charge.

The man who has sought and found his ideal sometimes wakes up to find it is something else.

Sorority Officer

MISS ELIZABETH EDEBURN

Alpha Gamma Delta fraternity at Westminster recently named Miss Elizabeth Edeburn of Sharon as vice president for the coming year. Miss Edeburn, one of the most attractive members of the junior class, has been interested in journalism at Westminster for three years. She holds membership in the honorary journalism sorority by virtue of the fact that she has been a reporter and associate editor on the newspaper staff, a member of the yearbook literary staff, and a contributor to the humorous magazine.

Coal Oil Fires Kill One, Burn Four

CELINA, O., May 25.—Mrs. Manford Sink, 19, is dead at Otis hospital here, and her husband and two children, Frankie Jr., three, and Betty Jane, three months, are not expected to live as the result of a kerosene explosion at their home here today.

Mrs. Sink poured coal oil on a fire she was building in their sleeping room. The oil exploded and the room was filled with flames.

Unable to open the locked door, Sink broke out a window. Heeding the pleadings of his wife, he carried the children to safety first and then returned for his wife, who lived but a few hours.

MARSHAL BELIEVED FATALLY WOUNDED

IRONTON, O., May 25.—William Barr, 49, marshal of Hanging Rock, O., near here, was probably fatally shot last night when he attempted to arrest Albert Akers, 35, of Hanging Rock on an assault charge. Akers, who was arrested by Constable Charles Stewart, is in a hospital in a critical condition with a fractured skull.

It is easy to lose appreciation of real humor by feeling that you must laugh at the jokes of the boss.

Graduation Plans At Portersville

SIX MEMBERS IN CLASS THIS YEAR

(Special To The News)

PORTERSVILLE, Pa., May 25.—Graduating class of the Portersville high school has six members this year. The members of the class are: Alice Kelly, Ada Twentier, Dorothy McGee, Dorothy Gallagher, Ralph Miller and Harold Kelly.

For the first time in perhaps some twenty-five years, the graduating exercises of the Portersville high school will be held in a place other than the Presbyterian church of this place. This is due to the fact that the Presbyterian church is undergoing repairs, which could not be completed in time.

The baccalaureate sermon and commencement exercises will both be held this year in the Mountville U. P. church, which is but a short distance from here.

Rev. George Cheeseman will deliver the baccalaureate sermon Sunday evening, May 27 at 8 o'clock in the Mountville U. P. church. Indications are that there will be a large attendance on the part of interested people of this district.

The commencement exercises will be held in the same place on Wednesday, May 30, at 8 p. m. The exercises this year will differ from those of former years and should prove of unusual interest.

Rev. J. R. Neale To Make Tour Abroad

New Wilmington Pastor To Go To Europe In American Seminar; Other Notes

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 25.—According to an announcement made here yesterday, the Rev. J. Ralph Neale, pastor of the local United Presbyterian church, will have the privilege of being a member of the American Seminar to Europe which is a summer trip to and through the European countries. This Seminar which is under the direction of Dr. Sherwood Eddy is made up of a group of educators, ministers, editors, and laymen who will make a first hand study of European conditions.

One of the improvements being made in the college town is the painting of the light poles and the fire plugs. These objects are being painted green.

It was announced that Miss Daisy Wright of Sharon has bought the property on East Neshannock avenue, but it is not known whether she will move here soon.

At a recent meeting of the local Neshannock chapter of the D. A. R. organization in the home of Miss Elizabeth Stewart the chapter elected officers.

Those elected were: Mrs. Maxwell, regent; Mrs. Johnson, vice- regent; Mrs. Henderson, secretary; Mrs. Braham, treasurer; Mrs. Kennedy, historian; and Miss Johnson, registrar.

FRENCH PLAN TRANSATLANTIC HOP

View of new giant monoplane "L'Arc-en-ciel," which has been built by a young French inventor, Rene Couzenet, and in which Maurice Drouhin, French airman, is planning a transatlantic non-stop hop this summer. The plane is of unique design and differs from any other three-motored plane yet built. Insets show, left, Maurice Drouhin, and Rene Couzenet. The plane has been given its first trials at Orly, France.

Working Hard For Convention

Local Committees Plan Well For State Gathering Here Monday-Tuesday

J. C. WILLIAMS IS GENERAL CHAIRMAN

JOSEPH C. WILLIAMS

Preparing for a convention as large as the "Insurance Days" convention which will be held in New Castle Monday and Tuesday, May 28 and 29, has been a task that required the unselfish work of many men.

When the convention was first secured for New Castle, the insurance men of the city met and elected Joseph C. Williams as general chairman of the convention. Mr. Williams had served a term as state president of the Insurance Federation and knew the work that would be required.

The following men were appointed on the general committee which has been working out the details of the convention: Julius Blaha, Alfred W. Chilton, Quincy A. McBride, John D. Pharaoh, 2nd, S. H. Pool, Ivor M. Richards and James L. Rocks.

It was necessary to have more committee men at work and a larger list was appointed, some of them being from outside the insurance field, and some of them from other cities. This committee consists of the following:

J. D. Alexander, W. W. Berry, John M. Bevan, Julius Blaha, Frank D. Buser, C. P. Byers, Alfred W. Chilton, C. A. Cleaveland, C. H. Cole, G. R. Dette, M. H. Diffenbaugh, John W. Donahue, Thomas B. Donaldson, Stephen B. Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Evans, Walter H. Evert, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Ferrell, William M. Goodwin, R. R. Helms, Henry Hoelzle, Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Hyde, William H. Kingsley, Jack Lebby, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Logue, Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Long, Mr. Walter G. McBlain, Quincy A. McBride, Charles A. McCready, Edwin E. Marshall, Kenneth F. May, H. G. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Moore, Walter A. Munns, Esther Nelson, William M. Nunn, Jno. D. Pharaoh, 2d, S. H. Pool, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Reebel, G. D. Reed, H. K. Remington, Bart Richards, [illegible], Ivor M. Richards, F. J. Rocks, James L. Rocks, R. L. Rodgers, O. J. Shannon, J. Dallas Smith, E. P. Stapleton, Laurence B. Starr, Nelson D. Sterling, Thomas F. Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trotter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Volbrecht, Mr. and Mrs. David B. Warnock, Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Welsh, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Williams.

Portersville Station

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Young of Portersville were given a pleasant surprise Saturday evening when relatives, friends and neighbors gathered at their home to spend the evening in celebrating Mr. and Mrs. Young's silver wedding anniversary. A pleasant social time was spent and music featured the evening. At an appropriate hour lunch was served. The honor guests were the recipients of a set of silverware and other lovely gifts.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hopper, Katherine Hopper, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hockenberry, M. Grace Hockenberry, A. Pearl Hockenberry, Mrs. Catherine Young, Mrs. A. M. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Drs. R. G. Campbell And D. C. Lindley To Examine Air Pilots

Dr. R. G. Campbell and Dr. D. C. Lindley have been appointed local medical examiners for the department of commerce, according to announcement by Dr. L. H. Bauer, medical director, department of commerce, air regulation division, Washington, D. C.

According to the department of commerce all airplane pilots must be examined each year and transportation pilots, twice annually. The two physicians will have charge of the examinations of all local pilots for Kegarise field and Harlansburg airport.

Two New Bids For Removal Of Houses

Frank Connor offered the city $24 for the second house from Greenwood avenue which he will remove and Phillip Murray made a bid of $110, for both houses according to bids opened during council session at the city building today. The houses are to be removed for the purpose of making a better traffic view at State and Greenwood avenues, the city having purchased the Polk and Connors ground and houses some time ago.

TEXAS IS HOST TO FEDERATION

San Antonio, Tex., is to be host to the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, May 28-June 7. Mrs. John Dickinson Sherman, Washington, D. C., retiring president, will preside over the meetings. The local program chairman for the biennial is Mrs. Maggie W. Barry, College Station, Tex., federation chairman of the American home department. She will be in charge of an exhibit showing the evolution of home equipment. Mrs. R. R. Russell, also of San Antonio, represents the Old Trail Drivers' Association in the "Play Day" entertainment for the meet. Mrs. William F. Blackman, Orlando, Fla., chairman of the department of education of the federation, and Mrs. Walter McNab Miller, New York, chairman of the public welfare department, will have prominent parts in the program.

Steel Business To Exceed 1927

So Declares Schwab, President Of Iron And Steel Institute

CAMPBELL SEES INCREASE IN FALL

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 25.—Charles M. Schwab, the new "spokesman" of the steel industry—having succeeded the late Elbert H. Gary as president of the American Iron & Steel Institute—told members of his organization at its convention here today that there was "every justification" for expecting that business in 1928 would exceed that of last year in volume.

"I do not think that this country intends to demand the service we are rendering for the small return which the steel industry is currently receiving," Schwab said. "I do not mean to imply that the steel industry expects large returns. The industry generally has been adapting itself very well to narrower margins than heretofore but we have a right to expect and it is public interest that we earn enough to provide for expansion, modernization and development of our plants which the country's ever-growing needs constantly require."

Schwab asserted that the steel industry was earning on its investment only a little more than interest on savings bank deposits. One of the causes of this situation, he explained, was waste due to cross hauling—that is, the selling of products by mills located in one territory in territories where other mills are located.

He announced his intention of recommending to the directors of institute the appointment of a committee of experts to study the problem and to recommend a constructive plan to eliminate this waste under government supervision.

James A. Campbell, president of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company, also addressed the institute. He said that he expected the steel business would be rather quiet during the summer and until the November election.

"I am by no mean pessimistic," Campbell declared. "In fact, I expect that the volume of business will be better than usual in a presidential year but I do not expect any really active demand until November."

CITY TO PROTEST BUS APPLICATION

City Is Opposed To State Granting Renewal To Harmony Short Line

Council today authorized the mayor to instruct City Solicitor R. M. White to offer the city's protest against a renewal of the bus permit of the Harmony Short Line which operates busses between this city and Butler. Ellwood City, it is reported, also will protest.

The permit was granted by the State Public Service Commission two years ago, after it is alleged, other parties had offered to furnish better service at a lesser rate than the bus company charges for transportation.

Police War On Double Parking

Also After Persons Who Drive Through Red Light Signals

Double parking as well as driving through a red light are two of the traffic offenses that are now receiving serious attention from the city police.

There is no excuse for either of these offenses against the traffic regulations of the city, according to the police authorities and for that reason it is planned that such offenders shall pay at least a reasonable amount into the city treasurer.

Either violation will cost the motorist $2 at the present time. There is an indication, however, that this low price may not continue for any length of time.

Campbell Home From Methodist Conference

Visits Convention Hall Where Republican National Convention Is To Be Held

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell has returned home from Kansas City, where he attended the general conference of the M. E. church, which has been in session there for several weeks past, and which is still in session.

While in Kansas City Mr. Campbell visited the auditorium in which the Republican national convention is to be held. It is a large steel and concrete structure with an immense seating capacity, both on the ground floor and balconies. The hall is now being touched up and in preparation for the convention.

Reservations for hotel accommodations for the convention are being made, many of the hotels displaying signs that the hotel has been reserved for delegates. Expensive preparations are being made for the accommodation of visitors.

Three New Cases Of Contagion Here

Only 14 Persons In New Castle Have Contagious Illness

Three cases of measles today were reported to Dr. William L. Steen, city health officer.

Rose Calabrese, 6, 409 Duquesne avenue, measles.

Alice Prioletti, 6, 1218 Croton avenue.

PROPERTY AWARDED TO HIGHEST BIDDERS

In the matter of the partition of the estate of the late Robert Coulter, two bids for property in Neshannock township were submitted to Judge Hildebrand this morning. One of the bids was by Carrie M. Coulter who offered $4,010 for the property and the other by Mary Jane Coulter and Annie Black who offered $6,000. The property was awarded to the latter bidders.

Judges Start Work At Local Dog Show

Nearly 400 Dogs Of 32 Different Breeds Are On Exhibition At Show

Almost 400 dogs of all breeds today are being displayed in the Scottish Rite cathedral in New Castle's dog show, conducted under the auspices of the Lawrence County Kennel club, with E. W. Leach of Minneapolis as superintendent of the show.

Representing over 32 breeds, the dogs of out of the city exhibitors began to arrive at the cathedral Thursday afternoon. At the present time, all of the big dogs are in and placed in their pens. Judging started early this afternoon, and will continue throughout the show, which closes Saturday night.

Exhibitors this morning were getting the various dogs ready for the judging pens this morning. Hair was being cut and powdered, and pillows, on which some of the smaller toy dogs rest, were being carefully arranged for this afternoon, when the show will be officially opened.

All sorts of nationalities are represented at the show. There are Scotch Terriers, Irish Setters, Russian Wolf Hounds, English Bulls, Mexican Chihuahuas, German Shepherds, Belgian Sheep, Chow Chows and Samoyides.

This afternoon, Louis Walther judged Airedales, Bull Terriors, smooth and wire haired Fox Terriers, Great Danes, Irish Terriers, Schnauzers and Scotch Terriers. J. E. Niggel judged Springer Spaniels, Irish Water Spaniels and American Water soaniels. This evening large and toy dogs will be judged.

Rich Husband, 71, Sued As Cave-Man

Mrs. Minnie Taubel Asks Divorce, Saying She Was Slapped And Kicked

Retired Manufacturer Denies Charge; Tells Of $16,000 Gift He Made

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 25.—A 71-year-old "cave-man", whose chief delight was slapping her in the face, kicking her shins and digging his elbows in her ribs, was the description given of Lewis E. Taubel, millionaire and retired hosiery manufacturer, of Norristown, Pa., by his wife, Mrs. Minnie Taubel, of Collingswood, in the Camden chancery court.

Mrs. Taubel, who is the daughter of a former mayor of Collingswood, is suing Taubel for a divorce on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment. She is 53 years old and was married to the elderly millionaire on June 10, 1922, in Philadelphia. She was Taubel's third wife.

At the hearing conducted before Vice Chancellor Edmund B. Leaming yesterday it developed that their married life was marred by constant friction. A separation took place in the fall of 1923, but their differences were patched up and in January, 1924, they left for Florida to spend a winter vacation.

On this trip, she alleges, her husband became especially cruel and struck her in the face every time she spoke to another man. Five months later, she said, they separated. Taubel retiring to his palatial home in Norristown.

Taubel denies his wife's charges, and alleges that his wife married him only for his money and that he did everything within his power to make their home life harmonious, and further charges that Mrs. Taubel was under the domination of her mother. He said that on one occasion he gave her $10,000 and other presents. The case will be continued today.

Shamokin Teacher Beaten And Robbed

Instructor Attacked By Two Men He Gave Ride After Visit To Bank

POTTSVILLE, May 25.—A victim of shock after being beaten by two highwaymen and robbed of $300 in savings, Charles Schoffstall, 29, head of the commercial department of the Shamokin high school, was confined to his home here today by his injuries while state police were searching the countryside for his attackers.

Schoffstall was held up on the road between Centralia and Mt. Carmel while on his way here from Shamokin and after being beaten by the two robbers was tied hand and foot and left lying by the roadside, semi-conscious.

The two men hailed him for a ride, he said today, and when he stopped his car they approached wearing masks and pointing revolvers at him.

Declare Auto Accident Changed Disposition

Llanarch War Veteran Says Injury Left Him Unreasonably Irritable

NORRISTOWN, May 25.—Asserting injuries sustained in an auto accident changed him from an even-tempered, efficient workman to an incapable and easily irritated man, John Cedars, a World War veteran, of Llanarch, is seeking damage from Miss Florence Rich of Ambler, driver of the other car in the accident in which he was hurt.

The character change was narrated to a jury by both the plaintiff and the psychopathic expert. It was also told how his earning capacity had been cut in half.

The autos of the respective parties came together late in June, 1927, at the intersection of the Ridge pike and Joshua road. Cedars received a blow on the head in the collision, which temporarily rendered him unconscious.

A local cynic, after looking over his garden the other day, says he supposes the trouble is he planted his seeds upside down.

Mrs. Corbett Is Loser In Suit

Refusal of a jury to grant Mrs. Alice R. Corbett, formerly of New Castle, monetary value for loss of the affections of her husband, James F. Corbett, was upheld yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Aaron J. Levy, at New York.

A dispatch from New York says:

Mrs. Corbett, a saleswoman, had sued Countess Marqueen Soranzo, for $250,000 damages for the supposed alienation of Corbett's love.

After she lost the suit, Mrs. Corbett asserted that perjured testimony had been given by one of the witnesses at the trial last April, before Justice George V. Mullan, and demanded a new trial. This was refused by Justice Levy, who said:

"The jury's verdict is amply vindicated. What is the value of the affections of a convict, at present serving a term in state's prison? What could the spouse of a man four times convicted hope to recover for the loss of his love?"

While married to Mrs. Corbett, Corbett duped the countess, then Miss Stevenson, daughter of Frederick A. Stevenson, vice president of the American Car and Foundry Company, into a bigamous marriage, which subsequently was annulled. He is serving a four-year term for grand larceny.

COLLEGE SENIORS SING TONIGHT

Class To Assemble On Campus For Last Informal Gathering Of Year

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 25.—In their last informal appearance before the student body of Westminster college, the members of the senior class will assemble on the college campus this evening at 7:30 o'clock and hold their senior sing. This annual custom allows the seniors to express in the melodies of popular songs the words which tell their thoughts and emotions on the eve of leaving the school.

Every member of the senior class will take part in this custom and the graduates will march to the selected spot on the campus wearing the caps and gowns which denote their graduating academic distinction.

The members of the senior class who were on the committee that composed the songs for tonight's musical were: Norah French, Ruth Fraser, Victor Scott and Claire Swisher.

Thirty-One Left In Marathon Dance At Homestead, Pa.

(International News Service)

HOMESTEAD, Pa., May 25. — Thirty-one couples, foot-sore but determined, were still in the Homestead dance marathon contest today—well past the 100 hour mark, and determined to break all existing marathon records.

At 10 a. m., with 106 hours of dancing behind them, the contestants showed no signs of dropping out and the grind went on — Forty-five minutes of dancing, fifteen minutes rest, forty-five minutes more dancing—and it may take Sunday's blue laws to stop 'em.

Bremen Crew Back In New York City

NEW YORK, May 25.—Baron Gunther von Hoenefeld, Maj. James Fitzmaurice and Capt. Hermann Koehl, who conquered the Atlantic in the monoplane Bremen, returned to New York today from Quebec.

Hundreds cheered the trio as they stepped from their train and milled about them as they posed for photographers before leaving in an automobile for the Ritz-Carlton hotel.

Senate Enacts Four Measures Over Veto

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The Senate rode rough-shod over four of President Coolidge's vetoes Thursday, but sustained him on one.

By substantial margins it increased federal expenditures by $22,356,000 by passing four bills over presidential objections. They were two postal bills, an Indiana roads bill and the Tyson-Fitzgerald emergency officers retirement bill.

The veto of the bill creating a commissioned rank of bandmaster in the army and navy was upheld after Senator Bruce (D) of Maryland exhorted the Senate "to stand by the President".

The bandmaster bill was opposed by some members of the military affairs committee, who voted with a handful of insurgents, including Norris and Howell, to sustain the President. Senator Bingham (R) of Connecticut, who sponsored the bill, dodged the vote after having voted to sustain the President on all the preceding vetoes.

The four bills passed over the President's veto carried increased expenditures of $22,356,000, divided as follows: $6,456,000 in the postal clerk bill, $2,850,000 in the postmaster bill, $10,500,000 in the Oddie roads bill, and $2,550,000 in the Tyson officers bill.

Husband Won't Smile, Wife Charges In Suit

Woman Relents When Judge Lewis Brings Huge Grin From Defendant

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 25.—Mrs. Julia Smith, 30 of Jefferson street near Broad, complained to Judge William M. Lewis, in the Domestic Relations Court, yesterday, that her husband Harry never smiles.

"Judge, he never takes me out," complained the wife. "I have been to only five shows in the last six months."

"Well, madame," replied the judge, "that is five more shows than I have attended, but I agree with you, your husband should take you out once in a while."

"And besides," interrupted the woman, "he never smiles and he comes home with a face that would stop a clock."

At this remark Judge Lewis said, pointing to the husband, "Smile, Smith, smile. I think that you are too morose."

After hearing the judge's comment, Smith broke into a huge smile. This must have had a strong influence on Mrs. Smith, who immediately asked the judge to give him another chance, and she would take him home with her.

As the couple were leaving the courtroom Judge Lewis gave Smith these parting words, "take your wife out, and don't forget to smile."

BOY SCOUT Activities

NEW WILMINGTON

New Wilmington troop 1 held a meeting at the Scout Camp of the troop on the New Wilmington-Volant Road Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The opening ceremony included color ceremony. Scoutmaster Jack Hulme was in charge of the meeting.

After the business meeting, plans and preparations were made for several activities which the scouts will participate in within the next few days. Wednesday evening, May 23, the Scouts acted as ushers to the Scoutmasters who were the guests of the New Wilmington troop at a dinner meeting. Friday evening an overnight hike will be held for all Scouts who have been chosen as members of the Jamboree patrol. They are to meet at the city hall at 5:30 o'clock and should bring food enough for two meals.

Saturday the troop members will usher at the May Day Pageant. Next Wednesday, Memorial Day, the Scouts will hold Memorial Day ceremonies at the various cemeteries in and near the town and will put flags on the soldiers' graves.

BUGLE CONTEST

A Bugle Contest will be held at Camp John M. Phillips on June 9, following the Elimination Camporee meet of the county. The purpose of this contest is to decide which Scouts are best suited for the positions of buglers at the camp during the summer months. Any Scout is eligible for entry in the contest, the only rules being that the Scouts be at the camp on that day, have their bugles and of course be able to play.

Rev. McClure To Discuss Reformation

The Protestant Reformation will be discussed by Rev. Walter E. McClure at the First Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning. This will be the fifth sermon in the series on Church History. There will be given a thorough discussion of the church life during those years of the eighth, ninth and tenth centuries when the Dark Ages of the Church were passing. The development of Roman rule and Roman dogma and Roman superstition will be considered. Then the steps leading to the Reformation.

In the evening the pastor will preach his third sermon on the Jew. The Jew in Prophecy. What does the Bible teach is yet in store for this ancient race? Hebrews of our city are invited to hear this message.

Millions Of Yellow Perch Fry Planted

Large Shipment Received From Union City Federal Hatchery At Conneaut

MEADVILLE, May 25.—During the past two days 42 cans of yellow perch fry have been planted in the streams of Crawford county including Conneaut lake, French creek at Cochranton, etc.

The fry were sent here from the Union City hatchery and it was stated there were millions of them. The planting was done under the auspices of the Wild Life league, which organization has been doing much to improve the hunting and fishing thruout this section.

It is too much to expect that a man will register enthusiasm after having had experience with a dull thud.

Italia Coming Back From Pole

ITALY REJOICES AT NOBILE'S FEAT

(International News Service)

ROME, May 25.—Shrouded in a crust of ice and hampered by strong head-winds from the south and a murky fog, the dirigible Italia pushed forward steadily towards its base at King's Bay today and was expected to reach there at noon, advices from the Spitzbergen outpost stated.

General Umberto Nobile, commander of the airship which made history yesterday by cruising over the north pole for nearly two hours, indicated by wireless that although he was waging a grim battle against the elements on his return flight, all was well.

Because of the heavy head-winds the Italia's speed is believed to have been reduced to less than 40 miles an hour.

To gain better visibility and keep the ice formation on the dirigible down to a minimum, General Nobile was flying under low-lying fog banks at a height of between 460 and 600 feet, he stated by wireless.

All Italy rejoiced today over Nobile's feat in reaching the north pole for the second time. His messages to the pope and Premier Mussolini telling that he had dropped the papal cross and the Italian flag at the pole were hailed everywhere.

While the pontiff radioed his blessings to the famous airman yesterday, the country celebrated doubly in honor of Nobile's achievement and the 12th anniversary of Italy's entrance into the World war.

Neuritis Misery And Rheumatism Ended By Konjola

MR. E. J. LOWRY
Seavy Photo

The high praise the people of New Castle are giving Konjola proves conclusively the unusual merit of this medicine. It is a fact that unless a medicine does all that is claimed for it, reliable persons will not indorse it. Local newspapers are daily publishing signed statements of men and women in this city and surrounding territory, describing the relief they gained through the use of Konjola. It is a recognized fact that this advanced medicine restores normal and healthy action to the important functionary organs of the body—thereby producing new life energy and glorious health. Among the great list of local people who testify to the above facts, is Mr. Evans J. Lowry, R. 302 Liberty street, Mahoningtown Dist., New Castle, who made the following statement to the Konjola Man at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street, this city, where he is explaining the merits of Konjola.

"Neuritis is terrible," said Mr. Lowry. "I was suffering for a long time, almost every day, and Konjola was the only medicine that really ended the awful pains so that they never returned.

"My arms and shoulders were affected so that I could hardly raise my hand to my face. Even the weight of clothing hurt me and that can be more easily understood when I say that my whole body seemed affected with rheumatism. The aches and pains were so bad that at times I thought I could not stand them any longer. This condition was made all the worse by constipation which allowed vast quantities of poisons to gather in my system. Because of this I was subject to awful headaches all during the day. Even at night I didn't get any relief and I never enjoyed a complete night's sleep. Very often I would have to get up several times due to weak kidneys. My whole system was in a weak and rundown condition and, worst of all, I never seemed to find a medicine to help me.

"But Konjola was entirely different in my case. It helped me about the third bottle and I noticed the pains were easing up. Before long I felt sure that I would soon be entirely well, so I kept on taking Konjola and now I am making this indorsement which speaks for itself. It is an honest fact that I am free of all the dreadful aches and pains I was suffering so long. My arms and shoulders never hurt me and I got wonderful relief from the rheumatism. My nerves are stronger and I sleep fine at night because my kidneys are regular and in perfect condition. The headaches do not come and Konjola also gave me free and active bowel movement. I seem to have more life and energy to do my work. I can easily see why the people of New Castle are praising Konjola, and I know what this medicine has done in my case, so I am glad to indorse it to others."

The Konjola Man is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Alleged Booze Running Cars Are Ordered Sold

Judge McLaughry Orders Sale Of Two Cars Seized In Mercer County

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., May 25.—Judge J. A. McLaughry ordered the sale of two motor cars today alleged by District Attorney Leo McKay to have been used for the transportation of liquor.

The court set as return day on these petitions the date of June 4 at 10 a. m. The orders are issued for the sale of the car of Paul Laplerien of Sharon and Joe Quaranta of Farrell.

Mrs. James Wallace was first, James Wallace second, Mrs. L. E. Ostrye third, Mary Barker fourth and Mrs. J. W. Ayers fifth at the tulip show held here Thursday.

The best specimens out of 5,000 blooming plants of the members of the Burbank club were on display. The show was the first flower show ever held in Mercer.

The only rural school building in Mercer county for use of grammar school students to be equipped with gymnasium and other conveniences of the modern town school is that now being built in Hempfield township for the housing of the 400 scholars in the eight grades there.

The building represents the largest school consolidation in Mercer county.

Word has just been received from Congressman T. C. Cochran of this district evidencing his interest in saving to the patrons of the Mercer postoffice the early morning mail to Pittsburgh and receipt of the late evening mail from that city, both of which were lost with the change of the train schedule on May 21.

Mr. Cochran advised, of the further curtailment of the service, has taken up the matter with the postoffice department, demanding that bus service be instituted between here and Grove City connecting with the train there.

As the matter could be easily arranged Mr. Cochran has every hope of bringing it about.

The U. S. department of agriculture is making test of 50 varieties of fertilizer on the R. B. McDowell & Sons farm near here under the direction of Farm Agent W. S. Hagar.

Potatoes are planted on each plot which is nourished with a different variety of fertilizer. The amount and size of the spuds in the fall will determine the adaptability of the fertilizer to the soil and climate.

The Diary of a New Yorker

By CLARK KINNAIRD

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, May 25.—It'll be a source of satisfaction to humble folk of New York's east side and elsewhere, who are under a landlord's thumb, to know that even J. Pierpont Morgan is affected by the same current of change that sweeps the rest of us along.

Murray Hill is making its last stand as a residential district against the encroachment of commerce into that once ultra-exclusive section. Morgan and another of the richest men in the world, George F. Baker, Sr., are among the property-owners seeking to prevent use of land in the district at Madison avenue, 38th and 39th streets for other than residential purposes. Mansions all around them have been captured for commerce.

The city's social center has been shifting northward continuously since the days of New Amsterdam. The present center is in East 70th street, between Fifth and Madison avenues, the Social Register has determined.

* * *

Either there are fewer male shoplifters, or fewer men are caught. Store detectives here incline to the former supposition. The men they trap nearly always do their stealing for the women folks—silk things, jewelry, dressing trinkets. Women are more versatile, making off with laces, perfumes, candy, books, household utensils, lingerie, gloves, jewelry, shoes hats and fur pieces. One department store's heaviest losses are in the book department.

How are thieves detected? Well, usually the store detectives get their warning signals from the girls behind the counters. Saleswomen develop a sixth sense which enables them to know when a person picks up a piece of merchandise whether he or she is a prospective customer, a "shopper" or a thief.

The hardest offenders to catch are the professionals. They work cooly, carrying off stuff in concealed pockets in especially designed clothing. Sometimes families work together in robbing stores, using children to pull things off counters, and utilizing baby carriages, baby blankets, etc., in carrying ill-gotten merchandise out of stores.

Prohibition Claims "Solid South" Votes

Pennsylvania Chairman Sees Break If Al Smith Shall Be Named

HARRISBURG, May 25.—If Al Smith is the Democratic presidential nominee, "there will be another rebellion in the South and the Prohibition Party will get a number of electoral votes in that section." Dr. B. E. P. Prugh of Harrisburg declared before the reorganization session of the Prohibition state committee, which elected him as chairman.

Although some delegates suggested the party support the Republican nominee, if he is satisfactorily dry, as Smith's opponent, no action was taken on the Presidency.

The meeting, which was behind closed doors, was of the opinion the Prohibition Presidential nominee, selected at the party's national convention in Chicago July 10, will get united support of the party, regardless of who is nominated by other parties, Dr. Prugh said.

Difficulties of the party in obtaining sufficient signatures to nominating petitions to have names printed on the ballot were reflected in a resolution demanding amendment of election laws so that the number of signatures required be in proportion to the party's vote compared with the total vote, instead of a fixed number for all parties.

Another resolution declaring it "foolish to expect rigid prohibition enforcement from parties depending on both wet and dry votes for their power", called upon "the good citizenship of our country to forsake the two old political parties that are hopelessly and equally decrepit to do what is right, and join us in an effort to bringabout righteousness and honesty in state affairs."

Girls' High School Dress Up To Court

DENVER, May 25.—The Colorado supreme court has been asked to decide whether a girl can be barred from high school for failure to conform to rules on uniform dress.

In an appeal from a decision upholding the demand of the Huerfano county school committee for uniform clothing, S. Julian Lamme of Walsenburg contends the officials of that institution have exceeded their authority. The committee ruled that girl students must wear a plain white cotton blouse with not more than three straight rows of braid on the collar and sleeves, a black tie and a blue skirt.

Lamme said his daughter Rosalie was refused admission to the school last November, when she appeared in clothing at variance with that prescribed.

"I am unable to understand why a child wearing a middy having three straight rows of braid shall be a better student than one wearing six rows of braid," Lamme said in his petition.

Correct this sentence: He wore last summer's straw hat down town and laughed to think everybody imagined he just bought it.

PENSION GRANTED TO GREENVILLE MAN

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of the News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 25.—Roy L. Haas of Greenville, Spanish-American war veteran, will get a pension of $30 a month as the result of a bill just passed by congress.

Mr. Haas served in Company K, 15th Pennsylvania infantry, from June 15, 1898, until Jan. 31, 1899, when he was honorably discharged.

He has been unable to get a pension under the general laws because he could not prove that his disabilities resulted from his service. There is considerable disagreement among physicians as to the causes of his disability, and because he seemed worthy, the pensions committees of the house of representatives and the senate recommended to congress that he be granted a pension of $30 a month.

He is totally disabled, and is incapable of earning a living. He makes a little money by repairing bicycles for boys in the neighborhood, but cannot support himself, his wife and his 14-year-old daughter.

TROXELL WILL BE POSTMASTER AT ALIQUIPPA, PA.

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of the News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 25.—Congressman J. Howard Swick of Beaver Falls has recommended to the postoffice department the appointment of Wilbert E. Troxell as postmaster at Aliquippa.

Troxell has been acting postmaster since the removal of Robert Simpson some time ago for irregularities in the conduct of the office.

The Woodlawn and Aliquippa postoffices have been consolidated under the name of Aliquippa and Troxell will have charge of both, the former Aliquippa office having been retained as a sub-station.

It is expected that Troxell's appointment will be confirmed by the senate before the end of this week.

Report Peggy Hopkins Joyce To Wed Again

English Paper Prints Story Peggy Hopkins Joyce To Wed Count De Janze

COUPLE FREQUENTLY SEEN TOGETHER

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 25.—The Evening Standard printed a report this afternoon that the much married Peggy Hopkins Joyce is engaged to marry Count Frederic de Janze, former husband of Alice Silverthorne of Chicago.

The Evening Standard printed details saying that the couple had met in a Paris bookshop. Miss Joyce was said to have picked up a book written by De Janze describing life in Kenya colony. Afterwards they were introduced. The date of the marriage has not been set, the newspaper added, but probably will take place in Paris.

Miss Joyce is now in the United States. During her recent visit to Paris her frequent appearances in restaurants and cabarets with Count De Janze led to a rumor that they were engaged. Miss Joyce denied it with considerable vehemence. She did admit, however, that she was engaged to "an American" and that she expected to make her future home in Paris.

Countess De Janze was in the limelight in March, 1927, when she shot Raymond De Trafford, a member of a rich English family, and then tried to kill herself. She was said to be infatuated with the young Englishman and shot him in a jealous rage because he was leaving Paris to return to his family in England.

Engagement Denied.

PARIS, May 25.—Count De Janze today denied London reports that he was engaged to marry Peggy Hopkins Joyce "or anyone else."

At the same time, the count revealed that his marriage to the former Alice Silverthorne had been annulled by the Holy Roman Rota.

NO BACK SEAT DRIVING IN THIS

The latest model English auto, perfected by E. Peter Jones, inventor, which, it is said, solves the problem of "back seat driving." The car is an ordinary limousine, but instead of both front and rear seats facing the same direction, the rear seat is reversed and passengers enter and exit from a rear door.

Seven Miners Are Killed By Blast, Four Are Injured

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE Pa., May 25.—Seven men were reported killed and at least four were injured when an explosion occurred in the Cunningham mine of the Hudson Coal company her today.

One body has been recovered.

Ambulances were rushed to the mine and brought the injured to the Wilkes-Barre General hospital. At the colliery offices it was announced that officials had gone down the shaft to investigate the blast.

RABBIT BITES FOUR, TERRORIZES VILLAGE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 25.—A mad rabbit which was bitten by a rabid dog is terrorizing the village of Chepachet near this city. The rabbit after being attacked turned on his owner Fred A. Barnes a rural mail carrier and bit him, two of his children and Mrs. Ernest Young the mail carrier's mother-in-law. The rabbit then took to the woods where it has been seen several times since.

It is suspected of several attacks on farmers dogs.

Senators Not To Appear In Mine Hearing

Four Senators Refuse To Give Testimony In Rossiter Mine Injunction Case

OFFER OPINIONS FOR DEFENDANTS

(International News Service)

INDIANA, Pa., May 25.—The four United States senators whose names have been brought into the preliminary hearing of the Rossiter injunction being heard before Judge J. N. Jangham, will not appear here to testify or to make depositions to be presented in the defense. A statement to this effect was made today by Senator Wheeler, one of the four, who said he expressed the sentiments of Senators Wagner, Gooding and Pine, all of whom were asked to appear by Attorney Bruce Sciotto for the defendants.

Senator Wheeler said that he and his three fellow senators felt that it would not be appropriate for them either to appear or to give testimony. He said that the most that they could do would be to give opinions and that these would probably be resented by the court.

Twelve witnesses appeared yesterday in the hearing which has been granted to the Clearfield Coal corporation by Judge Langham against officers and members of the United Mine Workers.

Fish Cultural Station Will Be Placed In State

Senate Passes Bill Providing $100,000 For Pennsylvania Station

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 25.—The Senate has passed the House bill authorizing an appropriation of $100,000 for the construction of a federal fish cultural station in Pennsylvania.

The bill provides for a nationwide five-year construction program involving the construction, purchase or enlargement of 37 stations, sub-stations, laboratories and experimental stations by the United States Bureau of Fisheries. The program will cost the government $1,770,000 and when completed will bring the total number of federal stations of all sorts up to 102.

No specific site for the construction of the Pennsylvania station is named in the bill, but the selection will be left to the discretion of the Secretary of Commerce. The construction of the Pennsylvania station will not begin until the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1929.

There is no hatchery maintained in the state at this time by the federal government, making it necessary to ship trout for stocking streams from Wytheville, Va., and White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., entailing considerable transportation expense and causing great losses of fish.

SHENANGO HIGH ENJOYS PICNIC

Delay Of Delivery Of Letters Makes Necessary Postponement Of Program

School term at the Shenango High school was closed Friday afternoon with a picnic in which the students and faculty joined at the new consolidated school building.

A program was planned as a fitting close of the first term of school in the new building in which athletic letters and letters for distinction scholarship were to be awarded certain students, but delay in the receiving of the letters has made necessary the postponement of the exercises. Fitting exercises may be observed at the beginning of the fall term.

Clare B. Book, supervising principal of the school says that their system of bus transportation has been most successful, several hundred children being hauled to and from school every day and through all kinds of weather and only once was there a bus that failed to arrive on time.

STANFORD WINS FIRST CONTEST

(International News Service)

HARVARD STADIUM, CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 25.—Eric Krenz, western giant, started Stanford on its way to the intercollegiate A. A. track and field championship title this afternoon by putting the shot 50 feet 1 inch in the trials of that event before a sparsely populated stadium. A moment later a teammate of Krenz—Harlow Rothert—also bettered the existing games record of 49 feet 11 3-4 inches, made by Clarence Houser, Southern California. Rothert's toss was 50 feet 1-2 inch.

Wealthy Chicago Youth May Gain Prison Release

Illinois State Pardon Board Said Ready To Release Wealthy Scion

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 25.—Jack Durand, foster son of the wealthy and socially prominent Scott Durands of Lake Forest, fashionable Gold Coast suburb, is to win immediate parole from Joliet penitentiary, it was reported here today.

Young Durand has served two years and seven months of the three-to-twenty years sentence imposed upon him following his conviction of stealing a pearl necklace from the home of F. Edson White, president of Armour & Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Durand, convinced of their son's innocence, spent a small fortune in fighting the case against him. Governor Small has been petitioned on numerous occasions to have the young man released.

Hinton G. Clabaugh, chairman of the Illinois pardon and parole board, which met in Chicago today, intimated that the board would take favorable action in Durand's case.

Record Crowd At Philadelphia Game

(International News Service)

SHIBE PARK, PHILADELPHIA, May 25.—Another record-breaking crowd turned out again today for the second double header between the league leading Yankees and the Athletics. The crowd came early today and by noon most of them were inside the grounds.

Every seat was taken when a battle of strategy developed over the pitching situation. Hoyt started to warm up for the Yankees while Ehmke went to the bull pen for the A's. Then Miller Huggins pulled Hoyt out and Connie Mack who had ordered Rube Walberg to warm up sent Ehmke back again. Mack was trying to prevent putting Walberg in against Herb Pennock, the Yanks star left hander.

Pennock finally took the mound for the New Yorkers while Ehmke toed the slab for the Athletics. Grabowski caught for the Yanks and Jimmy Fox, the A's 20 year old catcher started for the home team.

IRISH FREE STATE ADOPTS NEW COIN

DUBLIN, May 25.—The ancient Irish harp will replace the profile of the king on the new coinage of the Irish Free State. The principal features of the industrial and sporting life of the country and its cultural developments are represented. But St. Patrick, the national apostle, has not been remembered in designing the new coinage of the realm.

A horse, a bull, and a hen with a brood represent agriculture. A salmon and a woodcock represent sport. A round tower and a wolf hound symbolize the ancient dignity of Ireland. New currency notes and coins will not be in circulation for a few months yet.

Let's see, wasn't there a "bull movement" down in Florida some time ago that never would collapse?

Subpoena Former Wife Of Chaplin In Murder Case

(International News Service)

MANTI, Utah, May 25.—A subpoena was issued today by Clerk of Courts Ernill J. Mortensen for Lita Gray Chaplin, former wife of Charlie Chaplin, to appear as a defense witness in the case of Sheldon Clark, 23, on trial here for the hammer murder of Don Solovich, the Chaplins' former butler.

Whether Miss Grey will accept service is problematical, it was said. She cannot be compelled to come here from California.

Defense Attorney Lewis Larson, however, stated she had indicated willingness to testify.

Primary: The method by which free electors decide whether to have milk and mush or mush and milk.

Mellon Reports Big Delinquent Tax Collection

SAYS INQUIRY COST U. S. BUT $14,165

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The government has collected more than $2,000,000 in delinquent taxes from persons connected with the Continental Trading Company deal as a result of the Senate Teapot Dome inquiry, Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon reported to Congress today.

Mellon reported that $1,398,910.09 in delinquent taxes were collected from persons whose names he would not disclose. He added that $606,097.19, however, had been collected in taxes and penalties from Robert W. Stewart, Harry F. Sinclair, James E. O'Neil and Henry M. Blackmer, the quartet of oil kings who organized the Continental.

The Stewart and Sinclair shares were paid, Mellon explained, by the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Company.

The O'Neil payment was $151,305.91, said Mellon; the Blackmer payment, $151,597.10, while $303,194.18 was paid by the Sinclair Company, which received one-half of the known Continental bonds from Sinclair and Stewart. Mellon reported too, that additional taxes probably would be collected, as the treasury's investigation was not completed.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh (D) of Montana, the oil prosecutor, immediately called the Senate's attention to the fact that the bond inquiry had cost but $14,165 and had led to the "recovery of $2,000,000 in delinquent taxes".

Hurt In Accident, Would Be Suicide May Get His Wish

BAYONNE, N. J., May 25.—En route from Bayonne hospital to be arraigned for attempted suicide, Fred Snyder, 64, today suffered a fracture of the skull when the driver of the patrol wagon jammed on his brakes suddenly to avoid hitting a girl. Snyder was readmitted to the hospital, where it is said he may die. He originally was taken there after trying to kill himself by inhaling gas after an argument with his wife, according to police.

COURT PUTS BAN ON LOVE TOKENS

CHICAGO, May 23.—James Johnson, an artist, loves his estranged wife, Ruth. He desires to win her back by gifts of flowers, candy and other gentle approaches. But Judge Sabath has issued an injunction, forbidding him to molest her and this includes sending her flowers and candy.

Johnson went before Judge Sabath today and told the court he loves his wife deeply and wants to forestall her pending divorce suit. The court agreed to talk it over with Mrs. Johnson and if she will stand for flowers, candy and other tokens of regard, the injunction will be dissolved.

WILL COMPILE CRIMINAL LAWS

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 25.—The first compilation ever made of all existing state criminal laws governing arrests, preliminary hearings, bail, methods of prosecution, grand jury procedure and indictment has been completed by Dean William E. Mikell and Professor Edwin R. Keedy of the University of Pennsylvania's law school.

More than two years were spent in making the compilation which reveals, according to Dean Mikell, that state laws relating to indictments probably are more diverse and more generally in need of reform than any other single group of laws.

Dean Mikell and Dr. Keedy were appointed by the American Law Institute in January, 1925, to draft a model code of criminal procedure which would serve as the basis for such reforms in the criminal laws as the individual states might decide to make in the future. The tentative code is now about half completed.

DONATE CIVIL WAR RELICS TO LIBRARY

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Letters written from the front and sketches made on the battlefields during the Civil War by the late Charles W. Reed, artist trumpeter in the Ninth Massachusetts Battery, recruited in 1862, have been donated to the Library of Congress' collection of the war between the states by Mrs. Grace M. Schrimer of New York.

The medal of honor awarded Reed in 1895 for heroic action at Gettysburg July 2, 1863, in saving the life of his captain, John Bigelow, also has been turned over to the library by Mrs. Schirmer.

Sketches by Reed illustrating the fighting on that day at Peach Orchard are included in the collection.

GENERAL BOOTH WILL TAKE REST

LONDON, May 25.—General Bramwell Booth, head of the Salvation Army, has been ordered to take a complete rest and relief from all public engagements temporarily. He is 72 years old.

The War Cry, Salvation Army newspaper, states that his physicians insisted upon the absolute necessity of such a course and General Booth accordingly has left London for recuperation in the country.

PAINTING ICE BLACK OPENS PATH FOR SHIP

SEATTLE, Wash., May 25. — Lake Labrage, locale of the strange goings-on in Robert W. Service's poem, "The Cremation of Sam McGee," was the scene of an unusual operation against low temperature recently when a steamboat captain painted a black streak across the ice to hasten its melting and thus permit an early voyage from White Horse to Dawson, Alaska.

Remembering from his school book physics that black absorbs the sun's rays and retains heat, H. Wheeler, owner and captain of the steamboat Casca had his crew smear a strip of refuse oil and lamp black 40 feet wide across the glittering ice of Labarge.

A report of the venture received here, said that the application caused the ice to melt sooner than the glistening expanse that had not been painted. The Casca was said to have sailed through the 29-mile canal etched in the ice by the oil and lamp black and moved toward Dawson.

Calls For Congress To Solve Old Age Problem

Sirovich Wants Commission of 15 to Spend Two Years on Security Data

BY FRED LINDELTON
International Illustrated News Washington Correspondent

OLD AGE security should be provided for each and every one of the citizens of the United States, by the simple method of taking toll of America's abundance of natural resources.

This, the most distressing problem of today, in the estimation of a great many thinkers, should be solved by the government, and solved at once.

Representative William I. Sirovich of New York, in fact, has put the issue squarely up to Congress. He has introduced a joint resolution which calls for a commission of fifteen to set aside two years to the study of old age dependency and the working out of means for its relief.

REP. WM. I. SIROVICH
(International Illustrated News)

USEFULNESS CUT

In his statement before the House Committee on Rules, Sirovich declared emphatically:

"At the very moment when medical science seems to foretell a greater average longevity, it is possible that man's span of usefulness in industry is being appreciably shortened.

"How shall this gap between added years and a shorter work life be bridged? Forty civilized nations of the world have developed, in conformity with their separate needs, scientific and comprehensive methods of taking care of their aged dependents. These are in the form of old-age pensions or insurance systems.

"The United States shares the unenviable distinction of being associated with China and India as the only large countries in the world having no modern adequate provision for their aged and dependent poor.

OUT OF DATE

"The almshouse and the outdoor poor relief systems in force in the United States represent an antiquated as well as costly method of helping the aged. The taint of charity serves to embitter the declining years of thousands of worthy and respectable old men and women whose only crime is old age and poverty.

"My resolution contains no pet panacea. It merely calls for an expert investigation of this pressing problem. It deserves immediate consideration by Congress."

Dr. Sirovich's resolutions call for four Senators, four Representatives, two representatives of capital, two representatives of organized labor, and three public-spirited citizens.

Bertram H. Snell, New York; Theodore Burton, Ohio; Thomas S. Williams, Illinois; Fred S. Purnell, Indiana; Earl C. Michener of Michigan; Harry C. Ramsley, of Pennsylvania; C. William Ramseyer, of Iowa; Louis A. Frothingham, of Massachusetts; Edward W. Pou, of North Carolina; Finis J. Garrett, of Tennessee; William B. Bankhead, of Alabama, and John J. O'Connor, of New York.

Conquest Of Atom, Smallest Particle, Is Now Progressing

Dr. William F. Meggers, Internationally Known Physicist, Is Making Tests

Science At Last Is Putting Atom To Work; Make Many New Discoveries

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH.
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright 1928 by International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Conquest of the atom—the very basis of all existence—is the objective of a remarkable series of experiments in progress at the U. S. bureau of standards in charge of Dr. William F. Meggers, internationally known physicist.

Science is putting the atom to work. Initial stages of this task described as scientific discovery in the making—embrace intricate observations of radiation from electrons, which make up the atom, photographing the emitted light rays, a maze of mathematical calculations and interpretations of the vagaries of atomic behavior.

Are Learning Atom.

Once the atom is conquered no imagination is too vivid to prophesy the results. Describing what the research means to human progress, Dr. Meggers said:

"This is a story you cannot exaggerate. Here and abroad men or science are learning to understand and control the changes in the atom.

"When we master full control we will aid the chemist in combining atoms at will to produce forms of matter having any desired properties.

"In the vast complexity of 1,100 rays emitted from the yttrium atom is a fascinating puzzle, one whose solution will contribute to learning the secret of atomic structure, which may give us transmutation of the elements. Some think it may unlock vast stores of energy within the atom and yield undreamed of power.

"In fact we could not safely deny any possibility ultimately linked with the full knowledge of atomic control."

Success thus means, in the opinion of scientists, that man's conquest of nature will be complete. It means domination of matter. Elements may be transmuted, disease banished, death defied. Regulation of world weather may be accomplished. All energy may be controlled, concentrated and employed to suit human requirements.

New Discoveries

Dr. Meggers has photographed 1,100 rays of different wave lengths from atom No. 39—yttrium. He explained that practically all of the rays have been diagrammed and electron movements within the atom or energy changes producing them, have been identified. This never before has been accomplished. It adds one more link to the chain of discovery of the complex movements which cause light waves and 9:34, the structure of the atom.

These discoveries involved a maze of measurements which are said to be the key to the interpretation both of light radiation and of atom structure in terms of energy changes. Measurements of light waves were made with high precision—with error less than four billionths of an inch.

Photographs were made of rays from Scandium and Lanthanum, two atoms of the Yttrium family. Meggers is studying the wave lengths broadcast by the Lanthanum atom and recording photographically the evidence that certain rays have more than one wave length.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., May 25.—Two women textile strikers, arrested May 10 when picketing near the Pemaquid mill here, were sentenced to six months each for carrying dangerous weapons by Judge Frank A. Milliken in Third district court today. They are Mrs. Angeline Tsoupreas and Mrs Christina Sindres.

Mrs. Tsoupreas was charged with carrying bricks and Mrs. Sindres a piece of iron pipe. Both appealed.

MAY LIVE TO BE 140 YEARS OLD

LONDON, May 25.—"Human beings will in the future live youthfully to the age of 140 and then, instead of a lingering illness, died within a fortnight."

Dr. Serge Voronoff, rejuvenation expert, today delivered this hopeful message to the English people at a house party where he met some of the leaders of society.

"It is curious," he said, "that while the French women are content if my treatment improves their beauty, the English and American women insist on a great deal more. They desire to be made young and strong forever. They want to be able to hunt, play golf, tennis and such things with all the vitality of youth."

Basing his prediction of human longevity on his experiments with sheep, Dr. Voronoff gives the age of 140 as a fair average with death deprived of the horror of lingering illness.

PRINCETON BALL TEAM ORGANIZES

A large number of Princeton baseball enthusiasts held a meeting and after considerable discussion decided to organize a team.

Clare Weimer of Rose Point, was elected captain and Rev. Jos. I. Gregory was elected manager. The team is going to improve and put in order the new school grounds which will be one of the best ball grounds in the district.

On the pitching staff are Lutton, Farrell, Harlan and Collins. Catchers Weimer and Stickle.

The diamond will be ready by the last of next week and teams of ordinary talent will be readily accepted. Would like to play some of the church teams of New Castle.

Those interested call Princeton 37, or write Jos. I. Gregory, New Castle, R. D. 6.

Would Deport Youth Who Has Day Blindness

NEW YORK, May 25.—Because her 16-year-old son, Giovanni, can't see in the daytime and can see at night, an affliction known as owl eyes, Mrs. Emelia Galanti may have to return with him to Italy.

Mrs. Galanti and her son, accompanied by three younger children, arrived here March 29 enroute to Hermine, Pa., where her husband, Nicola, operates a confectionery store and owns considerable property. But public health inspectors refused to permit Giovanni to land.

Ellis Island officials plan to deport mother and son. The other children have been admitted.

Drinks Chloroform; Now In Hospital

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., May 26.—A man said by other roomers in the building to be Charles Starstrom, 14 South Main street, is in Jamestown General hospital in an unconscious condition as the result of drinking an ounce of chloroform this morning at his room. He will recover, it is expected.

Police found a note written in Swedish, saying "Tired of it all." Police were told by other roomers that Starstrom had been drinking heavily recently. Last night he created a great rumpus, but soon became quiet. Police were called and found him unconscious with the chloroform bottle near him.

SALO FIRST INTO PASSAIC

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

PASSAIC, N. J., May 25.—Amid ballyhoo and excitement this town has not witnessed for many a day, C. C. Pyle's bunion derbyists reeled into Passaic on their tired dogs this afternoon, with John Salo, Passaic's flying Finn, leading the procession.

Salo, who looks like the sure winner of the $10,000 check for second place in the Los Angeles-to-New York foot race, arrived at the Passaic stadium at 1:19 p. m., the winner of today's 24.7-mile run from Suffern, N. Y. He made the distance in two hours, 49 minutes and 26 seconds.

Richard Thomas of England, toddled in four minutes later, with Seth Gonzales of Denver third. Andrew Payne of Claremore, Okla., the race leader, was far in the rear. He was walking, conserving his strength for the final lap of the race into New York City tomorrow.

At 105, He Gives New Formula To Live Long

NEW YORK, May 25.—Sigmund Dringer, who yesterday celebrated his 105th birthday at the United Home for Aged Hebrews, No. 391 Pelham road, New Rochelle, attributes his longevity to the fact that he didn't marry until he was 55 years of age.

Surrounded by his ten children, many friends and inmates of the home, Mr. Dringer was happy as a child as he cut into the huge cake which sagged under 105 candles. He had been looking forward to the party and had bought a silk hat for the occasion. This is the first silk hat that he ever owned.

"How long do you expect to live?" he was asked.

"I'm counting on celebrating my 110th birthday. But I may live to be 120," he replied.

Mr. Dringer received many birthday gifts. Many were cigars, which he enjoys despite his advanced age.

Born in Cracow, Poland, he came to America 63 years ago.

Arrange For Observance Of Memorial Period; First Services Sunday

Annual observance of the Memorial Day season of the year, as arranged by the joint committee of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Spanish-American War Veterans and Sons of Union Veterans, were inaugurated this afternoon with the visitation of schools of the city by representatives of the affiliated service and patriotic organizations.

The schools visited include all except North Street Junior High, Benjamin Franklin Junior High and the Mahoning school, when the visitation will be made on next Tuesday morning, and St. Mary's school, where exercises will be held on another date.

Sunday Services

Sunday evening the annual services at the bank of the Neshannock creek, followed by church services with a sermon in keeping with the season of the year being observed, will be held.

The water services will be held at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening near the city comfort station with the Ladies of the G. A. R. in charge assisted by the affiliated service and patriotic organizations.

There will be the ritualistic service, followed by the strewing of flowers on the water of the river in memory of those who died at sea and the firing three volleys and the sounding of taps. Rev. Samuel Maitland will speak at this service.

The various organizations will then form in parade formation and go to the Epworth M. E. church, where the annual Sunday memorial services will be held, with Rev. S. L. Maxwell, pastor of the church, delivering the address of the occasion.

On Memorial Day

Memorial Day morning the various organizations participating will form at the Legion Home. The parade will move promptly at nine a. m., going to the Capitol theater, where the Memorial Day exercises will be held. Here there will be an interesting program presented, including an address by Attorney John S. Powers.

After the exercises at the Capitol theater the parade will reform on East street and march to the soldiers' plot in Greenwood cemetery, where the Spanish-American War Veterans will conduct the final service of the day. The public is welcome at all of these exercises.

Pat J. Dempsey has been selected as marshal of the Memorial Day parade.

Order of Parade

Police escort.
Chief Marshal Pat J. Dempsey and Aides John Kennedy and Frank S. Nessle.
Senior High school band.
Spanish-American War Veterans.
American Legion.
Veterans of Foreign Wars.
Ladies of the G. A. R.
Woman's Relief Corps.
Sons of Union Veterans Auxiliary.
Daughters of Veterans.
Spanish-American War Veterans Auxiliary.
Service Star Legion.

Smoke and Cinder Club Is Feature

Part Of State Insurance Federation Organization To Assemble Here

While the "Insurance Days" convention which is to be held here Monday and Tuesday, May 28 and 29 is under the auspices of the Insurance Federation of Pennsylvania, there are a number of organizations within this organization. One of them is the Smoke and Cinder club.

A brief history of the Smoke and Cinder club appears in the convention program and follows:

In 1905 about seven Special Agents were snowed in for several days at Cambridge Springs, Pa., and at this time they talked about starting a club consisting of the Special Agents in Western Pennsylvania.

Their idea at this time was to further the spirit of sociability and good fellowship among the men, which in the minds of these Special Agents would be a proper start for a club of men all in the same business and striving for the same ends. They talked the subject over with the Special Agents generally who were in the field, and they felt it would be a splendid thing.

Several meetings were held, the idea was presented and the club was formed—Colonel F. K. Patterson being elected president. The next question before the club was the name, and after a short time Mr. Louis Weiderhold, Jr., suggested the name "Smoke and Cinder." This seemed very appropriate for a fire insurance club's name, and it was adopted.

Several times during the early days of the club business suggestions were made and carried out, but this practice has since been discontinued. Politics also entered into the election of the officers to quite an extent for a while, but this soon died out, and now politics are out of the question.

The real motto of the club has been "Fair Play" among the members. The club has grown, and is known all over the country.

Present officers—Paul J. Mullen, president. W. Van Iderstine, secretary; Carlton Timberman, vice president; Irving W. Spear, treasurer.

Commencement At Volant Tonight

High School Class To Receive Diplomas At Ceremonies In Methodist Church

(Special To The News)

VOLANT, Pa., May 25—The commencement exercises of the Volant High school will be held in the Methodist church on Friday evening, May 25 at eight o'clock. Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president of Westminster college will give the address of the evening. Music will be furnished by the Volant orchestra.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY

The members of the high school will give their play, "The Absent Minded Bridgegroom", at the Millburn Grange hall on Tuesday evening, May 29. Rehearsals are now being held and it is hoped that a good crowd will be in attendance. The play was given here a few weeks ago and the house was well crowded both evenings.

VOLANT NOTES

Hiram J. Collins visited Thomas Brenneman in the Mercer hospital last Wednesday.

Carter Johnson, F. P. Simpson, W. J. Allen and W. C. Potter attended a meeting at the Cathedral on Wednesday evening.

The members of the Senior class of Volant high school were in New Castle on Wednesday and had their pictures taken.

Miss Alice Ligo and Mrs. R. N. Moose were callers in Mercer on Tuesday evening.

The school closes here on May 30. Plans are being made for a picnic and a general good time for the last day.

GLENN BATHING POOL OPENS MEMORIAL DAY

It was stated today that the Billy Glenn pool at Cascade Park would be formally opened for bathing this season, Memorial day. Glenn has made arrangements to have a lifeguard present every hour of the day during the entire season and water sports will be featured by Jack Hulmes and "Horse" Gillium.

Some time ago we read that women's skirts were going to be made longer, but as far as we have been able to observe the shorts are making no attempt to cover.—Louisville Times.

Develop New Delicacy Type At Local Plant

For those who think that the ice cream cone is antiquated, yet another form in which the delicacy can be had is now being made by the Rieck-McJunkin dairy, states Henry Goldberg, the manager.

This is called the ice cream smak, and with its container, is made in the New Castle plant. First, a small paper tube is made on a machine which, Mr. Goldberg says, was inspired by the newspaper presses. In this machine, paper is rolled into tubes. Then the tubes are placed on another machine, which fills them with ice cream and tops them with chocolate. After they have been filled, the tubes are taken into the cooler to be frozen before they are delivered.

Also, a fool and his money are soon acquitted.

SCAN YOUR $100 BILLS; SPURIOUS NOTE OUT

Watch your small change, especially your $100 bills.

A spurious $100 note, drawn on the Federal Reserve bank of New York, is in circulation in the Pittsburgh district, and the Federal Reserve bank has described its handiwork as "extremely dangerous". The bill is of the 1924 series and bears a portrait of Benjamin Franklin. The left eyeball is usually large and after the word "Washington" appears a period instead of a comma.

May Day Pageant Saturday At 4:30

Annual Program To Be Presented By Students At Westminster College

SHAKESPEAREAN PLAY SETTING

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 25. — A 4:30 o'clock Eastern Standard Time Saturday afternoon, the students of Westminster College will present the biggest show event of the year in the production of the annual May Day Pageant. This year the May Day Pageant is a series of elaborate cuttings from William Shakespeare's fairyland production, "Mid Summer Night's Dream."

Along with the presentation of the dances of the fairies, elves and sprites; the stately marchings of Queen Elizabeth, her ladies and pages; and the installation and crowning of the new Queen of the May; there will also be several vocal solo selections sung by members of the student Glee Club.

The plan of the whole program consists of a fairyland exhibition performed in front of Queen Elizabeth and her court. Last year's May Queen, Miss Helen Hastings, will take the part of Queen Elizabeth while the Queen of Fairyland, Queen Titiania, will be played by Miss Phyllis Coley, who has been selected as the 1928 May Queen. King Oberon who is the king of the fairies, elves, and sprites will be played by James Blackwood.

Other students who have important parts in tomorrow's pageant are: Paul Campbell as William Shapespeare; Lois Wagoner as Hippolyto, Queen of the Amazons; Fred Clemen as Puck; Norman Schenk as Theseus, Duke of Athens; Luther Braham as Nick Bottom, the Weaver; Kenneth Dyer as Quince, the carpenter; John Lowden as Snug, the joiner; Orvil Mirtz as Flute, the bellows maker; Wilson Botsford as Snout, the tinker; and William Hamilton as Starveling, the tailor.

In addition to these students who have individual parts in the production, there are 40 coeds who will play in roles as ladies, pages and aides of the court; and others who will dance as fairies, elves, and sprites.

The director in chief of the pageant is Mrs. Mary McConagha of the faculty of the college and she has been assisted in the coaching by Miss Claudia Zittman of Peabody high school in Pittsburgh. In addition several of the student girls have helped direct the different dances. These leaders are: Dorothy Dipner, Ruth Lewis, Jane Macrum, and Betty Glover.

James Trotter is the main director of the instrumental musical accompaniment of the pageant and Professor Alan B. Davis has directed the vocal musical accompaniment. Assisting Mr. Trotter are Miss Gladys Zeigler, Miss Mary Eva Craig, Miss Eleanor Graham, and Miss Janet McClure. In addition to the number of soloists that he has coached for tomorrow's event, Professor Davis has been coaching the men's double quartette of the college glee club to sing several numbers. The microphone with which all the music of the pageant will be amplified will be placed on the piano in the center of the natural ampitheatre.

The plan of the Shapespearian setting for the 1928 May Day was taken in art to celebrate the birthday of the great dramatists which falls in the spring time (April 23).

The final scene of the whole production will be the crowning of Miss Phyllis Coley as the 1928 May Queen by Miss Helen Hastings, the 1927 Queen of the May.

Mexican Aviator In Long Flight

Mexican "Lone Eagle" On Flight From San Diego To Mexico City Today

PLANS FLIGHT TO WASHINGTON SOON

(International News Service)

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 25.—Piloting a Ryan monoplane that is a duplicate of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's Spirit of St. Louis, Captain Emilio Carranzo, Mexican "Lone Eagle" and chief of his country's air forces, was winging his way southward today on a non-stop flight to Mexico City.

The intrepid Mexican airman, who plans to make a non-stop flight from the Mexican capital to Washington in reciprocation for Colonel Lindbergh's visit to the southern republic, took off from Camp Keraney, near here, late yesterday afternoon.

He expects to arrive in Mexico City shortly before noon today. His trip to San Diego was for the purpose of completing negotiations for the purchase of the plane in which he intends to make the Mexico City-Washington flight.

Remolded Bell To Ring Again

Bell In Westminster Fire To Be Used In Tower Of New Building

RECAST FOR USE BY CARNEGIE CO.

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 25.—Featuring the ending of commencement of Westminster college this year will be the installation in the Old Main Memorial tower of the old college bell which pealed forth its call to classes in "Old Main" before that structure was destroyed by fire more than a year ago.

Though considered to be damaged beyond repair the bell was taken out of the ashes of the old building melted at the Carnegie works in Farrell, and recast in the Carnegie Steel Co. at Braddock so that its shape, size and tone are exactly the same as when it reposed in the tower above "Old Main."

Immediately following the commencement exercises on the afternoon of Wednesday, June 6 the ceremony of installing the bell with its new trunion in the tower of Old Main Memorial. For this important climax of the commencement week it is expected that all the alumni and students of the college will be present.

Only one thing has been added to the bell different from what it was before the day that it crashed down through the mass of flames that enveloped its resting place and that is an inscription that has been placed on the side of the bell telling its history.

The tower of the new structure is raising its head above the trees of the campus now and it is expected that the tower will be fully completed in time for the resetting of the Old College bell.

Chicago Claims Coming Lead In Air Transport

By FRANCIS L. ARMSTRONG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, May 25.—Already handling more than twice the volume of air mail cleared by any other city in the world, Chicago will be the air transport center of the nation, according to a survey just issued by the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Seventeen permanent airports have been established here, according to the report, headed by Municipal airport, conceded to be one of the finest fields in existence.

Geographical advantages were given as the chief reason for the tremendous strides of aviation here during the past few years. Mail from all parts of the country clears through Chicago air routes and the greatest trans-continental air lines have established terminals here.

Nine Factories

Nine manufacturers of airplanes now are situated in Chicago, and a move is under way, backed by prominent financiers here, to bring additional factories to this city.

The Laird airplane and Health "parasol" are among the types now being produced here.

Land values of airports here are tremendous, according to the survey.

Municipal Field is occupying a space valued at $10,000,000 and additions are expected to be made shortly. Improvements costing $250,000 have been made at this field. A bond issue providing more money will be placed before the people of Chicago this spring.

Planes, the survey showed, are coming into favor with large manufacturers and distributors here to a means of offering quick access to distant branches for executives.

In place of a drawn-out series of letters, or of a barage of telegrams, Chicago executives are availing themselves of the plane and going to branch offices personally.

This use of airplanes, it was indicated by the report, will be an important factor in development of landing fields and other facilities here.

Business Men Fly

"Many Chicago business men are considering purchase of airplanes," the report says. "They realize the necessity for rapid travel, and find the airplane is a dependable and practical means.

"A five-passenger plane, fully loaded, can be operated for less than 10 cents per passenger mile."

The report, the most complete ever compiled here, gives full information on air and passenger services, with a schedule of arrivals and departures on all regular lines.

This district would be able to furnish every need of commercial aviation, and would manufacture its own materials, according to the report.

Claims It Ended Her Stomach And Liver Trouble

Local Lady's Health Troubles Vanish When She Uses Famous Ten Herbs.

"Three bottles of Ten Herbs gave me complete relief from stomach and liver disorders," was the statement of Mrs. J. H. Griffith, 716 Croton Avenue, New Castle, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this celebrated natural medicine.

MRS. J. H. GRIFFITH

"For some time I had been troubled with my stomach," Mrs. Griffith continued. "I would be in misery as soon as I arose from the table, and sometimes the gas on my stomach would be terrible. My liver was out of order, causing me to have dark spots in front of my eyes. I frequently had drowsy spells, and my nerves troubled me. At times, my eyes were very weak. Quite often my heart would flutter—sometimes I was afraid to walk across the room and could hardly do my work. My complexion was very sallow from time to time.

"I read in the newspapers about Ten Herbs and decided to try your medicine. It ended my health troubles. I now enjoy my meals, as my stomach is in good condition and is free of gas. My liver is active again, and I do not have any more dizzy spells or dark spots before my eyes. My heart no longer flutters, and my eyes are stronger. I have clearer complexion, and can do my housework without getting tired. I am so well pleased with Ten Herbs that I do not hesitate to recommend it to the public."

Ten Herbs is proving a sensation in this city. More and more persons from this section are coming forward with statements of praise for this great natural medicine and vouching for its unusual merit in benefiting and invigorating sluggish stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Every claim made for Ten Herbs is backed by a mass of evidence on file. One of the reasons for its remarkable success is its surprising effect on the entire human system, usually making one feel better in every way.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

Four Suspects In Brooklyn Slaying Are Given Freedom

Judge In Discharging Suspects Advises Them To Go Out And Kill Each Other

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 25.—A few more killings of the right kind were advocated Thursday by Magistrate Leo Healy in the Brooklyn homicide court in releasing four men charged with suspicion of murder in connection with the shooting to death of Edward McGuire on pier 3, Brooklyn, on May 16.

"I must discharge you as a matter of law, even though my private opinion is that you are guilty," Magistrate Healy told the men.

"Now go out and keep up the good work. Kill each other off just as fast as you like. The sooner the better for the police and the people of Brooklyn. There are only a few of you left, so the sooner you wipe each other out the better."

BANKRUPT'S WIFE PAYS DEBTS AFTER 15 YEARS

CINCINNATI, May 25.—Fifteen years ago E. Merrill Hagens of Terre Haute, Ind., a grocer, went into bankruptcy. His wife, Clara E. Hagens, decided to wipe out the debts contracted by him, and the Cincinnati & Suburban Belt Telephone company has received a check for $25.40 which was the telephone bill he owed when he went out of business in Cincinnati.

The company said it had no record of the debt.

ROSS PLANS TO SOON PLANT PARK FLOWERS

Within the next few days Mike Ross, in charge of the flower beds at Cascade Park, will have replanted all of the beautiful flowers. Mr. Ross has delayed planting the flowers expecting frost, which is reported last night. Ross is in charge of the green houses during the year and flowers which would not be hurt by weather conditions as has prevailed lately, have been planted.

Non-Smokers In England Attack Public Servants

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 25.—National Society of Non-Smokers which includes on its committee Sir John Martin Harvey famous actor, Dr. Alfred Salter, M. P. and Dr. Marie Stopes, makes an attack in its annual report upon Government servants who smoke during their working hours.

"There are welcome signs in various quarters that attention is at last being given to the evils consequent on the permission of smoking during business hours.

"Not only is it a form of indiscipline, but it is a discourtesy to clients and customers which cannot be too strongly deprecated. Government servants are amongst the worst offenders."

Wooden Plane Doomed For Military Service By British Ministry

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 25.—The doom of the wooden airplane for military purposes has been sounded by the British Air Ministry. Henceforth all military planes built in this country will be of metal with the exception of experimental machines.

This offical decision has been reached following the recent fine flight for four mammoth flyingboats from England to Africa and Australia without mishap. These machines were all constructed of metal, and were not affected by differences of atmospheric conditions.

The intention now is to lose no time in replacing British wooden service airplanes, seaplanes and flying boats by machines made of metal.

Moscow Has First Automatic Gasoline Pump Installed Now

MOSCOW, May 25. — The capital city of Soviet Russia, which is scrambling to become a modern industrial power, has its first gasoline filling station with an automatic pump.

Business is slack, however. There are only 1,000 automobiles including trucks and taxis in Moscow. A new private car has been added to the lone flivver which up to now bumped over the ice and snow covered streets as the only strictly private automobile in town.

The manager of the filling station said he sells about 20 gallons of gas a day at 50 cents a gallon. An average of four cars drive up to the pump which is owned by the Moscow soviet, in 24 hours.

Exhume Bodies Of Radium Victims

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 25.—Bodies of four young girls who died within the last year after working in the now closed United States Radium Company plant at Orange, N. J., have been exhumed, it was learned late Thursday.

Examination of the bodies, conducted by Dr. Charles H. Norris, New York police medical examiner, revealed that all four of the girls died from radium poisoning. Their bones were badly affected by the malady, the report said.

English Courts Cold To Heart-Balm Suits

LONDON, May 25.—The breach of promise suit, so useful for many decades to aggrieved English widows and spinsters, is rapidly losing its popularity in this country. With increasing economic and social independence of women, English judges and juries are reluctant to award money damages to the jilted complainant. Even where the verdict is for the complaining woman, the jury frequently measures its estimate of harm done by granting just enough indemnity to buy a spring bonnet. A distinguished judge's declaration that a breach of promise suit is a confession of inferiority of the female sex possibly has checked the courtward rush of broken-hearted maidens.

Letters Of Old Man Basis Of Balm Suit

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 25.—Letters expressing an old man's love for another's young wife form the basis of "heart balm" suit by means of which Mrs. Mariana Wagner hopes to obtain $90,000 of the $6,000,000 fortune left by Frits Achelis, president of the American Hard Rubber company.

Mrs. Wagner, now 33, says in her fifteen page bill of particulars that Achelis fitted up a secret bower in his New York offices, and there they met daily for three years—from 1921 shortly after she met the aged magnate until December of 1924 when he died at the age of eighty-three.

"After I met him he hinted he was in love with me, but because I was married he made no open declarations," she states in her action, which will come before a supreme court jury.

"He made a proposition to place myself under his wing and bestow upon him my love and affection. I went to his office daily and passed from two to three hours with him in a private compartment. I read to him, comforted him, encouraged him."

Her attorneys filed 10 letters in court with the plaintiff's bill of particulars. They are said to include such passages as these:

"Take this money, Mariana, dear, and go to the dentist. Get your teeth all fixed up, pet, and don't tell the dentist that a rich man's paying the bill . . . . He'll charge a lot more."

Great Plans Made For School Banquet

Grove City High School Alumni To Meet At Dinner Event, June 1

GROVE CITY, Pa., May 25.— If present plans go through successfully, the reunion of the Grove City High School alumni this spring, on June 1 will have permanent and worthwhile effects. There has been opened to the alumni association a field of service to the local high school and its graduates, which it is entirely possible to enter with gratifying results. Should the association adopt at its banquet and reunion one week from tonight, this principle of service to the needy and deserving boys and girls who graduate from Grove City High school year after year, the association will become more stable and powerful because of its big purpose.

There is to be also a lot of fun at the 1928 banquet. No effort has been spared by the committee members to put over the 1928 banquet in a big way. The program of toasts and speeches has been shortened from that of previous banquets. More entertainment of a musical nature, and dancing will consume a large portion of the evening. A more active, more powerful, more useful and a more jovial alumni association is the aim of the members of the committee.

Temporary Caps And Gowns Will Be Used June 6

Permanent Order Will Not Be Filled Until Later During Summer

As a result of the difficulties of cloth makers in the Chicago district, the Moore company of that place notified school authorities of this city that it will be unable before June 6 to permanently fill the order for over 310 graduation caps and gowns which the board recently granted that concern for the purpose of having costumes for permanent use at the local high school in the place of renting garments at each commencement.

Nevertheless, the officials of that firm sent a communication to the members of the school board stating that it will provide the graduation costumes for the coming graduation, and will ship the order of new costumes later in the summer.

Recently the board of education ordered the costumes for permanent use by the graduates of the senior high school, to do away with the practice of measuring the students and ordering the caps and robes at each graduation, which has been carried out for a number of years. It is stated that it will be necessary to alter a few of the garments at each commencement, but the cost of this will be slight compared to that of obtaining new gowns at the end of every semester.

One of the causes of trouble in the world is that most persons try to live up to their dispositions.

Leading Insurance Men From State Form Organization

Insurance Men Of State Coming To New Castle For Best Convention

Among the many guests who will attend the "Insurance Days" convention which will be held in the Scottish Rite cathedral on Monday and Tuesday, May 28 and 29, will be the past presidents of the Insurance Federation of Pennsylvania, under whose auspices the convention will be held.

The organization has flourished since 1914 and in that time has had some of the biggest insurance men in the state of Pennsylvania. New Castle has had one of the presidents, Joseph C. Williams serving the year of 1926-27.

Following is the list of past presidents of the organization, each of whom are expected to be here for the convention:

James W. Henry, Pittsburgh, Pa., 1914-1917.
Wallace M. Reid, Pittsburgh, Pa., 1917-1919.
Henry H. Putnam, Boston, Mass., 1919-1921.
James C. Murray, Pittsburgh, Pa., 1921-22.
Jere H. Barr, Reading, Pa., 1922-1923.
Thomas B. Donaldson, Newark, N. J., 1923-1924.
Walter G. McBlain, York, Pa., 1924-1925.
William M. Goodwin, Bethlehem, Pa., 1925-1926.
J. C. Williams, New Castle, Pa., 1926-1927.
William S. Diggs, Pittsburgh, Pa., 1927-1928.

Troop 21 Holds Father-Son Dinner

Meeting Is Addressed By Dr. W. Charles Wallace, President Of Council

Attended by over 75 boys, their fathers and special guests, the annual Father-Son banquet of St. Paul's Lutheran church sponsored by committeemen of Troop 21, Boy Scouts of America, took place Thursday evening at the church. John R. Dunfee, scoutmaster of the troop, was toastmaster of the evening.

The principal speaker on the program following the dinner which was served by the mothers and sisters of the boys was Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president of Westminster college and president of the Lawrence County Council, Boy Scouts of America. Dr. Wallace stressed the fellowship which must exist between the father and son and lauded the Boy Scout movement as one of the agencies through which this fellowship might be accomplished.

The Rev. Paul Schnur who has been connected with Boy Scout work for the past five years, next spoke on scouting in general, and urged the boys to do the best that they could. A reply was made by Scout Walter Hemphill who outlined what a father means to a boy.

From the executive's standpoint, J. Lee Calahan, scout executive of the Lawrence County Council next spoke on the progress that has been made within the council during the past year. After Mr. Calahan's speech the guests were entertained by a violin duo played by George and Martin Binder, accompanied on the piano by John Miller. The proceeds of the banquet will be used to send the scouts to Camp Phillips this summer.

Squire Gilmore's Sister Is Dead

Local Man Receives Sad Message From Springfield, Mass., This Morning

Squire A. H. Gilmore of Neshannock township, secretary of the Lawrence County Kennel club now staging the American Kennel club dog show in the Scottish Rite Cathedral, this morning received intelligence of the sudden and unexpected death of his only sister, Mrs. H. B. Chamberlin at her home in Springfield, Mass.

Deceased was the widow of the late Major Harry B. Chamberlin, quartermaster's department, United States army and besides her brother in New Castle is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Walther H. Robinson of Springfield, Mass. She was 49 years old and the daughter of Gen. and Mrs. W. H. Gilmore of Vermont, was preceded by them in death only recently.

Squire Gilmore will leave for Springfield, via airplane from Pittsburgh as soon as the dog show closes Saturday night.

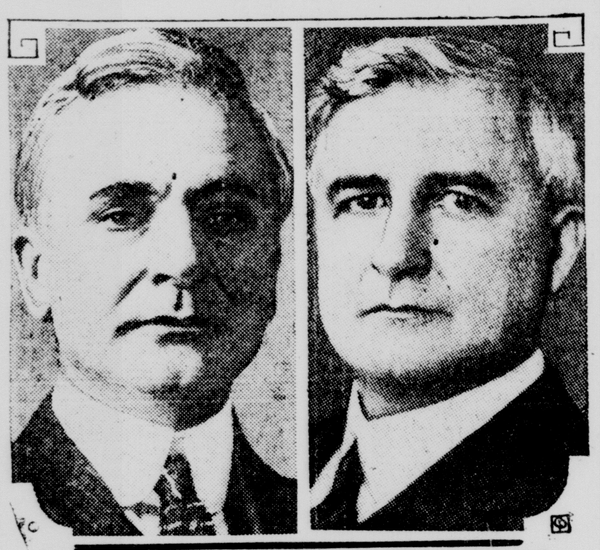
Vice Presidential Possibilities Keep Leaders Wondering



CORDELL HULL JESSE H. JONES

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington Correspondent for Central Press and New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Wonder of wonders!—with the conventions coming on, the usually scrappy Democrats are far more nearly agreed on their presidential candidate than the normally harmonious Republicans are agreed on theirs.

In fact, the Democrats have practically quit talking about possibilities for first place and gone to discussing prospects for the tail end of their ticket.

The Republicans haven't progressed that far yet. It's no good guessing on vice presidential chances until the presidential question's settled, because the former selection is so largely dependent on the latter.

* * *

Speaking of Democrats—

A couple of prominently mentioned names are Cordell Hull's and Jesse H. Jones'.

Hull, as we all know, is the Tennessee congressman, who was 1920-24 chairman of the Democratic national committee. Jones, it's equally well known, is the Texan who copped the Democratic convention for Houston; also the present national committee's financial director.

As a pair of drys, either one, on the ticket with Al Smith, would tend to offset Al's reputed wetness.

They're both southern, too—Hull from a state which some consider slightly doubtful—Jones from one which mixes a flavor of the west with the air of Dixie—to counterbalance the one-sidedness of the New Yorker's geography, if any.

* * *

Theoretically Hull was a presidential possibility until Smith eclipsed everybody else. It's hinted he'll have considerable southern support yet—maybe enough to make him the logical man to give the consolation prize to.

Or it might be Jesse.

Only the other day—but it was before he'd heard from California—Jed Adams, Lone Star national committeeman, suggested him as a good candidate for the anti-Smith delegates to unite on.

The drawback is that there don't appear to be enough of them to stop Al even if they do unite.

But "Smith and Jones?"—a slogan!—made to order.

True, Jesse's ag'in Al, but that's only for the nomination. Once nominated, it's understood the Texan will be "fur" him.

* * *

Ohio Democrats declare for Atlee Pomerene.

He can't get himself re-elected to the senate. He's in bad with labor. He can't win any of his oil cases. He's too wet to suit the drys, but not wet enough for the wets.

What a "possibility!" Nevertheless the Buckeye bunch proclaims him—and as its second choice, it says it's for ex-Congressman George White, whom the country hardly knows at all.

Meanwhile Governor Vic Donahey, who's a genuine Democratic presidential possibility, if anything fatal should happen to Al Smith—Vic sits idly by and tells the world he's satisfied.

'S funny. Or is it? Is it possible that Vic's simply waiting to see if something DOESN'T happen to Al? If not, he'll be glad he kept quiet. But if anything DOES happen—why, then does Vic, perchance, figure that Atlee's and George's candy will be plenty easy to take away from 'em?

Who knows?—politics is so peculiar.

* * *

As Kansas' lone Democratic congressman, W. A. Ayres is a courtesy possibility—vice presidentially not an IM-possibility, by virtue of his dryness and his farm appeal.

No "progressive" Democrat will permit Huston Thompson of Colorado, the ex-trade board man, to be left off the scroll—I'll agree to roll a peanut home from the convention if they nominate him.

We conclude with Claude Bowers, the Indiana-New York keynoter—it's always customary to admit that the keynoter may make a good enough speech to grab off the vice presidency.

We conclude with Claude, because when E. T. Meredith's Iowa boom blew up, it vanish too completely even to leave any Democratic vice presidential wreckage floating.

* * *

Not to neglect the G. O. P. entirely—

Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire has been on a vice presidential still hunt for a long time, and he's quite a hand to get what he goes after.

If Charlie Dawes and Frank Lowden both draw blanks, the Kansas City folks might think it a bright idea to award second place to Senator Charles S. Deneen, to soothe the Illinois" feelings.

Dwight W. Morrow, our ambassador to Mexico, and Alanson B. Houghton, our envoy to London, are hinted at. Pooh-pooh on both of 'em! Nice men!—but no more chance than any of the rest of us.

Police Lodge Is Ten Years Old

Anniversary Is Being Observed; Changes In Period Noted

NELSON TO ATTEND STATE CONVENTION

New Castle lodge No. 21, Fraternal Order of Police, is now ten years old and has a membership of approximately 44. The lodge observed its ninth anniversary during the present month, having been organized on May 4, 1919, with a charter membership of 32.

Of the original charter membership, there still remain enrolled in the lodge and in active service, 21 men. Three members of the force have died since the organization of the lodge, they being John Edwards, Hazelton Moore and Michael Connors.

Eight of the original members are now engaged in some other line of work. They are Eugene Buckley, Carl Gaston, Harry Nelson, H. M. Reynolds, Mont Richards, Balph Young, Philip Fisher and John Fleisher. Among these eight it will be noted is H. M. Reynolds, who was elected as sheriff of Lawrence county while serving the city as a motorcycle officer.

In the nine years of its existence, it has had eight presidents, one of whom, George Wyman, served two terms, in 1922 and 1923. Thomas Lynch has the distinction of having been the first president to serve the local organization, being elected at the time of organization in 1919.

The other presidents in their order of service are as follows: Frank M. Jones, 1921; George Wyman, 1922-1923; H. M. Reynolds, 1924; U. G. Harper, 1925; Grover C. Syling, 1926; D. T. Nelson, 1927, and P. J. Hillers, 1928.

D. T. Nelson will represent the local organization at the annual convention of the Fraternal Order of Police to be held in Allentown, Pa., beginning August 13.

The charter members of the organization were J. Ed Elder, Henry Dysart, William Tyrrell, Eugene Buckley, Cyrus C. Horner, C. G. Logan, Carl Gaston, Fred Shuler, Harry Nelson, F. M. Jones, Peter Hillers, John Edwards, George Wyman, Hazelton Moore, Thomas Lynch, H. M. Reynolds, William McConahey, James Wysner, Mont Richards, John Moore, James Hagan, Nick Fiella, John Young, Thomas Jones, Balph Young, Michael Connors, Joseph Greer, Michael Ritty, Philip Fisher, William Walls, John Fleisher and Frank Reynolds.

Final Exams Will Begin On June 2

Schedule Is Arranged For Grove City College; Other News Of Town

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Pa., May 25. — The examination schedule for final examinations of the second semester at Grove City College has been made out and announced by Registrar H. O. White. The finals will begin on Saturday, June 2, and close on the following Friday, June 8th. Commencement exercises for the graduating class will open on June 9th and close on Wednesday, June 13. Grove City will graduate and confer advanced degrees on the largest class since the foundation of the institution.

The announcement has been made of the sale of the Slater Brothers Flour and Feed business, located on Blaire street, to Roy M. Stewart and Edward Watson, two well known local men. The business has been operated for the past eleven years by A. D. and C. M. Slater.

Rev. Howard Campbell, of Siam, former Grove City resident and a graduate of Grove City College, spoke before the student body of the college this morning at the morning chapel service. Rev. Campbell is a missionary in Siam and has recently returned on furlough. He gave a very interesting talk on conditions and experiences in Siam.

A very pleasing musical recital was presented Wednesday evening in the Music Hall by the young students from the Model Department of Grove City College. The Model students are taught during the year by senior members of the Music Department. The piano pupils were taught by Miss Eleanor Green and Miss Margaret Montgomery; the violin was taught by Miss Alice Coleman and Beatrice Graham; and vocal pupils were taught by Miss Wilda Guthrie, Miss Anna Black and Miss Dorothy Allen.

The following members of the Model Class took part in the annual recital: George Ketler, Queen Miller, Jean Platt, Myrtle Neely, Marie Stuck, Flora Harmon, Sara Grace, Louise Lauderdale, Doris Wood, Harriet Lauderdale, Dorothy Black and Lorena McDonald. The recital was attended by a large number of parents and friends of the pupils and teachers.

Exhibition At Trade School

Many View Work Of Students At Ben Franklin Trade School Thursday

EXCEPTIONAL WORK IS DEMONSTRATED

Many people attended the exhibition of the trade school given Thursday afternoon and evening in the trade school shops at the Ben Franklin school, under the direction of S. A. Martine, director of vocational education of the New Castle schools.

Exhibits of the woodwork shop, draughting department and print shop were on exhibition in the automobile shop, while the exhibit of the machine shop was placed in the machine shop just across the hall.

Fine Exhibits.

In the center of the room on a raised platform was a pleasing sight centered by a living room set composed of a library table, reading lamp, chairs, taboret, smoking stand, magazine rack and sewing cabinet. Placed on steps about this platform were many other exhibits including all kinds of racks and stands such as telephone stands, end tables, necktie racks, etc.

Perhaps the most interesting part of the exhibition was the furniture being made by the woodwork department for the new George Washington Junior High school. Mr. Martine says that when completed they will have made between $7,000 and $10,000 worth of furniture. He says that next year he plans to continue this kind of work and secure contracts for equipping other schools throughout the country. Thus the boys knowing they are working on furniture to be used will put their best into it, there being a purpose in their work.

Make School Equipment.

Among the articles on exhibition being made for the new school and other schools of the district are eight tables, 56 cafeteria tables, 74 library and class room tables, 12 domestic science tables, 40 hurdles for the Senior High athletic games, filing cabinets, mail racks and storage cabinets for offices, art departments, etc., work benches, display cabinets for athletic trophies, drawing room equipment, costumers for offices and rest rooms, etc.

Perhaps the art tables to be used in the art departments are the most elaborate pieces of work on exhibition. They are 15 feet long and contain 27 drawers in each table, all panelled. These were made under the direction of the instructors, H. L. McCurdy and Wm. Wilcox, the boys doing most of the work on these being Frank Billyk, John Fishovitz, George Myock and Walter Shook. Leo Miarcher and Walter Shook are working on the cafeteria tables.

Some Fine Products.

Among the other fine products of students are filing cases, smoke stand, magazine rack and combination magazine rack and end table by Anthony Kurduposki.. bed room stand, telephone table and stand and end table by Mike Flack; rose treilis by Peter Popilli, model of Lindbergh's airplane, and teachers desk by John Fishovitz; book case, fancy chair, sewing cabinet and telephone stand and two taborets by Wm. Bender. File cabinets by Frank Billyk and Joseph Mazzara; costumer by Paul Weller of eighth grade; and many taborets, foot stools, etc., by seventh and eighth grade students.

Among the novelties is a small hectagon taboret or stand made of 102 different pieces of wood pasted together in beautiful pattern. The wood used is red gum, green popular, and basswood; two electric lamp stands made out of different colored wood and pasted together and turned out on lathes. Ed Wawrzynski made a large floor lamp and Joe Bumbulcz made a lamp and ironing board. Harry Warner made an ironing board also.

In the draughting department under James H. Lewis designs are made tracing of the designs made and blue prints printed. This work is correlated into the work of the other departments and drawings made for the machine and wood work shops. Dominic Natale drew, traced and made the blue print for the six inch bench saws made in the machine shop. Louis Holesko did the same for the blue print on exhibition of the typewriting table and Frank Cimperman for the cafeteria table, and Augustine Smarrelli for the library table.

In the machine shop exhibition the chief articles are the brass candlesticks, pattern making vises, and bench grinders although dozens of other articles are on exhibit such as screw jacks, toolmaking clamps, centering punches, lathe centers, etc. One interesting piece of machinery made by the boys is a combination wood turning lathe and grinder.

All these articles are built entirely by the boys, they start out with but pieces of steel and brass, etc. They must figure out the designs and by certain mathematical formulas get the right pitch on the screw threads, etc., and then cut them on the machines in the shop.

The boys graduating this year that gained special distinction according to P. G. Howell, instructor, are William Johns and Nick Dana, the other five members of the class are Peter Fishovitz, Leonard Marcher, Robert Davis, Alex Young and William Tott. They all finished up completely a bench grinder as a part of their regular work. Among the second year boys who gained distinction are Alleghro Nenatore, Harry Cook, John Frank, Augustine Leone, Elmer Thomas and Roy Papa.

The exhibition of the print shop under the direction of the teacher, J. A. Cox, consisted of the school magazines, bulletins of the school board, diplomas, and writing certificates, tickets and programs for entertainments, etc., and all kinds of commercial forms, letter heads, cross section paper, etc.

"My problem in this electrical age," observed the Great Orator wistfully, "is how to point with pride over the radio."—Detroit News.

State President Forecasts Great Convention Here

Insurance Federation To Meet Here Next Week Was Organized In 1914

Insurance men of Pennsylvania are expecting big things of the "Insurance Days" convention which opens in the Scottish Rite cathedral on Monday, May 28.

In an open letter to the members of the insurance fraternity of this state, William S. Diggs, state president of the Insurance Federation of Pennsylvania, has the following to say:

The federation movement came into being to serve the whole insurance structure. It has found its highest expression in the promulgation of "Insurance Days" conventions.

"Insurance Days," so generally observed, not only in Pennsylvania but in many sister states, has been a popular medium through which every branch and kind of legalized underwriting joins in educational sessions and conferences for mutual benefit. It furnishes the public and those engaged in insurance as a business with reliable information concerning all proposed information concerning all proposed legislation, the purpose of which is to make the state, wholly or in part, an underwriter of insurance hazards of any description.

The 1928 "Insurance Days" convention at New Castle, Pa., as evidenced by the porgram herein set forth, shows the good will and general cooperation of all forms of insurance, to a common end.

To the general committee and the insurance men of New Castle we are deeply indebted for able and effective support. The results, I am sure, will show how carefully and fully they have mastered the convention task.

We crave the opportunity of greeting you at the New Castle convention, where a cordial welcome awaits you. Its success is assured and your presence is greatly desired.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM S. DIGGS,
President, Insurance
Federation of Pennsylvania.

MAN DRIVEN INSANE BY MINE TRAGEDY

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 25—Driven insane by the Mather mine explosion, Tom Maloney, alias Tom McDyne, of Nemocolin, one of the survivors, ran wild on the streets of Uniontown and finally took refuge in the basement of the St. John's parochial school, where he created consternation among the sisters and school children.

The insane man insisted that he was a devil and threatened to kill all he met on the street. He was arrested by County Detective A. A. Downing and was on the way to the county jail when he slipped his coat and got away.

New Castle Householders Lose Many Milk Bottles; Figures In Milk Price

Do you have a little milk bottle in your home? If you do, set it out on the front porch at once if you want the milk companies to keep from going bankrupt. For every bottle that is picked up and returned to the companies, there is another one that is lost forever. Those are the statements, backed up by the leading dealers of the city, made by Henry McEwen of Mulberry street, who operates the local milk bottle exchange.

During the year, Mr. McEwen estimates that he collects 157,000 bottles and returns them to their original owners. Of course, these figures are only for the registered bottles, with the dealer's name on them. Of the plain sort, Mr. McEwen has no idea how many there are.

"Of all the bottles I pick up, there are just as many more than never come home to roost," declares Mr. McEwen. "Many times I am told that there are people in the city who have whole basements and back yards full of the bottles. Evidently these people do not realize that when they mislay a bottle it has a slight effect on the price of milk, for the bottles cost about eight or ten cents each. And although they are bought in carload lots, they are lost or destroyed in carload lots."

Each day about 600 bottles are gathered by Mr. McEwen and his helpers for the 25 dealers in New Castle.

Henry Goldberg, manager of the Rieck-McJunkin dairy at New Castle, substantiates Mr. McEwen's statement. "While I do not know definitely how many bottles we lose each year, yet I believe that Mr. McEwen's figures are about correct," he says.

Ambassador Moore Sails For Peru To Take Up New Post

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 25.—Alexander P. Moore, former ambassador to Spain, newspaper owner and recently appointed to succeed Miles Poindexter as ambassador to Peru, sailed on Thursday aboard the Grace liner to Santa Luisa to take up his new duties.

The new ambassador to Peru was appointed ambassador to Spain by President Harding. He served from 1923 to 1927.

MAY TAKE LONG TIME TO LOCATE BODIES OF FOUR TRAPPED MINERS

(International News Service)

KIMBERLY, Nev., May 25.—Officers of the Consolidated Trapper Mine estimated it would be weeks before the bodies of four miners could be recovered from the shaft in which they were buried by a slide. The four men were retimbering an old shaft when trapped by an avalanche of sliding earth.

Be Liberal Buying Your "Buddy Poppy"

If the everage purchaser of a Buddy Poppy on Saturday could just picture for a moment, the hardships and pains that the World War service man experienced, who made the little flower that has been purchased, there is but little doubt that he or she would gladly give several times the amount actually paid for the flower.

For it's quite true, that the average service man, now engaged in making these flowers, will probably never be able to engage in any other form of remunerative work and will probably be required to suffer severe pain, as well as the misfortune of being unable to follow his natural desires in the matter of occupation.

It is therefore the hope of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, that those purchasing the little red flowers on Saturday, will be prepared to pay as generously as may be possible, when the girl salesmen approach them.

The money realized means better care, better conditions and everything that is good to the unfortunate service men in the hospital or at home and to the widows and orphans in the Eaton Falls, Minn., home of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Big Presbyterian Assembly Sessions Started In Tulsa

(International News Service)

TULSA, Okla., May 25.—The 140th annual general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States began sessions here Thursday, to continue for one week. The body, composed of approximately 2,000 ministers and laymen, representative of Christian life in virtually every section of America, and many foreign countries, is the supreme tribunal of Presbyterianism.

One of the first official moves of the assemblage will be the election of a new moderator, chief officer of the church.

An open fight is freely predicted by church leaders over Princeton Theological Seminary, Princeton, N. J., the oldest and largest school of the faith. The principal difference rests not between the modernist and fundamentalist issue, it is pointed out, but between the two groups, each of fundamental belief, one of which is said to be more or less militant against the other in its direction of the institution. From its origin the seminary has been controlled by two separate boards, one of trustees and the other of directors.

Pittston Mayor Is Libel Suit Witness

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., May 25.—Mayor William Gillespie of Pittston was called to the witness stand on Thursday in the trial of Frank Kennedy, newspaperman, charged with criminal libel by John Kehoe, wealthy Pittston political leader.

Gillespie testified that as far as he knew Kehoe had made his fortune in real estate. Kennedy, in a series of articles in the Wilkes-Barre Telegram, according to testimony, indicated that Kehoe had made his money in illicit liquor.

Workers Fatigued Fear Serious Break In Big Utah Dam

(International News Service)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, May 25.—Danger of a break in the Pleasant Valley dam of Goose creek above Castlegate, Utah, was renewed Thursday, according to reports reaching here. Many of the volunteer workers, weary of day and night work since the first crumbling began last Sunday afternoon, have been compelled to leave their posts from physical exhaustion. As a result seepage at the base of the dam has increased.

A meeting of citizens, coal and railroad officials was called for this afternoon to take steps to replace the volunteer workers with paid laborers. Unless constant plugging of the leaks in the structure is continued the dam will probably be undermined, releasing a wall of water in the valley above Castlegate and Helper, endangering many lives.

British Heavy Is Seeking To Fight Tunney For Title

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 25. — Phil Scott, British heavyweight champion, and ex-horizontal champion, is the legal contender for Tunney's title, in the opinion of Charlie Rose, Scott's manager in London.

In an interview he declared:

"I think Heeney will have to prove that he is superior to Scott before the British public will give a heavyweight contest their support in sufficient numbers to enable Tex Rickard to satisfy Tunney's financial demands.

"Apart from that," he added, "I am of the opinion that it would be an insult to the intelligence of the British public, as Scott has beaten Heeney twice, to overlook the British champion's claim to a match in this country with Tunney.

People Grow Alike From Association

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 25.—Persons who live together for many years grow to resemble one another, Professor Frank M. Freeman of the University of Chicago told a conference of the Child Welfare League here.

That is especially true of children, the professor said. He claimed that orphans, adopted by a family, in time begin to resemble facially their foster parents.

Inversely brothers and sisters who have become separated early in life cease to resemble one another.

"Intelligence is not hereditary," Prof. Freeman contended. "In instances where orphans have been placed in homes of intelligence, their own intelligence begins to improve whereas if they had been placed in homes where the intelligence was meager, they would improve only slowly.

CHICAGO, May 25. — A Chicago hotel has undertaken the task of bringing art to its guests.

The Allerton Club has just opened a gallery of its own where it expects to display the paintings of prominent American artists.

"We intend maintaining a permanent museum here," explains W. W. Dwyer, manager of the hotel.

"Business people, as a rule, are too busy to take time off to visit art gallaries. So we have decided to bring art right to them.

The list of patrons and patronesses of the exhibits includes names of a number of the socially prominent.

MUSCLE SHOALS BILL SLIGHTLY MODIFIED

WASHINGTON, May 25.—A slightly modified Muscle Shoals bill was reported Thursday by the House and Senate conferees following a second session to iron out differences in the bill as it passed the two branches.

Amendments were added to the conference report limiting all manufacture of fertilizer at Muscle Shoals to "experimental purposes".

Modern Flats Drive Mansions Off Park Lane

By J. C. OESTREICHER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 25.—Lovers of old London are fearful that Park Lane, its most beautiful thoroughfare which for years has boasted the statellest town mansions in England, is doomed to destruction.

Like its western sister, New York's Fifth Avenue, Park Lane is undergoing the changes that the passage of time bring. One by one the beautiful mansions are disappearing, and in their stead are rising apartment houses of the New York variety—scoffed at by the conditions of the present day.

The first to go was Grosvenor House, situated in a commanding position on Park Lane, directly overlooking Hyde Park. The stately house was sold, its interiors removed and the building demolished. For a short while there was a strange gap in the graceful skyline and then slowly there arose a gigantic structure of red brick.

Modern Flats

"Grosvenor House," the signs outside displayed. "Modern service flats—all latest improvements."

Members of the old Guard shook their heads. This they feared—was the beginning. Park Lane had sung its swan song. High taxes, cumbersome assessments, those twin curses on the headsof the wealthy, had struck their blow at last, and one had capitulated to the addmission that he could no longer afford the luxury of a town house on Park Lane.

A few months later came an even bigger surprise. Dorchester House, the finest mansion in London, where Whitelaw Reid lived for fourteen years when Ambassador to the Court of St. James,' was sold to a syndicate for a price in excess of $2,500,000. The news was received with universal regret, for the contract state that the palatial mansion where Reid had entertained King Edward VII and many of England's greatest noblemen would be torn down to make room for an apartment hotel.

Up To Date Hotel

Dorchester House is still standing, but preparations have been completed for its demolition. The architects of the proposed hotel are planning to incorporate its priceless murals and wainscoting in the new structure, and every possible feature of the old house will be retained. But it will not look like Dorchester House, for it will be a "modern hotel," with all the improvements and alterations that go with it.

The indications are that the large houses of Park Lane will go one by one, just as the Fifth Avenue mansion have disappeared to make room for modern buildings. It is hoped, however, that business structures will not be erected on Park Lane, but that the famous throughfare will be restricted to residences—even though they be multi-family apartment houses instead of the proud mansions that once held full sway.

SEA CHAPERON AN AID TO CUPID

A lot of good love matches are made on shipboard, according to Mrs. Catherine Moore, young widow, officially on the roster of a Pacific liner as "sea chaperon." Mrs. Moore is believed to be the first official sea chaperon on the Pacific. She sees that everyone enjoys bridge parties, dances and deck sports.

More Firemen To Be Needed

Four To Six Additional To Be Required For New Truck

CIVIL SERVICE EXAM PLANNED

It will be necessary for a civil service examination to be held in the near future for the purpose of giving persons desiring an opportunity of becoming members of the city fire department, the chance they seek.

This is due to the fact that anywhere from four to six additional men will be required when the new service truck, recently ordered, arrives here in the course of the next sixty or ninety days.

This is the truck that will answer all alarms and it will require several men to operate it in the proper manner.

In connection with this fact, is the fact that there has been no civil service examination held in somewhat over a year for the fire department. Perry McFarland was the last man appointed to the force from the then eligible list and that is considerable over a year.

There is now no available eligible list from which firemen may be appointed and for that reason, it will be necessary to create such a list in order to take care of the requirements of the new service truck.

Indications are that a request will be made of the civil service board to conduct such an examination in the immediate future, so that the men wanted will be available, when needed.

Memorial Services At Slippery Rock

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., May 25.—Sunday morning, May 27, at 11 o'clock Rev. J. H. McCormick will preach the Memorial day sermon in the Presbyterian church. This will be a union service, war veterans and Boy Scouts will attend in a body. On Wednesday committees assigned to decorate graves at the neighboring cemeteries will leave at 7:30 a. m. The parade to the local cemetery will form at the park at 9:45 headed by the band and bugle corps. All organiations are invited to participate. Dr. Eisenberg will give a short talk at the cemetery. Immediately following the Legion post will go to Plain Grove to assist that community in observance of the day. In the evening there will be a concert in the park by the band and bugle corps. The Boy Scouts will collect flowers early in the morning of the 30th.

School Girl's Marriage Into Japanese Royalty Excites Even Capital

MLLE. SETSU MATSUDAIRA, AND, INSET, PRINCE CHICHIBU

By BONITA WITT
Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, May 25. — When American girls are in the throes of final examinations they have little time for anything else, but Setsu Matsudaira, 19-year-old daughter of the Japanese ambassador to the United States, manages to keep up her school work, attend many social functions given in her honor and make preparations for her wedding to Prince Chichibu, brother of the emperor of Japan.

It is difficult for her fellow students at Friends school, Washington, to realize that Setsu, graduating in May, soon is to depart from Washington to become a member of the royal family of Japan. It is possible she may become empress some day.

She is popular at the school, a good student and an enthusiastic tennis player.

Washington Manifests Interest.

Washington is nearly as interested in Setsu's approaching wedding as if it were a White House affair. There's a little story of the romance going the rounds in the capital that strengthens Washington's suspicion that it is more of a love match than an alliance arranged by the parents of the principals.

'Tis said Prince Chichibu, visiting in Washington a year or more ago, made this speech to his hostess, Mme. Matsudaira: "I have three requests to make. I wish you would serve me a real Japanese lunch. I would like a regular American dinner with turkey and all the trimmings, and I want to marry your daughter!"

During his stay in Washington in 1926 Chichibu tarried only a short time, for he was hastening to the bedside of his father, the late Emperor Taisho. He did manage to find time to purchase some thirty books on hydraulics. A few days later Mme. Matsudaira found her daughter, Setsu, pouring over a volume of hydraulic engineering.

In diplomatic circles it is said the match was first discussed in 1924, when the dowager empress began looking around for a bride for young Chichibu, then 24. Count Nobuaki Makino, lord keeper of the privy seal, after considering many members of the peerage, submitted a list, composed for the most part of the names of students at the peeresses' school in Tokyo. Although there were many girls more beautiful and wealthier than she, it was Setsu Matsudaira who attracted the attention of the count and the dowager empress.

The Matsudairas felt the honor which the imperial family desired to confer upon their daughter was too great for a commoner and matters came to a rest when her father was named ambassador to the United States and he and his family came to Washington.

Two years passed. Then Chichibu came to Washington and the young folk fell in love. The affair was reopened and a few months later the betrothal was announced.

Scheduled for October.

October has been set as the probable time of the ceremony, because the imperial family desires to have it come as near the date of the coronation of Emperor Hirohito as possible so as to enable guests from the United States to attend both ceremonies. The emperor's coronation has been delayed until the period of mourning for the late emperor should end.

When Setsu departs from Washington she will go to the home of her uncle, Viscount Matsudaira, who will adopt her so that she will be of the peerage and therefore eligible to marry into the royal family.

Setsu's Washington schoolmates, as they prepare to bid her farewell, wonder whether she some day will be the empress of Japan. True the present empress is young and strong and Japan hopes she will bear an heir to the throne—but—in event that Hirohito dies, leaving no male heir to the throne—the wife of Prince Chichibu, once the little Washington school girl, Setsu Matsudaira, will become empress of Japan.

Several Large Picnics Arranged

Kiddies, Eastern Star, K. Of P. And Mission Picnics In June

Several large picnics have been arranged for the month of June at Cascade Park, according to Manager Carl Shaner.

The first outing will be held June 4 when high school pupils of Zelienople and Ford City journey to the park.

The first big picnic will be June 12, when the kiddies of Lawrence county have their first formal romp.

Members of the Eastern Star will picnic June 22, and K. of P. from Butler, Mercer, Lawrence and Beaver counties, June 24.

The Rescue Mission picnic, an annual event will be held June 25 and several other picnics are pending.

Many Visitors At Exhibition

Trade School Boys Show Parents How Work Is Done In Shops

Large numbers of parents and those interested in the work done at the New Castle trade school attended the annual exhibit of the school, which took place Thursday afternoon and evening, according to S. A. Martine, director of vocation, who goes on to state that the exhibition will again be open this evening between the hours of seven and 9:30.

The visitors went through the various departments of the school, seeing the boys doing actual work on their machines. Especially interesting was the machine shop display, which proved to be the drawing card of the evening.

Many of the visitors, declares Mr. Martine, were surprised to see a number of the boys engaged in the cabinet shops, where practically all the machines were in operation. The majority of the citizens of New Castle probably are not aware of the fact that the shops are completely equipped to handle materials from the rough to the finish.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

It is necessary for the family health to use plenty of milk in the daily meals. Not everyone cares to drink milk straight, but the cause is so worthy that the housewife may be pardoned for using strategy in getting the members of her family to take it in some form. The ham may be cooked in milk, milk puddings, etc., and cocoa, all help the family get its quota.

Today's Recipes

Creamed Spinach—Melt one tablespoon butter in sauce pan; stir in same amount of flour. When mixture begins to brown add two cups milk and stir until well cooked, then add spinach.

Sour Cream Cookies — Two cups sugar, one cup butter or substitute, four cups flour, three eggs, one and one-half cups sour cream, one and one-half teaspoons soda in cream. Cream sugar and butter until light, add eggs and mix, add cream and lastly flour. Drop on tins and bake in moderate oven. More flour can be added if they are not stiff enough.

BREAKFAST
Orange Juice
Cooked Cereal with Top Milk
Crisp Brown Bread Toast with Fresh Strawberries
Coffee or Cocoa

DINNER
Ham baked in Milk Baked Potatoes
Rhubarb Sauce
Dandelion Greens
Fruit Gelatine with Whipped Cream
Coffee

SUPPER
Creamed Spinach Boiled Eggs
Radishes Rhubarb Conserve
Milk Sour Cream Cookies

MENU HINT.

I have been trying to think of new things to serve at the bridal shower this season. And pondering anent things to eat I ran across a recipe that was new to me although it is possibly old to some of you. I am using it as the main dish for a luncheon that may be served at table or for buffet lunch. It is very good to look at as well as appetizing. Cold chicken or other meat may be served with it or sandwiches.

Eggs Latticed with Asparagus
Chicken Sandwiches or Cold Sliced Meat
Olives Radishes
Pineapple Salad
Strawberry Tarts Coffee.

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Eggs Latticed with Asparagus—Either fresh or canned asparagus may be used. Hard cook 5 eggs and halve lengthwise. Prepare two cupfuls medium white sauce with one tablespoon butter and one of flour to one cup of milk, seasoned with salt and pepper. Place a layer of sauce in the bottom of an oblong, greased baking dish, add a layer of cooked asparagus, pour over the remaining sauce and place eggs in regular straight lines. Arrange the remainder of the asparagus as a lattice between the lines of eggs. Pour a little melted butter over all and set in a hot oven to heat through. Garnish with pimento.

SUGGESTIONS.

Rack for Spices.

A white enameled rack to hold glass bottles for spices and other cooking ingredients will be found useful. It keeps out moisture and yet have them ready to use. The rack fits on the cabinet shelf and holds four small containers in the back row two a little larger, one for salt and one for pepper in the front row with a bowl or a tea caddy in the center. The spice holders have solid tops and the shakers are perforated. To go with this set there are two large round flasks held securely by specially shaped racks. The openings are wide enough to allow for the hand. One is for flour and the other for sugar. You can always see just how much flour or sugar or spices you have on hand without taking off the top.

Police Quell Vienna Riots

Mobs Of Rioters In Vienna Continue Demonstrations Against Italy

EIGHT ALLEGED LEADERS ARRESTED

(International News Service)

VIENNA, May 25.—Mobs of rioters continued their demonstrations against Italy at Innsbruck today and police were forced to take stringent measures to preserve order.

Although the tearing down of the Italian flag over the Austrian consulate there was considered a closed incident by both the Italian and Austrian governments following an apology by the Austrian district military commander, a large portion of the population continued to display its wrath against Italy.

Several times the police were forced to charge into the mobs with drawn sabres. Several persons were injured and eight alleged leaders of the demonstrations were arrested.

$35,000 Is Awarded New Castle Man

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 25.—Joseph H. McBride, locomotive engineer of New Castle, Pa., was awarded a $35,000 verdict yesterday by a jury before Judge Paul Jones in federal court in the post office building.

McBride, who had been an engineer for 25 years on the Baltimore & Ohio, was injured when the boiler of a locomotive he was running between Youngstown and Campbell exploded.

He was badly scalded by escaping steam, but jumped from the cab, landing on the other track and breaking a leg. Another train, coming the opposite direction, stopped just in time to avoid striking him.

NOT NEARLY.

The London Observer relates a story told by Miss Ellen Wilkinson M. P. concerning a small boy who came home and told his father he was now in his second class, the top being occupied by a girl.

"But surely John" said the father, "you're not going to be beaten by a mere girl?"

"Well, you see, Father" replied John "girls are not nearly so mere as they used to be."

Make Progress In Music Drive

Over 300 Memberships Are Reported; Campaign Ends Next Tuesday

MEETING ON MONDAY NIGHT FOR REPORTS

With over 300 memberships already reported, added impetus was given to the New Castle Civic Music association at a meeting of the officials and workers for the organization which took place Thursday evening at campaign headquarters, 114 North Mercer street, through the reports which were made on enrollments.

One of the features of the new Civic Music plan is the educational department, listing worthy music students who are unable to secure memberships. This department was given a good start at the meeting Thursday evening when Dr. C. J. Williamson, chairman of the organization committee gave three memberships to be used by the committee in charge of this department. One lady signed for ten memberships which were turned in by Miss Margaret Sankey and two men signed up for seven memberships each, turned in by Miss Mary Clark. Several of the captains gave reports of large enrollments.

The next meeting of all officers and co-workers in the organization will take place Monday at 12:30 p. m. in the Crystal ball room of The Castleton when all are urged to be present. The officers request that everyone working on the campaign turn in their cards each day at headquarters so that a check up on the progress of the campaign can be kept.

The campaign for members in the organization ends Tuesday night at 10 o'clock, declares Herbert Pearrs, president of the organization. No application for membership will be considered after that time, which is a ruling of the national organization in every Civic Music association city. After Tuesday evening it will be impossible to secure a membership at any price and no single admission tickets are sold at any concert. All those who care for good music and who are interested in putting New Castle on the musical map should become members of the association Mr. Pearrs asserts. Memberships can be secured, if a worker has not visited your home at campaign headquarters 114 North Mill street. Phones are 5803 and 5809.

William S. Wright manager of the campaign spoke before many of the clubs of the city Thursday afternoon and evening. His engagements for talks before various bodies will continue this afternoon and evening.

Explosion Occurrs In Mine Near Wilkes-Barre Today; Probe Under Way

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 25.—After four years spent in painting and collecting archaeological materials in Tibet and Mongolia, Professor Nicholas Roerich, the Russian painter and archaeologist, has arrived safely in Northern India with his expedition.

News of their safety came in a cablegram received at the Roerich Museum here from Professor Roerich. The cablegram was dated Sikkum, India, May 16.

No word had been heard of the expedition for a year and it was feared the entire expedition had perished.

In his cablegram, Professor Roerich said they were treated with inhuman cruelty in Tibet, five natives and ninety caravan animals dying from cold when the Tibetan government detained them with their summer equipment for five months at a time when the mercury was hovering around 40 below zero.

SLEEPING SICKNESS VICTIM IS DEAD AT CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., May 25.—The first case of sleeping sickness ever reported in Scottdale had taken its toll today in C. M. Berkey, 57, meat dealer, who died from the disease here last night after an illness of four weeks.

Dr. Butler Denies Lowden Support

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 25.—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university and a stalwart Republican, today denied that he had come out for Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois for president, asserting that he had not written an endorsement of the middle westerner as had been announced yesterday.

The statement had been issued from the office of Col. Arthur W. Little, one of the backers of Lowden. Colonel Little explained that the announcement was "a clerical error". The blame was laid upon a stenographer.

These officers were re-elected: President, Rev. William I. Good, Johnstown; vice president Rev. Dr. G. N. Lauffer, Altoona; statistical secretary, Rev. C. P. Bastian, Berlin, Pa., treasurer, Walter Miller, Altoona; and secretary, Rev. L. G. Shannon, DuBois.

College Students Are Suspended For Attending Dance

Thirty-Seven Students Of Upsala Evangelical College Are Suspended

(International News Service)

EAST ORANGE, N. Y., May 25.—Thirty-seven young men, under-graduates of Upsala college here, have been indefinitely suspended by the college authorities for attending a dance.

Three other students, who were studying for the ministry, and who accompanied the party, were severely reprimanded and allowed to continue their classes. All were members of a student organization known as the Owl club, and five of them play on the college varsity baseball team.

The Upsala college is a co-educational institution, maintained by the New York and New England conference of Evangelical Augustana Synod. Dancing is against the rules.

Students Visit Carnegie Museum

Sophomore Class Of Shenango High School Visit Museum And Zoo

Fifty members of the Sophomore class and faculty of Shenango high school made a trip to Pittsburgh on Thursday and visited the Carnegie Museum, Conservatory and Highland Zoo, the trip being made by the school buses.

The trip was planned to give the students a chance to see the exhibits of the museum and zoo as they would illustrate their courses in biology, history, geography, etc., says G. W. Johnston, principal of the high school.

Under the leadership of the four members of the faculty the day was spent mostly in the museum viewing the different exhibits, which were explained by the teachers. Various kinds of plant life were viewed in the natural state at the conservatory in Schenley Park and then a trip was made to the Zoo at Highland Park where the specimens of animal life were explained.

The trip down was made by way of the Beaver Valley and a stop was made at the Emsworth dam and lock and the method of navigation explained. Another stop was made at the Old Block House in Pittsburgh, the remaining relic of colonial Ft. Pitt. University of Pittsburgh was also visited including the football stadium and basketball floor. A visit was also made to Forbes field, the baseball diamond of the Pittsburgh team of the National League.

Mr. Johnston says that he believes the trip of great value to the students, especially those in history and biology. Nearly all kinds of plant and animal life of which they had made a study was seen, and many specimens in the natural live state. The students were accompanied by Claire B. Book, superivising principal of the township, G. W. Johnston, principal of the Shenango high school and Miss Catherine Alcorn and Miss Margaret Cowmeadow, teacher in the high school.

CITY TO IMPROVE TAYLOR STREET

Gravel To Be Material Pending Harmony's Action On Proposed Paving

"Taylor street is terrible."

That is what Councilman D. O. Davies informed colleagues during council session today.

He said it is impossible to drive an automobile in the street.

He suggested that the street be repaired.

The thoroughfare will be placed in condition by placing gravel according to Reeves.

Some time ago an ordinance providing for the paving of Taylor street was passed.

The Harmony line according to council has not done anything looking forward to the proposed improvement.

The city wanted the company to move its tracks and accept a strip of land offered but so far no action has been taken.

PURCHASE MATERIAL FOR DISPOSAL PLANT

Council today gave Clayton Reeves, head of the department of streets permission to buy sand and screenings at a cost of $929.84, which will be used at the municipal disposal plant. It is necessary to fill in places where the ground has settled and traversed by the roadway to and around the plant.

BICYCLE STOLEN

VIEW SHERIDAN AVENUE

Councilmen today will view sidewalks in Sheridan avenue, immediately west of Highland, left high due to grading and paving.

Chemical Magnate In Germany To Get Rid Of Poison Gas

Owner Of Chemical Phosgene Gas Which Caused Disaster To Suffer Heavy Loss

(International News Service)

HAMBURG, Germany, May 25.—Dr. Hugo Stolzenberg, owner of the chemical plant where a tank of phosgene (poison) war gas exploded, killing 11 persons out right and sending 250 to the hospital, announced today that he is destroying other stores of similar gas which he had on hand for industrial purposes.

Dr. Stolzenberg said he was making a heavy financial sacrifice but decided to get rid of the remaining poison gas on account of the reign of terror created by the recent explosion.

German newspapers are making a mystery of the explosion. One paper said that only three chemical firms were permitted to manufacture poison gas and Dr. Stolzenberg's concern was not among them. Dr. Stolzenberg explained this by saying that his phosgene gas had been left over from war time.

LEAVE DIRT ON LOTS

Council today decided in favor of William Bender that dirt removed during grading of Garfield avenue could be placed on low lots along the portion of the avenue graded.

The two friends reported to have "cut" Mr. McAdoo probably thought he had some more chestnuts to rake out of the fire.

Hugging Street Cars May Result In An Unexpected Tight Squeeze

Some motorists appear to delight in hugging street cars. Many of them fail to realize that the further away they keep from trolley tracks, the safer they'll be from danger. Driving too close to street cars should be avoided by motorists who value their machines and their personal welfare. It's always the motorist who gets the worst end of hanging around trolleys too much. In the above picture the motor vehicle operator might have gotten into a jam as the trolley suddenly swung around the corner.

ATWATER KENT RADIO

MODERN A.C. set

Avoid the rush—COME today!

WE'VE just received a new shipment of the famous Atwater Kent A.C. sets. We ordered them to take care of the huge demand from people who are going to follow the political campaign by radio.

Both national conventions go on the air in June. The wise thing to do—if you want to be sure of hearing everything—is to get your Atwater Kent 37 today!

Our telling you about the way the compact case shields this set, about the double shielding of the built-in power supply, or about the accuracy with which the set is made, and the 222 tests or inspections that assure its dependability, will not give you any idea of how wonderfully well this Model 37 works.

Come in and listen to it. Work it yourself. Notice how quickly and clearly stations can be selected with the FULL-VISION Dial; how eagerly the set responds every time you snap the switch on the panel and send the current through the A. C. tubes. The current is the same that lights your home (there are no batteries) and costs you only a fraction of a cent an hour for entertainment that costs millions to put on the air. Can you afford to be without this modern, perfected radio any longer, especially at this low price?

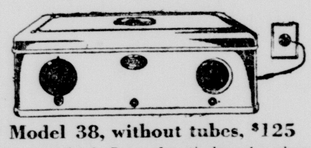
Model 37. Six-tube, FULL-VISION Dial, self-contained A. C. set. For use with 110-115 volt, 60 cycle, Alternating Current. Uses six A. C. amplifying tubes, and one rectifying tube.

CONVENIENT TERMS, TOO



Model 38, without tubes, $125

An extra powerful A. C. set of particular value where distance getting or maximum daylight reception is essential or an inside antenna is necessary. Beautiful tone quality. Generous volume. Unusual selectivity. Uses seven A. C. tubes and one rectifying tube.

Model E Radio Speaker, $24

Radio's truest voice. All parts protected against moisture. Comes in a variety of beautiful color combinations.

The Long Shots

Nomination Chances Of Coolidge And Hughes, Together With Other And Lesser Lights, Considered

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington Correspondent for Central Press and New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, May 25. — Queer things may happen at either or both of a couple of national conventions where so many conflicting interests are pulling and hauling in different directions as will be the case at Kansas City and Houston in June.

As between three or four presidential candidacies, it isn't judicious to do any very confident guessing on Kansas City yet.

The Houston favorite is easier to pick, but even favorites don't always win, especially in races that can't be won by a nose but must be decided by the wide margin of a two-thirds majority.

So it doesn't do to dismiss any recognized "possibility" too cavalierly, simply because we may personally consider him a pretty remote one. We'd feel rather silly if, after refusing to accord him the need of so much as a mere mention, we were to see him presently carrying his party's banner into the smoke and dust and bad language of the coming campaign—wouldn't we?

Let's play safe, then, and, insofar as our best judgment's to be relied on, not overlook anybody.

* * *

Senator Guy D. Goff of West Virginia and ex-Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock of Nebraska, are a pair who shouldn't be forgotten.

Guy announced his own Republican aspirations recently.

Guy is notable as perhaps the clearest, least-technically-incomprehensible speakers on legal topics in the United States senate. Radicals regard him somewhat askance, as defender-in-chief of the reputedly pretty hard-boiled West Virginia coal interests. Nevertheless, to meet casually, he's an extremely affable, nice old senator.

His looks remind me of a Brownie's. I said so once in print, and he sent an emissary to ask me, in pained tones, what I figured to gain by slurring his personal appearance. I never meant to. I consider Brownies cute and thought it was a kindly comparison.

Gilbert published the Omaha World-Herald for many years. William Jennings Bryan wrote editorials for him at one time. They fell out ultimately.

After quite a conspicuous war-time career, Gilbert retired—involuntarily.

* * *

A few people persist in speaking of William G. McAdoo as a Democratic presidential candidate.

He is, in a sense—by proxy—Senator Tom Walsh being his proxy.

But Walsh ran a poor third among the Democratic aspirants in California, Al Smith having things his own way.

On the strength of the licking he administered to his rivals in Illinois, Senator Charles S. Deneen's referred to occasionally as a Kansas City "dark horse".

If ever anything seemed improbable, this does.

First Lowden! If he blows up—then Dawes! Thirdly—if Dawes fizzles—Deneen!

A trifle too much of the Sucker state!

If Hoover should be nominated, or Cal or Charles Evans Hughes should be drafted—then Deneen might be imaginable for vice presidential honors—but he certainly wouldn't do even for second place on a Lowden or a Dawes ticket.

Think of the selection of both presidential and vice presidential candidates from the same state, by the same party!

As for Hughes—his name's about as hard as Coolidge's to erase from the Kansas City list.

In fact, good judges don't consider him out of the real reckoning, by any means. The same Republican diehards who have it in mind to draft Hughes as their second choice, if Coolidge proves absolutely hopeless.

The idea's this—

If Coolidge will run, it's a cinch he can be nominated.

If Coolidge won't run, and Hughes can be prevailed on to consent, it's almost as much of a cinch that he can be nominated.

In these two instances the "fixers" don't doubt their ability to swing the convention. All they're afraid of is that they won't be able to deliver either of the candidates.

Alben W. Barkley's time hasn't come yet, except perhaps as a long shot for the Democratic vice presidential nomination. Nevertheless, Kentucky boosters in his behalf, for first place, have been heard from, now and again, ever since he beat Richard P. Ernst for the senate a year and a half ago.

He's a liberal chap, stands mighty well with "labor", and one of these days, when a good dry's wanted, from not too far south, he'll be available. Only 51, he can afford to wait awhile.

Massachusetts Republicans don't want Governor Alvan T. Fuller missed. Even if he is from the president's state, the betting on him isn't apt to be very heavy at Kansas City, except possibly, as with Barkley, as a bare vice presidential chance. His record is that he wouldn't pardon Sacco and Vanzetti, which probably is just as good as President Coolidge's police strike was in 1920.

Governor Dan Moody of Texas? He's been faintly mentioned—by drys. He's another who might have figured in the vice presidential list—until Jesse H. Jones copped the Democratic convention for Houston. Now, if it's any Texan, it'll be Jesse.

Woman Farmer Posed As Man For 60 Years

(International News Service)

IOWA CITY, Iowa, May 25.—Sitxy years ago Mary Miller then eighteen years old, decided a woman did not have a fair chance in life because of her sex. She was living in Chicago at the time, having come there from Berlin, Germany with her parents. The idea was not new to a woman, but Miss Miller looked about to see what she could do to remedy matters.

The conclusion of her deliberations upon the age-old sociological problems was that she must either submit to the view that a woman's place was in the home or change her sex. She choose the latter and for sixty years she was known as George Miller.

The masquerade was torn away at Mercy Hospital here when "George Miller," a farmhand, was brought in suffering from influenza.

Return To Trousers

Now that Miss Miller is recovering she declares she will return to her habits of more than half a century when she is discharged from the hospital.

"I intend to dress as I have done so for many years," she told hospital attaches. "I'm used to hard work and labor. I've worked side by side with men in many capacities which would have been denied to a woman. I don't know anything else, and I intend to go back to the old life."

Since the time Miss Miller donned a mans' clothes and set out into the world she has worked at many occupations, she says.

"I've worked on the trapezes of various circuses, labored with railroad construction gangs, worked as a railroad detective, been a bouncer in a saloon and in some years I've just been a boomer," she declared.

Enjoyed Life

"I learned to smoke and to drink with men, and I found out I couldn't work with rough tough men without doing a bit of cussing, so I picked that up, too. It was a hard life at times, but I never asked quarter from it and I don't know anything else. All I ask now is that I may return to it when I'm able to leave this hospital.

As she talked Mary Miller reached under her pillow and hauled forth an old tobacco pouch and a blackened corncob pipe. She poured the tobacco into the bowl, packed it down expertly and applied a match. As the blue smoke curled about her bed she spoke a word or two of her opinions on the modern flapper.

"The trouble with them is they want to do things differently but they won't know how. They want to get away from life as they find it, but few of our sex really ever get away. I'm glad I did. I've enjoyed life."

Jazz Downfall To Come About Through Radio

By FRANCIS ARMSTRONG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, May 25—Radio, the ugly duckling of the muisc family, will prove the downfall of jazz, according to Walter Damrosch, veteran orchestra conductor.

The secret of the doom of jazz, Damrosch believes, is in making classical music, played by the best orchestra in the country avaible to the general public.

In radio the conductor of the New York symphoney sees the medium for making classical music avaible to millions, thus showing the public that jazz is "nothing more than a recurring rhythm."

"Jazz, after all, is a monotony with only a constant repitition of one very limited theme that by itself would beultimate of bedroom," Damrosch told a national conference of school music supervisors here.

Bad Over Radio

"Jazz is as bad over the radio as it is in any other fashion, perhaps worse."

"But radio is coming out of its trance. More worthwhile music is going on the air constantly, and I see great good in it."

"The soothing, elevating influence of good music must be appreciated. One who has never known a thing which is desirable cannot want it, but knowing it once he will demand it.

"I hope that will be the history of music and the radio."

Radio, Damrosch is inclined to believe, will prove one of the greatest influences ever felt for refining the emotions of the world. He sees it as an antidote for shallow appreciation, for senses overfed with cheapness, for the "riot of modernism that is engulfing the art sense of the public."

Already a limited amount of good music is being brought to the outlying districts, Damrosch points out, and results already are noticable by the increasing public interest in programs of classic muisc.

The New York Symphony is planing a series of concerts to be broadcast over the radio next winter, according to the leader, and by that time he excepts the public to be in even more receptive mood.

Several nationally prominent musicians have announced themselves in favor of radio, but Damrosch is the first to see it unqualifiedly as the medium to life the American public from its "misguided" love of jazz rhythm.

Dance Music

Classic music, it is contended, does not become popular until the public is familiar with the intricate airs and movements involed. Jazz, on the other hand, has a very elemental theme. The public can listen to a jazz piece and remember it and whistle it immediately.

Persons buying phonograph music, musicians point out, spend most of their money on "dance music." Good music is too difficult to produce, except by large musical organizations.

The combination of these two facts results in a dearth of classics.

But with the more complicated forms of music broadcast through them popular, Damrosch is certain the musical taste of the American public will approve quickly; to spell the doom of jazz.

LEESBURG

A surprise party was held in honor of Jack Armstrong at his home Tuesday evening. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Johnson and children Marion Jean and Dale, Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis and family, Miss Lula Armstrong and John Woods of Mercer.

About 70 attended the annual mothers and daughters banquet held last Wednesday evening. Color tones of red and white were effectively carried out in the appointments and the banquet was served by the Dorcas class. Jonquils marked the places for each guest. The daughters furnished the following program: Song, Faith of Our Mothers; prayer, Mrs. T. J. Armstrong; welcome, Leona Hedrick; duet, Charlotte Mayberry and Vivian Orr; Reading, Helen Galloway; solo, Mae Stone; songalogue, "Your Mother and Mine"; solo, Alwilda Yeager; song, The Letter Edged in Black. Mrs. Harry Hunter conducted the Friendship circle with Mrs. Margaret Hunter leading the song "Blest Be The Tie That Binds," and the daughters sang "Abide With Me" followed by the Lord's Prayer.

Miss Elizabeth Oakes, Miss Lula Armstrong, Henry Zimmerman and Gerald Palmer attended the junior-senior banquet at Mercer last Friday evening.

County Agent Tells When To Feed Grain

Pasturing Cows Should Have Special Care In Spring, Declares McCulloch

When cows are first turned on pasture, grain should be fed at the same rate as when the cows are on dry feed, County Agent H. R. McCulloch declares.

Home grown grains, such as corn and oats, can form the bulk of the grain mixture for supplementing early pasture feeding. Circular 111, "Feeding the Dairy Cow," contains the recommended rations.

As the pasture becomes more abundant and mature, grain may be withheld from Jerseys and Guerseys giving less than 20 pounds of milk a day and from Holsteins and Ayrshires giving less than 25 pounds of milk daily, if they are to freshen in the fall. If they do not freshen until spring, a small amount of grain may be fed.

"For cows producing more than 25 pounds of milk daily, feed one pound of grain for every five or six pounds of milk produced daily by Jerseys and Guernseys and one pound of grain for every six or seven pounds of milk given daily by other breeds. Cows producing a large amount of milk need special care," concludes the county agent.

WOMAN FAINTS AS HUSBAND IS SENTENCED

YOUNGSTOWN, May 25.—The courtroom of Judge J. H. Lyon was thrown into a turmoil when a woman claiming to be the wife of W. G. Nash, Valparasio, Ind., fainted as the man was sentenced to serve three years in the Ohio penitentiary for obtaining money under false pretenses. Nash, said to be a graduate in medicine of the University of Valparaiso, was charged with selling grape juice to women claiming it would shortly afterward turn into wine. He pleaded guilty.

Firemen Will Have Vacations

Period Of Vacations Will Start In June; Lasts To October

WILL NEED SOME TEMPORARY MEN

Vacation period for the firemen of the city starts June 1. It will continue until October 1, it requiring that period of time for all the firemen of the city to enjoy a vacation of two weeks.

In order that the men may start on their vacations, it will necessitate within the next few days, the appointment by council of additional men to work while men of the department are on their vacations.

Indications are that a recommendation to this effect will be made by Fire Chief Charles Lynn in the next few days, so that members of the fire department may start on their vacations on scheduled time.

New Castle Girl Receives Diploma

Miss Genevieve Blair Graduates At Presbyterian Hospital, Philadelphia

Miss Genevieve E. Blair, New Castle, was among the twenty-five graduates of the Nurses Training School of the Presbyterian hospital, Philadelphia, who received their diplomas at the commencement exercises held in Princeton Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, last night. The Presbyterian hospital is a member of the Welfare Federation of Philadelphia, which is composed of 128 social service agencies, spending upwards of $10,500,000 a year for charity.

Dr. Joseph C. Doane, president of the American Hospital association made the principal address and Henry N. Paul, president of the board of trustees of the Presbyterian hospital, presented the diplomas and training school pins. Prizes also were distributed among the graduates.

Revival To Close At Second Baptist

The revival services that have been in progress in the Second Baptist church for ten days will close this evening. Dr. A. J. Payne who has been preaching each evening has proven himself a man equal to the task. His sermons have been inspiring, forceful and uplifting.

The services were well attended. The congregation appreciated the work of Dr. Payne so much that he has been asked to return in October and conduct the fall meeting.

The ordinance of baptism will be administered on Sunday evening. All new members will receive the hand of fellowship on Sunday, June 3.

SHATTERED STATUE IS AGAIN PLACED

MT. PLEASANT, Pa., May 25.—This town again takes pride in its "doughboy statue", erected on Memorial Day last year, to the memory of the town's World war dead. The restoration of the statue in the Diamond, where it had been knocked down and shattered by a motorist in the fog, several months ago, was completed yesterday. The granite base was redressed and a new statue secured to cap it.

ARE YOU LIKE J. WHITE ALL "DRAGGED OUT?"

Every day some grateful man or woman writes us about what World's Catarrh Treatment has done for him or her.

Here's the case of Mr. J. White, living at 321 Adam Street, Farrell, Pa. His condition is typical of a lot of you. He got up in the morning tired out—his mouth tasted bad and he had to force himself to go to work. After work he was all in—just dragged around. Doctors didn't help him. A dozen remedies failed.

He didn't know what was the matter, but when our demonstrator saw him it was evident he was full of catarrh. Catarrh means stagnation. His stomach didn't work right; his digestion didn't give him the elements he needed to be full of pep. The membranes lining his stomach and bowels are full of congestion—just stagnating.

A single bottle of World's Catarrh treatment started him improving. Things began to clear up. Now Mr. White writes us:

"The change is wonderful. Three bottles of World's Catarrh Remedy have made me a new man. I get up lively, ready for anything. My day's work doesn't tire me out, and after it I am full of energy and enjoy every minute."

Why should you drag around half dead when this wonderful treatment may be had? Get started on it today. You can get World's Catarrh Remedy at Paisley's, McKee's Kut Rate Store, Smith's, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. and all other first class druggists. (275)

Name Teachers At North Liberty

School Tax Millage Is Raised For Mercer County School District Near Plaingrove

(Special To The News)

NORTH LIBERTY, May 25.—At a meeting of the school board held on May 21, Edna Kaltenbaugh, a local girl was elected to teach the Amsterdam school. Miss Kaltenbaugh is a graduate of Slippery Rock State Teachers College and taught last year near Greenville. She comes well recommended by her last year's employers.

Other teachers elected at a former meeting are Miss Nettie McMillan of Johnstown, Pa., for the North Liberty school and Miss Lucile Cornelius of Pine township for the Smith school. The teacher has not been elected for the McKnight school and it is not yet decided whether an attempt will be made to re-open the Courtney school.

The tax millage was set at eighteen mills, an increase over last year of one and one-half mills. This increase is made necessary largely on account of the increased amount expended for outside high school tuition, the budget estimate for the coming term for this purpose being $2500.

NORTH LIBERT NOTES

Miss Dora Clay of Pardoe was the over-night guest of her schoolmate, Margaret Patterson on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Brennemen and daughter Ethel enjoyed a week-end trip to Titusville, Franklin and Oil City.

Mr. and Mrs. David Bell were at Harlansburg on Tuesday attending the funeral of the latter's mother, Mrs. Laura Strawhecker.

Mrs. Edna Caldwell is in Grove City caring for Mrs. Raymond Walters.

Mrs. Thos. Rumbaugh of Grove City was a caller at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Patterson last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fair and Mr. and Mrs. Briggs of Sharon were callers at T. A. George's Tuesday evening.

A reception was held at the church Friday evening in honor of our new pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Van Cleve. A short program was carried out, Mrs. T. A. George presiding. Mr. Frank Barber brought greetings from the Session. Clifford Patterson spoke for the trustees. Lloyd Moore for the children, Mae Cooper for the Christian Endeavor and Everett Moore for the Sunday school. Mrs. R. L. Buxton in a few well chosen words presented a purse of money to Rev. and Mrs. Van Cleve, a gift from the congregation to the newly-weds. Both Rev. and Mrs. Van Cleve thanked the people not only for the gift but also for the manner in which the parsonage had been prepared for their coming. Rev. and Mrs. Dickenson of Plaingrove were present and Rev. Dickenson added much to the program by his humorous remarks. A nice lunch was served by the ladies of the church.

Sunday visitors at D. E. Stevenson's were Arthur Stevenson of Sharon, George of Youngstown, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Stevenson of New Kensington, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson and family of Greenville.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Canton, O., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cooper the last of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Coutts of Pittsburgh visited at G. H. Seth's over the week-end.

Mrs. Everett Moore has been quite ill with flu or grippe. Mary and Hazel who have been sick for the last two weeks are some better.

Mrs. Dorcas Thompson who has been staying with her daughter Mrs. D. E. Stevenson since last October, has gone to spend some time with her daughter Mrs. D. N. Gilson of Balm.

The funeral services of Mr. Daniel Boozel were held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the home of his daughter Mrs. Earl Thompson. Rev. Van Cleve of this place and Rev. S. C. Elder of Jackson Center officiated. Mr. Boozel was born and lived in Plaingrove township the greater part of his life, but has lived here for 15 years. He is survived by three sisters and one brother, three sons and three daughters. Interment was made in the Plaingrove cemetery.

Ruth McGarr of Grove City visited her school friend Helen Brennemen over the week end.

J. B. Campbell has been called to serve on the Federal jury which meets in Pittsburgh the first week of June.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson of Grove City visited their friends Mr. and Mrs. James Kildoo last week and attended the reception at the church Friday night.

Rev. Van Cleve was at Beaver Falls conducting a funeral on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Spanglehour visited their daughter Helen at the Mercer hospital Wednesday.

Mrs. Mary Martin who spent the winter in Franklin, has come here to stay with her daughter Mrs. John Dight this summer.

Clarence Scannell was a Pittsburgh visitor Saturday.

Mrs. Florence Uber is serving on the jury at Mercer this week.

The Women's Missionary Society met in the church Tuesday evening, Mrs. T. A. George leader. Mrs. Eva Campbell read a paper on Brazil after which Mrs. Dickenson of Plaingrove gave a report of the first day's meeting of the Presbyterial at Mars.

Irene Caldwell sang a special selection: "The Whole Wide World for Jesus," then Mrs. Jay McCune of Plaingrove gave a report of the second day of the Presbyterial. The reports were very interesting and a vote of thanks was given the ladies from Plaingrove. The committee with Mrs. O. J. Glenn chairman served a delicious lunch.

Lois and Dorothy Gustafson who have been attending school in Munhall, have come to Liberty to spend the summer with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Scannel.

Jury Gives $2500 To Man Bitten By Dog

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 25.—For a dog bite in his leg, William J. Mossinger received $2500, by order of a jury in the Municipal Court before Judge MacNeille. The sum, however, was $7,500 less than damages awarded him at a previous trial a year ago. The new trial, held yesterday was granted on technical grounds.

The jury rendered its verdict after its members were told by the Judge that, under law, it is recognized as the privilege of a dog to take one bite before it can be called vicious. "It is only where a dog persists in picking delicate morsels from the human anatomy that the law takes cognizance of the fact and holds its owner responsible," he said. Ethel Levy, who operates a drug store at Eighth and Poplar streets, and her two daughters, joint owners of the dog, were ordered to pay the bill.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Present Play In Christian Church

Performance Will Be Repeated Tonight; Other News Of Seventh Ward

"Clubbing a Husband" a comedy in three acts was presented Thursday evening in the Madison avenue Christian church. The auditorium was well filled with people to see the performance. The play was well presented and there was some good comedy and was given under the auspices of the Ladies Missionary society of the church.

The story begins when Mrs. Ashton a promotor of Women's clubs and her overgrown daughter arrives from Boston to visit her sister and proceeds to start a club to promote feminine independence among the society women of the small town. Insisting that the Irish wash-lady, if you please, and the colored cook also join the club. The first two scenes are in the living room of Mrs. Newman's home where Mrs. Ashton is visiting.

The scene for the third act is in the office of Dr. Georgiana Jordan, a spinister feminist who is very much in favor of the club. The sudden illness of one of the husbands, the Boston lady receives orders from her husband to return home and the receiving of a love letter by the spinister doctor puts an end to the organizing of the club.

There is a good comedy throughout furnished by the Irish wash-lady who was very good and the colored cook. The overgrown girl also kept things lively. All parts were taken well. The play was directed by Mrs. Helen Wilkins. The play will be repeated again this evening. The characters:

Mrs. Blanche Newman, a bride—Mrs. Florence Kelly.

Mrs. Henrietta Ashton, her sister from Boston—Mrs. Mae Bumbaugh.

Bridget O'Flanagan, a wash lady—Mrs. Anna Bumbaugh.

Mrs. Ottaway, an old grandmother of the past—Mrs. Adda Robinson.

Mrs. Ferris, her daughter—Mrs. Flora Houk.

Dr. Georgiana Jordan, a spinister feminist—Mrs. Sara Clark.

Mrs. Whitney, inclined to be jealouh—Mrs. Florence Beach.

Mrs. Reynolds, something of a bargain hunter—Mrs. Bonnie Amon.

Mrs. Harry Hudson, inclined to be nervous—Mrs. Alice Bevan.

Mrs. Skylark, a woman of ideals—Mrs. Agnes McHattie.

Preceding the performance and between acts there was selections by the Bible school orchestra of the church.

Seven Miners Are Burned In Blast

POTTSVILLE, Pa., May 25.—Seven miners were in a hospital here today, suffering from burns received when they were caught in a gas explosion at the Repplier colliery near here yesterday.

Three of the men were so seriously burned they will probably die.

Guest Cards To Be Available

Members Of Civic Music Association Can Take House Guests

MEMBERSHIPS TO BE TRANSFERABLE

For those members of the Civic Music association who are entertaining guests on the evenings when concerts will be presented next fall and winter guest cards can be obtained at a nominal fee, declares Herbert Pears, manager of the Scottish Rite Cathedral and president of the Civic Music association.

These cards Mr. Pears continues must bear the name and address of the guest. Out of town, says Mr. Pears, has been defined as out of Lawrence county as the local organization is assuming county wide proportions.

A membership in any club or organization is not transferable, Mr. Pears goes on. Nevertheless, Civic Music association membership cards may be transferred. It is requested that the transfer be confined to the family or to one who was unable to join the association at the time of the campaign for legitimate reasons.

Anyone who moves away from the city between the time of signing membership cards and the beginning of the concert season may sell their membership to some one on the waiting list, using the Civic Music association executive committee as a clearing house. Teachers who are still uncertain of their return are guaranteed the transfer of their membership and money refunded if they leave the city.

Because cards might be lost during the summer months permanent membership cards will be mailed or delivered to each member at least two weeks prior to the opening concert. These cards are to be shown at the door of the auditorium for admission to all concerts sponsored by the organization. In many cases single men and women take two or more cards in their own names so that they can take different guests when they choose.

The $5.00 or $3.50 if the the prospective member is a student, is required with each application card.

School Clubs Have Display

Exhibition Of Work Is Presented At Ben Franklin On Thursday

EXHIBITS COVER LARGE VARIETY

A fine exhibition of the work done by the different clubs of the Benjamin Franklin Junior High school was evident in the lobby of the school Thursday afternoon and evening.

The exhibition was arranged under the supervision of the Committee on Clubs, composed of Miss Edythe Dunlap, Miss Agnes Girvin and Miss Elizabeth Byler.

Among the interesting exhibits were the bird nests of the Bird Club of Mrs. Maldoon, the charts of Miss Maude Young's Nature Study Club, picture study books of Picture Study Club sponsored by Miss Oliva Griffiths and Miss Annetta Dodd, candies of Miss Mildred Gress's Franklin Sweet Shop, biscuits made by the Boys' Cooking Club, the beaded bags of leather and felt by Miss Minnie Edelstein's Handicraft Club, posters of W. K. Sunderland's Commercial Poster Club, handmade soap and handmade iron of D. R. Paciopo's General Science Club and the scrap books of Miss Ethel Rose's Travel Club, embroider work of Miss Arletta Drew's Sewing Club.

Not only the school children enjoyed the exhibit but many of the visitors to the Trade School exhibition also made the club exhibit a part of their itinerary.

Woman Finds Young Robins In Mailbox

OIL CITY, May 25.—Most people are not surprised to find a number of bills in their mail box but a High street resident has some very unusual bills in her mail box—or rather they are beaks. During her prolonged absence a mother robin selected the box for its nesting place and constructed a strong home there. The woman found three young birds in the mail box with their bills opened to the widest extent for something to eat.

A Parable Of Judgment

Brass Tacks On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

The Parable of the Wicked Husbandmen is another incident of that eventful teaching, Tuesday, of our Lord's last week. It is the most severe parable of judgment ever spoken of him.

God's Spiritual Vineyard.

Christ's idea of picturing Israel as a vineyard was in no sense original with him. Nearly 800 years before the prophet Isaiah had sung his vineyard song embodying the same idea: "My well-beloved hath a vineyard in a very fruitful hill: and he fenced it and gathered out the stones thereof, and planted it with the choicest vine, and built a tower in the midst of it, and also made a winepress therein: and he looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it brought forth wild grapes." What a disappointment God's spiritual vineyard was in those days of the prophets! Isaiah sums up the nation's attitude to the ministry of all the prophets when he says, "Who hath believed our report?"

The Disappointing Vintage.

This disappointing vintage of sour grapes Jesus refers to when he says in this parable, "At the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard. And they caught him, and beat him and sent him away empty. And again he sent unto them another servant: and at him they cast stones, and wounded him in the head, and sent him away shamefully handled. And again he sent another: and him they killed, and many others: beating some and killing some." These scorching words are more than parable. They are the simple record of matter-of-fact history of that people's attitude towards their own prophets from Elijah's time to that of John the Baptist. What a record of perversity on the people's part, and of patience on God's part! This was his forgiving, not seven times, but 70 times seven.

The Appeal of the Son.

The utmost of divine love was expressed in his sending his only begotten Son to receive the homage for which the divine heart yearned. This Jesus expressed in the parable, saying, "Having yet therefore one son, his well beloved, he sent him also last unto them, saying, they will reverence my son. But those husbandmen said among themselves, This is the heir: come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours. And they took him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard." Three days later this prophesy of the parable was fulfilled in the events of Calvary and the cross. God's appeal through the ministry of his son had failed. Sin had reached its utmost. The nation rejected its true King and crucified him as a malefactor.

The Blight of Fruitlessness.

Having finished the parable, Jesus asked the people, "What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do unto those husbandmen?" And the people answered, "He will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others." And history tells how God did this very thing in the fearful siege and destruction of Jerusalem by the Roman general, Titus, in the year 70 A. D.

History Repeats Itself.

But let this parable and this history be our warning. In both nature and grace God ordains that the unused power suffers atrophy and disappears. God removes the candlestick of the church that gives no light. Privilege spells responsibility. Barrenness is blasted with blight. Christ says to us today, "I am the vine, ye are the branches . . . Every branch that beareth not fruit he taketh away."

(The international uniform lesson for May 27 is Mark 12:1-12, the subject being: "The Wicked Husbandmen," and the Golden Text, Psalm 1:6, "The Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall perish.")

Vegetarian Bull Dog Eats Fruit And Toast; Is Fond Of Olive Oil

LONDON, May 25.—The story of a large bull-dog that has been reared on a strict vegetarian basis during the three years of its life is reported by the owner, Edwin R. Miller, a member of the London Vegetarian Society.

He says it is a good watchdog and has a pronounced dislike for postmen and policemen and other people in uniform, but it never attacks other dogs, although its two brothers, reared on an ordinary meat diet, both had particularly bad reputations in this respect.

Morning meal, toatsted wholemeal bread.

Iowa Explains Its Surplus Of Widows; Count Few Murders

(International News Service)

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 25.—Although there are twice as many widows in Iowa as widowers, there is no occasion for husbands to shudder and fear an untimely end at the hands of their better halves, because the great difference is not brought about in this state through "shooting wives." Or at least Dr. Henry Albert state health commissioner, says that isn't the reason.

"The reason widows outnumber widowers are all natural ones," Dr. Albert said. "We don't have many cases out here where the wives are handy with guns. The fad hasn't extended this far yet."

Included in Dr. Albert's reasons for the presence in the state of 81,133 widows as against 39,608 widowers is the fact that most men marry women who are younger and therefore, it is natural for them, under the law of averages, to die earlier.

"Then, too, we must consider the fact that thousands of men are employed at dangerous work and that many are killed at their work," the health commissioner said. "There is very little danger of a housewife meeting death while running the vacuum sweeper or opening a can of beans, but her husband, who works in a mill or a manufacturing plant, may be more or less in constant danger.

"Then, too, there is the danger of traffic accidents. The husband ordinally makes many more trips away from his home than does his wife, and is therefore more often in danger of being rundown than she."

These are the more important items listed by Dr. Albert as causes for the higher rates of widowhood.

Tomorrow's Gasoline

—it's here TODAY

YEARS of research, experimentation and test have preceded this announcement. . . . Atlantic now offers you an extraordinary new type gasoline. . . . A gasoline that is positively unique among motor fuels. . . .

An all-petroleum gasoline that not only possesses the "knockless" feature so much desired today, but one that also embodies every other important motor fuel essential:

Remarkable ease in starting—amazingly quick pick-up —smooth, carbonless, complete combustion—extra power and greater mileage . . . you get all these qualities to a fuller degree than in any gasoline with which you have been acquainted in the past, whether Atlantic or any other brand.

It is now available at all Atlantic pumps and service stations. There's one on the road you are traveling.

USES ELECTRICITY TO RAISE PIGS

Leroy H. Thompson, of Cedar Falls, Ia., steps forward to claim a few records in pig raising. One of his Duroc Jersey sows has produced 94 pigs in three years. He also claims a record for success in raising nearly 100 per cent of all pigs produced, attributing his success to an electric pig warmer on which he has obtained a patent. The little pigs are taught to huddle around the pig warmer instead of their mother, thus eliminating the casualties caused by the mother lying on the youngsters. Thompson is shown above with invention.

Much Feared Gunman Meets Death

Patrick Mitchell (upper inset), better known in New York's underworld as "The Lynx," met his death as he had lived. He was lured to a rendezvous by telephone by the promise of information which would give him something on a certain speakeasy. "The Lynx" was ever on the lookout for any leads which gave him a hold which he could use to draw graft from his victim and fell for the trap. He arrived at the speakeasy and was seized by five of his enemies. He was given one minute to pray. The timekeeper tolled the fatal minutes. Five guns were ready at "The Lynx's" head. Sixty—the guns belched and "The Lynx" fell dead.

Coal Industry May Be Revolutionized By Brand New Idea

Consolidation Coal Company Has Plan To Curtail Overproduction

New Policy Will Be To Close Non-Paying Mines And Concentrate On Sound Mines

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 25.—What coal men describe as "a pioneer step" in solving conditions of overproduction, price-cutting and other evils of the bituminous industry, has been taken by the Consolidation Coal Company, of which John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is a heavy stockholder. He owns 71 per cent of the preferred stock, 27 per cent of the common.

The newly elected president of the company, George J. Anderson, recently sent an announcement of policy to other coal producers and, it was announced today, a wide response has been received from the industry, many other operators indicating their intention to follow it.

Wages should not be cut, nor prices either, and some of the less efficient mines should be closed, in Anderson's opinion. His communication to the industry said in part:

"The Consolidation Coal Company believes that the present plight of the bituminous coal industry will not be remedied by forcing unwanted coal upon an unwilling market. It sees no relief, either to the industry or to any producing company by cutting prices below a level that permits a mine to remain in production with its natural overhead unabsorbed in its average realization."

"The Consolidation Coal Company believes that no present useful purpose nor any contribution to future stability is to be gained by further cutting wages below a sound economic level. Whatever may be the temporary relation of labor costs to selling prices. It holds that the primary object of both mine labor and mine management must be the most regular work—time possible under a proper wage base.

To Close Several Mines.

"Holding, as it does, these beliefs, the company is attempting to bring both its marketing and operating policies into line with what it conceives to be a constructive economic basis to that end it is closing for an indefinite period some of the less efficient mines, and consequently must dispense with a considerable number of valued and loyal employes."

It is understood that ten mines are being shut down, four in the Somerset coal fields of Pennsylvania and six in the Fairmont field, West Virginia. The Consolidation Coal Company operates in four principle coal regions, in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky and Maryland.

Anderson's statement was addressed "to our fellow coal producers who believe with us that efficient men should be retained in the industry and inefficient mines should be eliminated from production."

Robbers Enter Central Laundry

Get Small Amount Of Change From Cash Register For Their Efforts

Entrance was gained last night to the Central Laundry on South Croton avenue, and a small amount of money secured.

Gaining admittance to the office of the Laundry, the thieves took about $2 in change in the cash register. Nothing else of value was found missing.

Members of the Military company of Oscar L. Jackson Camp No. 249, Sons of Union Veterans will meet this evening at 7 o'clock at the city building hall of the camp for the purpose of drilling. Drill will be held on Neshannock avenue and every member of the company is expected to be out. Uniforms will not be required at this time.

Members of Oscar L. Jackson Camp No. 249, both civilian and military branches of the organization, are requested to be at the Sons of Union Veterans hall in the city building at 6 o'clock Sunday evening for the purpose of taking part in the Sunday evening services at the Neshannock creek and in the Epworth M. E. church.

Erie Gets Permit To Erect Bridge Near Pulaski

(From News Bureau) (State Capital)

HARRISBURG, May 25.—The water and power resources board has approved an application of the Erie Railroad Company to build a bridge over an unnamed stream in Lawrence county. The bridge is to be located about three miles south of Pulaski station, in Pulaski township.

Mother Of Eighteen Gives Her Views On Large Family

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 25.—Above the clamor of conflicting opinions, some condemning Mrs. Ethel Cromwell, of Bridgeport, for refusing to bear more than thirteen children and others denouncing her husband for insisting on more, today rose the quiet voice of a woman who has borne eighteen children and who would welcome more if they came.

Mrs. Mary C. Bolster, mother of New York's largest family, gave her views on the case as she stood in the backyard of her home in the Bronx, scattering corn to a flock of chickens and keeping an eye on a dozen or so of her children playing on the lawn.

"It's all wrong—all wrong to blame either the husband or the wife," she said. "Society is to blame, and nobody else.

"Why didn't society step in years ago, when Mrs. Cromwell was bearing her earlier children and they were dying—possibly because of the mother's physical condition?"

Community Chest Total Rising Daily With $22,875 Reported In Fund To Date

Only Today And Tomorrow To Reach Desired Goal Of $41,450

J. J. McLaughlin Gives Fine Talk On Chest Drive Conditions Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, May 25.—The total subscribed in the 1928 Community Chest campaign to date is announced as $22,875.90.

This includes the following subscriptions which were turned in yesterday: North American Water Works Corp., $200; S. S. Pearson of New Castle, $100; school employes, $367; Elks, $25; Tidioute Refining company, $50; Dr. B. M. Lawther, $25; Standard Engineering company employes and personal, $2,258.50.

There were many smaller contributions which helped to bring up the total nearer the desired goal. There is only today and tomorrow to reach that goal, but many contributions are not in as yet.

J. J. McLaughlin gave another of his fine addresses Thursday evening on the Chest platform in front of the Central school building. He explained the workings of a chest campaign and had a most interesting message for the large crowd that had gathered to hear him. A musical program of popular songs on a concertina was given by Mike Prestopine and very much enjoyed.

Tonight J. I. Porter will give an address and W. F. Kegel, chairman of the publicity committee, will give a cartoon talk.

Knights To Witness Sublime Degrees Conferred Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, May 25.—Word has been received here by the local Knights of Pythias that the New Castle lodge will confer the sublime degree of Red Cross on a large class of candidates Saturday evening. All Red Cross knights of the local lodge are invited to be present. There will be a large class of candidates from Mercer and Lawrence counties.

Several of the local knights are on the degree team, which is said to be one of the finest in the state. A large crowd is expected and the meeting will close with the serving of refreshments.

Banquet At Church Is Most Successful

ELLWOOD CITY, May 25. — One hundred mothers and daughters of the Bell Memorial church enjoyed their annual banquet Thursday evening, in the church dining room.

Mervin Cunningham, as master of ceremonies introduced the various members on the most interesting program as follows: Toast to Mothers, Miss Sara Wade; Response, Mrs. John King. Recitation "Mother" Miss Mildred Houk; Address "Mothers and Daughters" by Rev. A. M. Stevenson, a very interesting message dealing with the many phases of the relationship of mothers and daughters and very much enjoyed; Recitation "Mother" by Rosemary McCandless, with musical accompaniment by her sister Miss Marian McCandless; and a vocal solo by Miss Roma Clyde. The menu was prepared by members of Class 17 and served by the young men of the church.

Women Hear Talks On South Mexico

ELLWOOD CITY, May 25.—Members of the Womens Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church enjoyed a program Thursday evening on "Mexico."

Mrs. Lewis Nickum and her group had charge, and papers were read by Mrs. Thomas Haines, Mrs. Carrie McKim, Mrs. Kimes and Mrs. R. B. Streeter.

Interesting reports of the recent Presbytery at Sharon were given by Mrs. Joseph Moorhead and Mrs. A. M. Stevenson. The musical portion of the program was handled by Mrs. Furness, who sang several pleasing selections, accompanied at the piano by Miss Marjorie Streeter. Mrs. Lewis Nickum reported on the hospital work, stating that three dozen baby dresses were being made as a donation to the local hospital.

Kiwanians Enjoy Musical Program

ELLWOOD CITY, May 25.—Thirty-eight members of the local Kiwanis club enjoyed a musical program at the Trinity Lutheran church Thursday night the occasion being their weekly dinner-meeting.

Most musical educators claim that one should get a crowd together and sing at least once a week for the betterment of the personal feelings and the entire community. Three visitors were present from the Beaver Valley.

Jannings' Critic

"Love me, love my dog," demands Emil Jannings. He asks that all rules regarding admittance of pet dogs to studios be waived in the case of Chow. He insists that the dog be allowed to act and to criticise his technique. When Chow barks the actor feels he is hearing from his severest critic.

Sief Smiley Dies On Thursday In Fall From Girder

Steel Worker Falls From Building Girder In Youngstown, Ohio, Yesterday

ELLWOOD CITY, May 25. — Sief Smiley, aged 56, a steel worker, met his death accidentally Thursday in Youngstown, falling from the building on which he was working on steel girders. Death came almost instantly. He is a resident of Spring Stop. The remains were brought here today, and funeral plans are for Sunday afternoon in the Slippery Rock cemetery.

The deceased is survived by his widow Lilian Newton Smiley, and four children. He has lived in this vicinity for many years, and his friends deeply feel the shock of his sudden demise.

Rotarians Hear Of Civil War Battles

Also Hear Of World War By Veteran Who Saw Much Active Service In France

ELLWOOD CITY, May 25.—Members of the Rotary club enjoyed a purly patriotic meeting Thursday evening at their regular weekly dinner-session in the dining room of the First Presyterian church.

The first speaker was a Civil war veteran, Thomas D. Wilson of this vicinity, near Wampum, who gave an interesting account of how he enlisted in the old army and fought his battles under severe handicaps. He could recall many old-timers, since gone, who went from this community. Clem Hayes, a veteran of the World war, a parallel by telling of his experiences with the World war. He saw much active service in France, returning with a paralyzed arm, from a brave season of defending his country.

Rev. Routledge, a Canadian soldier, will tell of his experiences at next week's meeting.

Members Attend Four County Lunch

ELLWOOD CITY, May 25.—Local members of Council of Women, attending the Four-County Council luncheon which took place Thursday in Monaca at the Presbyterian church, were: Mesdames C. F. Farrel, George Nicklas, D. A. Evans, Eva Vosler, Howard Jones, Clifton Jones, Garmon and Wallace H. McCormick. A fine program and routine business was enjoyed at the meeting. The July council will take place in New Brighton.

FLOWERS WANTED

ELLWOOD CITY, May 25. — All those having flowers in gardens, are asked to kindly donate some to the Memorial Day committee, members of which will have to make about 300 bouquets to have sufficient to decorate the soldiers' graves in three cemeteries. Anyone desiring to donate flowers may do so by calling Mrs. Oscar Hooker, not later than Tuesday.

CRITICALLY ILL

ELLWOOD CITY, May 25.—Mrs. R. B. Curry of Glenn avenue, who was admitted to the New Castle hospital two weeks ago, is reported in a very serious condition.

Girl Scouts And Mothers Enjoy Pretty Banquet

Fifty Merit Badges And 30 Second Class Badges Awarded At Annual Banquet

ELLWOOD CITY, May 25.—One hundred and fifty Girl Scouts and their mothers enjoyed the annual scout mothers and daughters banquet Thursday evening in the dining room of the Methodist church.

The tables were beautifully decorated with Iris and dogwood, and little yellow paper cups marked each guest's place. Ladies of the Methodist church served a delicious menu, assisted by the sponsors. Miss Marh Reades and Miss Bennet were responsible for the delectable culinary.

Miss De La Mar, the district supervisor, made a brief address, telling the local scouts how she and helpers organized the scouts in the Shenango valley. There are 600 scouts there at the present time, making 24 troops. The scout leaders were all trained and plans made before a troop was organized, which is the correct way to do. The merit badges were then awarded to 50 scouts and 30 received their second class badges. Guests were present from Sharon and New Castle.

Large Crowd At District Session Of Christian Church

ELLWOOD CITY, May 25.—Crowds attended the annual district convention of the Christian churches of Beaver, Butler and Lawrence counties, which took place Thursday all day in the First Christian church of this city.

Interesting morning, afternoon and evening sessions were conducted and among the prominent speakers were Rev. J. B. Porter of New Castle, L. D. Ridell of Butler, Mrs. M. A. Vaughn of Ellwood City and Miss Mary Sheldrake conducted the young people's session.

Delicious meals were served by the church ladies, and an interesting district convention was enjoyed by the hundreds who attended.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Pursuit Of Sitting Bull (Concluded)

DURING THE WINTER OF 1876-77, GENERAL MILES REORGANIZED HIS FORCES ON TONGUE RIVER AND ONCE MORE SET OUT TO CAPTURE SITTING BULL. THE CRAFTY SIOUX MEDICINE MAN LAID LOW AND A HEAVY SNOWFALL BLOTTED OUT THE TRAILS AHEAD OF HIS PURSUERS.

MILES' SCOUTS SCOURED THE COUNTRY, AND EARLY IN JANUARY DISCOVERED THE HIDDEN ENCAMPMENT OF SITTING BULL'S BAND. THE VILLAGE WAS ATTACKED, AND THE SIOUX DRIVEN ACROSS THE MISSOURI RIVER.

THE TIRELESS MILES FOLLOWED AND, LOCATING THE HIDING-PLACE OF THE HOSTILES, AGAIN ATTACKED THE FUGITIVES. THIS TIME THE INDIANS LOST MOST OF THEIR CAMP EQUIPMENT AND SITTING BULL FLED FAR TO THE NORTH THROUGH THE DEEP SNOWS.

THE TRAIL BEHIND HIM WAS NOW IMPASSABLE, AND SITTING BULL KNEW HE WAS BEYOND THE GRASP OF THE WHITE SOLDIERS. BUT HE ALSO KNEW THAT WITH THE COMING OF SPRING GENERAL MILES WOULD BE AT HIS HEELS AGAIN, AND SO HE MADE SURE OF HIS SAFETY BY SLIPPING ACROSS THE BORDER INTO BRITISH COLUMBIA, WHERE UNITED STATES TROOPS COULD NOT TOUCH HIM.

Stanford Favored To Win Intercollegiate Championship Games

Annual Two-Day Carnival Of Best College Track Men In Country Opens

Boston Crowded With Luminaries In Track World; Expect Many Records To Fall

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

BOSTON, May 25. — Competitive sport's annual leg show will undergo its dress rehaersal at the first day's trials of the Intercollegiate A. A. A. championship games this afternoon and, from all the writer can learn, everything is away up in the air. This, of course, isn't an attempt to say that the situation is not well in hand, with or without the marines. It merely means that Lee Barnes, Southern California, and Sabin Carr, Yale, present and past holders of the world's record, will appear in the pole vault and, with lads like these around, an ordinary second-story man will think he is working in a man hole.

The sky is not the limit with this pair. It's merely the take off. When they get through with an afternoon's outing, they usually make 14 feet look like the heat for second men in the low hurdles.

In addition, there is to be considered Ward Edmonds, of Stanford, who is said to be "potentially" a better vaulter than either Barnes or Carr; meaning, that the only thing that prevents him from beating both is that he can't seem to vault quite high enough. Edmonds' best is a mere 13 feet 7 inches but they say his form is perfection itself. I might say that the thing to do in Ward's case is to take this particular feature of the show before Ziegfeld. But, of course, I won't. Anyhow, Edmonds might beat 14 feet himself and take the play away from the other two.

A new world's record is taken for granted as a result of this meeting between the sky-writers of sport. Carr did his 14 feet for the record in the same games last year, beating Barnes, who failed because he flicked the barr off with a careless elbow after soaring comfortably over the height in question. Subsequently, Carr added an inch to the record in the national indoor championships, whereupon Barnes saw the raise and boosted it a fraction of an inch in a coast meet. He still is waiting for Carr to "call" or fold his cards for the time being.

Stanford Favored

The two-day meeting, starting this afternoon and ending tomorrow will afford the Yale man this opportunity. It also will give the athletic world some inkling of whether the 15-foot vault is within the scope of human endeavor or is only a fantasy of some slightly disordered imagination.

If there is anything else that needs proof by nightfall tomorrow, it probably won't be the current impression that California harbors a few capable athletes. That state has failed to furnish the team champion only once in the lest seven years and the general understanding is that by tomorrow night the Eastern score will be one out of eight. Stanford, they say, can't miss, what with a probable double winner in Eric Krenz in the shot put and discus; Emerson Spencer, the better-than-48-second quarter miler; Fred Zombro and Kimball Dyer, 24-foot broad jumpers; Bob King, 6 foot 6 inch high jumper; Ross Nichols, 15-second hurdler, and others. The latter figure to come in about as handy as a ladies' mustache cup. Stanford is "handicapped" to score all of 45 points, which is almost enough to win two meets.

Southern California, featuring the potential double winner of the sprints, Charley Borah, is expected to make a Western carnival of the thing by finishing second to Stanford. The University of California probably won't be better than sixth or seventh, a source of much encouragement to the East. With some twenty-two teams in the field, it expects to put on a sensational rally and finish third in its own games. Yale, Pittsburgh, Cornell, Dartmouth, Penn State and Harvard are about equally favored to attain this doubtful distinction.

In addition to the pole vault, records are possible in the furlong, high jump, broad jump and several of the weight events. However, even if Borah has it in him to nip his 20 9-10 for the furlong, his recent lameness may have left him a bit "short" in his training. Monty Wells, Dartmouth hurdler, and several other headliners likewise have been hampered by injuries but performances in general figure to average up with the stand-out records of the last decade.

JOIE RAY

Joie Ray is in. He is practically assured of a place on the United States Olympic marathon team by virtue of his showing in the two long runs in which he was entered. He came in third in the Boston marathon and first in the more recent Long Beach run, turning in one of the most remarkable performances in athletic history. His time for the Long Beach marathon was two hours 34 minutes 13 2-5 seconds. The previous record set last year by the Indian, Ouanowahu, was two hours 47 minutes 43 1-5 seconds.

Ray's time was within two minutes of the marathon record, which is two hours 32 minutes 34 4-5 seconds.

Payne Appears Sure Winner

Derby Racers Are Headed For Passaic, N. J., This Afternoon

IN NEW YORK ON SATURDAY NIGHT

By LELAND C. LEWIS
International News Service Special Correspondent

SUFFERN, N. Y., May 25.—C. C. "Cross-Country" Pyle's "ballad of barking dogs", the blank verse best seller of 84 cities and hamlets, lacked but two chapters of completion as his 55 supermen pushed their steps today to Passaic, N. J., 20 miles east of here. The marathon ends in New York City tomorrow night.

The youthful hero of the novel—one Andrew Payne from Oklahoma—who has amassed 3,365.4 miles to his credit in 564:32:36, held a comfortable and an apparently safe margin of 17:32:06 over John Salo, Passaic Finnish-American, who annexes the limelight for the day.

Payne, apparently untired from the ardor of the grind through California, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York, felt no qualms on the trek through New Jersey, the 13th state since leaving Los Angeles on March 4.

Seth Gonzales, Denver pastry baker, led the bunion derbyists into the 82nd control here yesterday after covering the 38 miles from Middletown in 4:59:27.

Leaders in Race

SUFFERN, N. Y., May 25.—Here are the bunion derby leaders and their elapsed time for 3,385.4 miles covered since March 4:

Andrew Payne, Claremore, Okla., 564:32:26.

John Salo, Passaic, N. J., 582:04:42.

Philip Granville, Hamilton, Ont., 605:53:43.

Mike Joyce, Cleveland, O., 619:19:29.

Giusto Umek, Trieste, Italy, 632:59:12.

William Kerr, Minneapolis, Minn., 639:40:03.

Louis Perrella, Albany, N. Y., 646:52:38.

Ed. Gardner, Seattle, 654:37:53.

Frank Von Flue, Kerman, Calif., 654:19:22.

John Cronick, Saskatoon, 657:34:24.

Three Games In Twilight League

The Mahonings will play at Lawrence Indies field on Cedar street with Hudson and Emery as the umpires. The South Hills team will play at Wampum with McCann and Bryson as the officials. The West Pittsburg team will hook up with Clifton Flats at the Flats field and Diana and Zidow will handle the game.

Babe Ruth Clouts Fourteenth Homer

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 25.—If Babe Ruth continues to hit home runs at the pace he has maintained thus far this season, he will have a total of 63, three more than the record he set last year. His 14th circuit clout of the current campaign, made against the Athletics yesterday, puts him three home runs, six days and seven games ahead of his 1927 record.

Bill Killifer, former National league catcher and manager, and at present St. Louis Browns coach, has declined an increase in salary to help Rogers Hornsby, recently named manager of the Braves.

They're smoking up the Tunney-Heeney titular fight. The exploitationists have secured their copy papers, are pounding the typewriters and soon the fans will deluged with the ballyhoo.

C. C. Pyle's derby from the Pacific to the Atlantic is scheduled to end Saturday in New York and it is said $60,000 has been lost and there is some doubt about the "money bag at the end of the rainbow".

Ted Morgan, junior lightweight champion, defended his title last night by defeating Eddie Martin of New York in a slow 15-round bout fought in Gotham. Martin was an easy victim.

The U. S. soccer football team played a 1-1 tie with the Ajax club, Holland, in an exhibition match yesterday at Amsterdam. The Americans gave a good account of themselves.

ROSS PITCHES NO-HIT GAME

Croton M. E. Pitcher Hurls No-Hit Game Against Hokoah Team, Croton Wins

Ross was in rare form last night at Colonial Field and pitched the Croton M. E. team to a 3 to 0 victory over the Hakoah team in a Church League contest. Ross did not allow a hit or run in five innings.

The Croton team climbed on Zieve in the first inning after one run and hammered out two more runs in the fourth inning to grab the victory. Ross was effective at all stages of the game and fanned seven men and did not issue a walk. Colaluca and Benninghoff led the Croton team at bat with two hits apiece.

Kleinhaus May Oppose Morley

Should Cleveland Win From New Castle The Centennials Will Be Forced Back Into Second Place; Kleinhaus And Morley Ready To Take Their Turn On Mound; Kleinhaus Rated High By O. & P. Wiseacres; Morley Displayed His Stuff By Handing First Defeat To Homestead Grays

By ED. FRITZ

Fans who wend their way to Centennial field Saturday afternoon will witness a pitchers' duel should Morley essay to carry New Castle's burden and Kleinhaus mount the slab for Cleveland. According to the wiseacres around the O. & P. rialto, this chap Kleinhaus is the class of the slabmen, but local fans who saw Mr. Morley set back the classy Homestead Grays a week ago will pin their faith to the Centennial hurler until he is knocked for a row of hits.

Dolk Novario has a habit, as the manager of Cleveland, of staging something new every time he takes his aggregation upon the field, and inasmuch as Kleinhaus will be new here, and Cleveland is holding down second place, Novario will send him to the hill.

George Textor handed Morley a tough assignment last Saturday, but the big fellow came through in tip-top shape, holding the Grays to seven hits and forcing seven of them to strike the air. He outpitched Streeter throughout the game.

Has Classy Team

"Cleveland has a good ball club," said wise old George Textor here a few days ago, "and it is Cleveland who will give us trouble. The wise boys around the circuit claim Kleinhaus is the best hurler in the league, but I've got some good pitchers, too."

Cleveland has a bang-up set of hitters, but in this respect the team has nothing on New Castle, judging from the way Hogan, Leonard, McCullough, Grimes and Yoxcheimer have been nailing the pill. In fact, the pinch hitters also have been batting well.

The New Castle club has been coming through in fine shape. Practically all the O. & P. teams have been walloped and the victory last Saturday over the Grays was something to chirp about, as it was the first time the Grays had been beaten this year.

The game will start at 3:15 p. m.

Willie Davies To Meet Wolgast For Flyweight Title

Pennsylvania State Flyweight Title At Stake In Bout Set For Next Monday

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 25—The state title flyweight scrap carded for next Monday night over the ten round route between Midget Wolgast of Philadelphia and Willie Davies of Charlerol, has Philadelphia fans agog.

The winner has been promised a bout with Frankie Genaro for the world's title and the seat sale for a bout if this nature has broken all records.

Both boys are training hard, Wolgast in a local gym while Davies is doing his daily grind at Twin Pines, Pa., Wolgast weighed 108 pounds yesterday while the Charlerol boy tipped the beam at 118 pounds indicating both will make the flyweight limit easily.

This will be the second time that two boxers have fought for a state title in a bout sanctioned by the Pennsylvania State Athletic commission. The first tilt occurred a year ago at Wilkes-Barre when Benny Bass stopped Mickey Doyle for the featherweight title of the state.

A Young Blade On Guard

By Feg Murray

Shades of D'Artagnan, but the steel blade is coming into its own again! Fencing, long regarded as a major sport in Europe, is rapidly growing in popularity in this country, and the foil, epee and saber are becoming as well known as the tennis racket, the oar and the rod and reel.

Mr. Harold Van Buskirk, who was intercollegiate foil champion back in 1915, a member of the U. S. Olympic team at Paris in 1924, and who represented his country against England in 1922 and '26, kindly gave me some information about this fascinating sport, which I had sometimes watched, but never tried. According to Van Buskirk, who is competing now in the finals of the national championships, fencing develops the body better than any other sport—eyes, brain and muscles all profit from practice at this age-old art.

They say that the history of the sword is the history of the world, and certainly modern fencing was fathered by the sword-play of the medieval ages when the life and honor of the dashing cavaliers depended on their ability with the rapier. At present the Amateur Fencing League of America, of which the Hon. Henry Breckenridge, assistant secretary of war under Woodrow Wilson, is president, fosters the art, or sport, in this country. Dr. Graeme Hammond of the N. Y. A. C. and John Allaire of the Fencers Club have probably done more than any other two men to put fencing on the map in America. Mr. Breckenridge is captain of the 1928 U. S. Olympic fencing team. He was unable to accompany the team to Paris in 1924 on account of the long-drawn-out Democratic convention.

George Santelli is the official coach of the Olympic team. His father is a famous fencing master in Budapest, where, by the way, the sport flourishes so that there are 42 saber clubs alone, going full blast all day long! Other likely members of this year's team are St. George Calnan of the U. S. Navy, the outstanding amateur in the U. S., and Nick Muray, well-known New York photographer.

Feg Murray Says—

According to the A. A. U. rules on women's athletics (Sec. LXVI, 7) women athletes shall wear, among other things, "running breeches reaching to within two inches from the knee caps."

Now I ask you, are the poor gals to hurdle, run and jump in clothes longer than the skirts most of them appear on the street in?

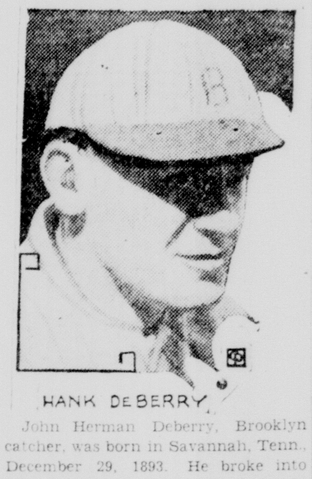
Lowell Allen, Salem High Pole Vaulter, Is Schoolboy Champion

Personalities IN SPORT



HANK DEBERRY

John Herman Deberry, Brooklyn catcher, was born in Savannah, Tenn., December 29, 1893. He broke into baseball back in 1914, with Paducah. He was with Chillicothe, of the Ohio State League, at the start of 1915, and finished up with New Orleans, of the Southern League. Here he attracted the attention of major league scouts, and Cleveland landed him in the scramble late in 1916. From Cleveland he went to Milwaukee. He saw service in the navy in 1918, and upon his discharge signed with New Orleans. It was from the Pelicans that he was picked up by the Dodgers in 1922.

Previous to this season Deberry had had six years of big-time playing. In that time he broke into 423 games and gathered a .269 batting average.

"Hank", as he is commonly known, is five feet 10 inches in height and weighs 170 pounds. He bats and throws right-handed.

By "BUGS" WATHER.

It would seem to the casual observer that all good pole vaulters must by intuition come from Salem, O. Whatever kind of climate they have over in Salem, it appears that pole vaulters thrive on it.

Lowell Allen, young Salem high school pole vaulter about a week or so ago broke the world's scholastic pole vault record at 13 feet 3-4 inches at Madison Wisc., in a schoolboy meet. Not satisfied with the Madison record, young Allen stepped to the mark in the Northeastern Ohio Scholastic meet at Salem O., the other day and broke his Madison record by soaring 13 feet 1 3-4 inches.

While on the question of pole vaulters and Salem, O., and tehir connection it is recalled to mind that Ralph "Scoots" Day now matriculating at Grove City college and a former New Castle high football, basketball, track star was a former resident of Salem, O. Incidentally Day was a pole vaulter that comes by instinct when one lives in Salem and it will be recalled that Day was a star pole vaulter with the New Castle high track team of two years ago. Day won many medals in the vault and was the dean of the W. P. I. A. L. vaulters at one time. Another well known pole vaulter that received his mail at Salem, O., was William "Bill" Robush, former Pitt star track man.

Allen is only about 17 years old and by the time that he reaches college sport world should hear more about this "sky-writer."

Sabin Carr of Yale and Barnes the Olympic pole vault candidates have not yet reached 14 feet.

News Willing To Help Spread Alarm In Case Of Water Accidents

Although weather conditions are not ideal for swimming, the season is looming and it is probable that there may be accidents.

In case of accidents in the streams do not delay. Rush to a telephone and EXPLAIN FULLY where accident is. Call:

No. 8, city police.
No. 161 or 5469, county detective.
No. 4378, state police.
No. 568, sheriff's office.

The News number is 4000, and The News will be glad to help and dispatch the alarm to the officers who will be only too glad to help in any emergency.

The city police has pulmotors and grappling irons and all officers, city, county or state, will be at the beck and call in case of accident.

Probability is the "Flying Squadron," composed of such expert swimmers as "Horse" Gillium, Alec Samuels, Jack Hulme, Jack Herbert and a dozen others will designate a place where they can be reached by telephone.

Pirates Defeat Chicago Cubs

Pirates Get To Nehf And He Gives Way In Fifth Inning

CAPTAIN TRAYNOR ILL WITH INFLUENZA

PITTSBURGH, May 25.—The Pirates played good baseball behind Burleigh Grimes yesterday and the Chicago Cubs were set down, 6-2, in the first of a three-game series, and incidentally it was the fourth straight defeat for the Cubs.

Nehf lasted five innings for the Cubs and Bush gave way to Holly. The Pirates were without the services of Captain Traynor, who has influenza.

Homestead Grays Win, Eight-Five

Newberry Holds Grays Hitless Until He Weakens In Fifth

LEONARD GETS TWO TRIPLES AND DOUBLE

MASSILLON, O., May 25.—New Castle lost to the Homestead Grays here yesterday when the Grays got their eye on Newberry's delivery. The score was 8 to 5. The game was featured by Red Leonard's stick work. He got two triples and a double and Beckwith ended on Newberry for a home run.

Newberry, a southpaw, held the Grays without a hit for four innings but after that the Grays hit him 11 times.

The victory gave the Grays two victories of a three-game series, New Castle having won last Saturday.

Ryantown Trims Italians 4 To 1

The Ryantown team retained their hold on first place in the National section of the Twilight League on Thursday evening at the Ryantown field by defeating the Italian A. C., 4 to 1, in a seven-inning game.

Winters had the pitching assignment for the Ryantown team and held the hard-hitting Italians to three hits and fanned five men. Turco was the pitcher for the losers and was found for eight hits. Ernie Palus had the only extra base hit of the game. Timely hitting was done by Kauffman and Winters.

Edenburg Defeats Troop B 4 To 3

Edenburg defeated Troop B 4 to 3 in a fast game played at Edenburg on Thursday night. The game was a National section contest.

Rodenbaugh on the knoll for the Edenburg team had the troopers at his mercy all the way and allowed but two hits, a double and single by Dahlberg. Edenburg found the pitching of Houston to their liking and secured six hits, good for four runs. Rodenbaugh fanned six men and walked two. The hitting of Hood, Black, Jones and Dahlberg featured.

Athletics-Yanks Divide Contests

Teams Fighting For American League Lead Split Double Bill On Thursday

DODGERS TOPPLE GIANTS, 3 TO 0

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 25.—Walberg and Quinn and Pennock and Hoyt are slated for mound duty in Philadelphia this afternoon when the Athletics and the Yankees, who are making a two-horse race out of the American League scramble, clash in another double-header. They divided yesterday's twin bill amid the cheers of a record slowtown crowd of 42,000 and the groans of 10,000 who were unable to get into the park.

Three Yankee pitchers outlasted as many Mack twirlers in the opener, which Signor Antonio Lazzeri won single-handed by driving in six runs. The wonderful wop hit for the circuit in the nightcap and Babe Ruth got his 14th homer, but young Ossie Orwoll stopped the other Yankees, and George Pipgras, New York ace, lost his first game of the season. The scores were 9 to 7 and 5 to 2.

Cubs Lose Again

In the National League the Cubs, a poor road team, have lost four straight since winning 13 in a row at home. The St. Louis Cardinals, boasting a winning streak of four games, have taken second place away from them. The Cubs were stopped yesterday by Burleigh Grimes of the Pirates, 6 to 2, while Flint Rhem pitched the Cards to a 7 to 1 triumph over Cincinnati. The Reds now lead St. Louis by only five points.

Jess Petty, the Brooklyn "bad boy", whose only weakness is ice cream sodas, whitewashed the Giants, 3 to 0, in his first start since he was suspended for spending his evenings on a daylight saving schedule in Central Standard time territory. Thirsting for revenge or something, the non-refillable southpaw held New York to three hits and the Brooklyns squared the series. Only 28 men faced him.

Although pounded for 18 hits, Sam Gray of the St. Louis Browns staggered under the wire a 12 to 9 winner over the Cleveland Indians. Blue got four hits.

"Fat" Fothergill's double in the 12th staked Detroit to a 6 to 4 decision over Chicago and enabled the Tigers to take sixth place away from the Sox.

Other teams were idle.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News.

Maurice Archdeacon, holder of the world's record for circling the bases, has just been purchased by the Buffalo club of the International league from Baltimore of the same circuit.

The fastest man in the game at circling the bases and yet a failure as a big leaguer. That is the tragedy in Archdeacon's life. Tried out by the major league potentates, he seemed to possess but one thing—burning speed. He could not hit big league pitching and his fielding was but fair.

However, Archdeacon is just one of a long list of men who have carried up to the majors with them but one asset, and found that insufficient to keep them in the big tent.

Jay Kirke, veteran American Association outfielder, first baseman and slugger extraordinary, could—in his prime—hit a ball as hard as anyone who ever swung a bat. No foolin'. But that tremendous hitting wasn't enough to carry him to fame in the majors—or even permit him to enjoy a reasonable stay in the big top. He could not outguess the big league hurlers. The mighty swing of his broad shoulders hurled his bat thru thin air as the tantilizing curves hooked to or from him.

Guy Morton, who ranked along with Walter Johnson and other great hurlers in the matter of control, could not make the grade because he had little but that control. Flirting for some time with a spit in the hall of fame, while with the Cleveland Indians, he eventually drifted out of the majors—to Kansas City—with a lame arm—the result of trying to whip his way through the majors.

Morton went up to the majors from the Waterbury club of the Eastern league, where Lee Fohl had trained him. It was said of Morton that in his younger days he went squirrel hunting armed with nothing but round stones and that he brought down the animals with unerring aim. He could literally hit a knothole at the regulation pitching distance. And he had that marvelous control when he moved up. He lacked two vital assets, however. One was confidence. The other, a rugged constitution. The one asset was not enough.

Moose McCormick, old Giant star, on the other hand, became one of baseball's celebrities in the role of specialist. McCormick was slow. He couldn't field. He was not a good all-around ball player.

But he possessed an uncanny knack of stepping up to the batter's box and solving a pitcher's delivery between the first and third strikes, possessed by no other man in baseball, before or since.

McGraw carried him for years and rated him as one of the most valuable members of his pennant winning outfits—that was back in Matty's heyday as well—because of this marvelous ability to "straighten one out" at a critical moment.

Fred Marberry stands out as one of the interesting figures of the game because of his masterful performances as a relief pitcher. He has been tried and found to be (frankly) but an ordinary pitcher when given his chance to go the route. But thrust into a game in the closing innings with the defense cracking, the opposition running rampant and the game about to go to the incinerating plant, he is in a class by himself. A couple of years ago he broke into something like 59 games as pinch pitcher, with remarkable results. He started but one or two of those games.

* * *

Ray Caldwell, one of the former "Rays" of the Yankee pitching lights a decade or so ago, apparently is starting a new idea in baseball. He has begun a round-the-circuit tour of his league.

Caldwell, according to recent word, has just joined his third club of the Southern association since the season opening. The Little Rock club released him at the start of the season. Memphis claimed him and then shortly passed him along to the Chattanooga club.

Caldwell at one time labored with Ray Keating and Ray Fisher on the Yankee roster. The three of them made life easy for the sketch artists. A rainy day, with its usual dampening effect on ideas, would normally result in another striking affair, depicting the three hurlers sharing the center of a beautiful sunburst affair.

Congress Leaders Plan Adjournment Tuesday Afternoon

Regardless Of Senate Filibuster Congress Will Adjourn Next Tuesday

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The seventieth congress will end its first session at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of Tuesday, May 29th regardless of the outcome of the senate filibuster, it was announced today by administration leaders.

The resolution of adjournment, already adopted by the house, will be reported to the senate late Saturday under present plans. If the filibuster has blocked all action in the senate until then, administration leaders will seek a truce to enact the adjournment resolution. All indications pointed to its adoption.

Hundred And Fifty Men Are Searching In Subway Excavation

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 25.—One hundred and fifty men were searching in a subway excavation on St. Nicholas avenue early today for Charles Killingsworth 10-year-old colored boy believed to have been buried under a rock slide last night.

The falling debris carried 160 feet of wooden roadway and three building fronts with it. Helen Smith 8-year-old colored girl, narrowly escaped death. She was thrown 70 feet to the bottom of the excavation when a wooden sidewalk collapsed. Rescuers dragged her to safety. Seventy-five workmen ran out of the excavation barely a minute before tons of rock and timber crashed to the bottom.

RELIABLE USED CARS

Cars that have been properly used. You can't tell much about a used car's past just by seeing it on a showroom floor. That's a job for an expert who has given it a thorough inspection. If you buy a car here, we'll tell you honestly what we know about its past and what its present condition is and it doesn't cost any more to know you are getting a square deal, in fact you'll find our prices about the lowest in town.

Call and see our stock, all at prices you'll know are right and terms agreeable.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 25.—Sharp advances in the motor, radio and metals stocks at the beginning of trading today was the market's response to the $46,000,000 decrease in brokers' loans as reported in the weekly Reserve Board Summary. Though call money market conditions were unchanged, it was generally believed that the completion of the June-first settlements after next week would release a considerable volume of funds for the stock market and this was a strong argument for the confident and successful bulls.

Studebaker was whipped along aggressively to above 82 in continuation of the movement which has already brought the stock up nearly 20 points. Chrysler Motor, Packard, and General Motors sold up a point each. Stabilization of copper metal prices at 14⅝ cents a pound was reflected in a strong market for copper stocks. International Nickel rose brilliantly to above 90. Anaconda, Cerro De Pasco and Kennecott led the coppers in their forward movement.

Bullish operations were started in a number of the mercantile stocks, with Sears Roebuck and Montgomery Ward receiving the most attention. Rails were inactive but firm, with New York Central leading a moderate advance in the dividend stocks in this group. Trading was heavy in the second hour. Call money was unchanged at 6 per cent.

Iron And Steel Trade Outlook

Weekly Summary Is Presented By Iron Age; Good Production

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 25.—The Iron Age in its weekly summary of the iron and steel trade says:

Mill operations are tapering, but the gradual character of the decline is testimony to the large volume of steel passing directly into consumption. With prices no longer buoyant, consumers are ordering sparingly and, in some instances, are delaying purchases in the hope of buying more advantageously later. This spirit of caution is reflected not only in new business, but in a reduction in the average size of individual specifications. Shipping orders in the aggregate, however, show surprisingly little change.

Steel output in the greater Pittsburgh district has dipped to 75 per cent, compared with a recent rate of 80 per cent of capacity. At Chicago, where production has been holding at 95 per cent, there has been virtually no curtailment to date. Average operations of Steel Corporation subsidiaries are now placed at 85 per cent, a decline of three of four points in the past week.

The volume of tonnage still reaching the mills is all the more impressive when the uneven tendencies of consumption are considered. Makers of wire products are feeling the overstocked condition of jobbers, particularly in nails. Business in steel pipe is making a poor showing compared with recent years. The decline in demand for oil country pipe is marked, even in comparison with last year, when first quarter shipments satisfied most of the first half requirements. Railroad equipment orders are disappointing, and the consumption of hot-rolled bars by makers of cold-finished bars and bolts, nuts and rivets has declined, bolt and nut output being 10 per cent lower than a month ago.

On the other hand, tin plate demand remains active, supporting mill operations well above 90 per cent of capacity. Specifications for automobile steel are undiminished and, with the exception of one of two companies there has been no slowing down in motor car output. Ford's bar requirements now exceed the capacity of his own mill, and an increasing tonnage is being bought in the open market. At Chicago new business in soft steel bars is equal to shipments and alloy steel bar mills are running at capacity.

Specifications for automobile body sheets remain heavy. Some interruption in the flow of steel to motor car plants is expected, however, in about 30 days, when new models will be brought out.

The structural steel outlook continues good, although awards of fabricated work for the week were light. At New York fully 90,000 tons of new work will come up for bids before mid-summer and at Chicago 50,000 tons for a single project will probably be placed by the middle of June.

Merchant producers of pig iron are encountering increasing competition from steel company furnaces as steel output tapers. Weakness in scrap prices, by stimulating the use of old material in open-hearth furnaces, has also released more steel works pig iron for the open market. The drop of 50c. a ton on basic and Bessemer pig iron in the Valley brings these grades to the lowest levels since the Fall of 1915. The reduction in Valley basic was brought out by a 25,000 ton inquiry from a steel company.

For the third successive week the Iron Age pig iron composite price has reached the lowest figure since 1915. Finished steel a new low level. It is now $17.34 a ton, remains for a third week at 2.344c. a lb.

Seventh Ward Place Robbed During Night

Proprietor Claims Man Working There Takes Money And Cigarets

Nick Kontos, proprietor of the White Star restaurant in the seventh ward, reported to Officer John Golis this morning that the waiter in his place of business had closed the place up during the night, after having robbed the cash register of $15. He also took with him two cartons of cigarets, according to Kontos. The man who did this, according to the statement made to Officer Golis by Kontos, is known as Edward Murphy, who is 40 to 45 years of age, five feet eight inches in height and has gray hair.

TO PURCHASE TARMAC FOR RHODES PLACE

Council today, in session at city hall, passed a resolution authorizing Councilman Reeves to purchase sufficient tarmac to tarmac Rhodes Place. The material costs 16 cents a gallon and Reeves is authorized by the resolution to secure enough for the 1928 improvement season.

You can tell the man who seldom eats away from home. He gets so restless when he must sit and wait until the others have finished.

Astronomers In Search Of Sky To Find Planet

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, May 25.—Astronomers are training their telescopes upon the heavens in search of a new planet, believed to exist outside the orbit of the planet Neptune.

The fact that some mysterious force has pulled the planets Uranus, Neptune and Saturn from their normal orbits has led atronomers to believe that an undiscovered heavenly body is traveling through the skies relatively close to them.

An exhaustive search of certain portions of the skies has been made by Professor Edwin B. Frost of the Yerkes Observatory of the University of Chicago.

Make Photographs.

Professor Frost is sustained in his belief by William H. Pickering, former Yale University professor, that such a planet, slightly smaller than the earth, exists near Neptune or Uranus. On the sppposition that a planet may be found nearer the sun than Mercury that area too is being photographed.

In an interview regarding the age old question of human life upon planets, Professor Frost pointed out that the general public has been misled. Human life can exist more properly on Venus than upon Mars, the earth's closest neighbor. Mercury is subject to rapid climatic changes that with test the hardihood of the Earthians" but Venus basking nearer the sun, would have a warm, moist climate, with a large rainfall.

Venus Difficult.

Little is known of the planet Venus because its surface is usually covered with a heavy cloudy atmosphere through which telescopes have been unable to penetrate. But from what is known of its orbit and the physical properties of its soil, gleaned from spectrascopic analysis it is believed life on it as on the earth could exist upon Venus without visable discomfort.

The new planet if found could not support human life as its atmosphere would be thinner than that found at the highest altitudes attained by aviators here and because of the intense cold which would approach close to the "absolute zero" many degrees below the coldest natural temperatures ever recorded upon the earth.

Recover More Mine Victims At Mather, Pa.

Five Additional Bodies Removed From Mather Mine Workings By Rescue Teams

CONTINUE BURIAL OF BLAST VICTIMS

(International News Service)

MATHER, Pa., May 25.—Five more bodies, bringing the total to 169, were recovered today from the workings of the Mather colliery, where last Saturday night 197 miners were killed when the pit was rocked by an explosion.

Probably today the bodies of these five men will be included in the long funeral procession which has been wending its way through the streets of this town to graveyards in the surrounding countryside since early in the week when the first of the men were removed from the mine. Thirty bodies, which remained in temporary morgues or in homes last night were to be buried today.

Throughout yesterday the streets of Mather witnessed an almost continuous procession. By nightfall 70 of the mine's victims had been laid to rest.

Slander Suit By Pittsburgh Girl Settled, Report

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, May 25.—The $100,000 slander suit brought by Mrs. Nell M. Browne, former society girl of Pittsburgh, against Roland P. Bishop, Jr., scion of a wealthy Southern California family, has been settled out of court, according to announcement today of Milton Golden, Mrs. Browne's attorney. Charges that he had slandered her after she refused to be married to him were made against Bishop by Mrs. Browne in her complaint.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Digging out old pictures seems to be something of a pastime the past week or so. With Memorial Day just around the corner somebody dug out an old parade picture yesterday and turned in into the Legion Home.

The picture shows the head end of the Memorial Day parade in 1912, coming down Washington street just opposite the Lawrence Savings and Trust Building. Perhaps you remember that old nickelodeon which was open across the street at that time. The picture playing that week was "The Old Actor."

Comparing the dresses of the women on that parade day and what they will wear on this Memorial Day is amusing. The dresses were so long one could not tell if they had on oxfords or gum boots. There isn't much doubt this year.

The men wore those delicious looking derbies with small brims. What a wow they were. And yet that is only 16 years ago. Some of the little boys who were on the curb watching that parade will be in the one Memorial Day.

It was only five years from that parade in 1912, until a lot of those little boys were in parades every day, but with the serious business of war at hand.

Some of those little boys are not here now. The "Big Parade" over across the sea was their last. Their buddies are here and tomorrow you and I and all of us should wear a Buddy Poppy as a remembrance of those little boys who watched that parade in 1912, and then went out to the Great Adventure in 1917 and 1918.

Pictures like that start one reminiscing. Just ten years ago today seems like a long time, and yet it seems such a short span. Ten years ago this afternoon I was in the mountains of North Carolina, up near Asheville, in the "Land of the Sky." Up where the mountain peaks seem to kiss the sun, and the moon seems to hang right down on the branches of the trees. Where the sky is always the most gorgeous azure, and the world seems far below. The American casualties were just beginning to get back home that month. A trainload of invalids from the Rainbow Division had come up into those mountains to give the lads from that famous 42nd Division, a chance to recuperate.

Thursday afternoon was spent roaming around the interior of the Carnegie Auditorium where the judging of the safety posters was going on. It is more than remarkable, the work turned out by the boys and girls of the schools of this city. You may be interested to know that the men from Pittsburgh who were assisting in the judging remarked that there was more originality and more real art shown in the New Castle posters than in any of the schools in the other steel cities.

There could be but one first prize of course, but really there were a lot of posters that merited a prize. Splendid ideas, unusual technique, and a general effect that looked like some commercial artist's work.

More Land For Pymatuning

State To Purchase 575 More Acres In Connection With Dam Project

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 25.—The Water Power and Resource Board has approved purchase of eight tracts of land totaling 575 acres in connection with the Pymatuning reservoir project in Crawford county. The board also approved the rental of private interests, pending construction of the reservoir, of the three tracts, totaling about 700 acres, acquired for the project.

With the help of several legislative appropriations, approximately 11,000 acres have now been acquired by the state for the construction of the reservoir, which will reclaim the Pymatuning swamp for industries along the Shenango river.

The more room there is in the tonneau, the fewer children there are in it.

Chicago Chatter

BY IONE QUINBY

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

CHICAGO, May 23.—Time was when Irene Castle of the famous Castle dancing team paid a press agent to get her name into the paper. Since she became the wife of Frederick McLaughlin, Chicago millionaire, and formerly the most eligible bachelor hereabouts, she pays a secretary to keep her name out. Mr. McLaughlin, they say, is adverse to publicity.

Stories concerning her, however, will creep in. She is noted now for three things. She is Chicago's best dressed woman (and that includes Lake Forest, Ill., where she and other fashionables live), she is the mother of an adorable child, Patsy, of kindergarten age, and she is the foremost champion of homeless dogs. A lover of dogs, she proposes to establish a farm home for stray, homeless and mad dogs.

Speaking about mad dogs, brings to mind Chicago's latest danger plight. Health Commissioner Kegel says the town is overrun by mad dogs, and cites statistics and records to back it up. More than 18,000 dogs without homes—mongrel tramps and street walkers — have met capital punishment so far this year. An average of 400 persons a month have been bitten by these dogs since January, it was said. Despite the fact that the police department has 11 wagons cruising around, picking up stray dogs and disposing of them, dogs are on the increase. The health commissioner desires new methods for getting hold of the dogs and executing them at the dog pound. Mrs. McLaughlin wants them sent to her farm.

CHICAGO, May 25.—Women's rights, it appears, from Chicago experience with the feminine sex, does not mean that women desire to make this an all-woman world. They are not yet in a frame of mind where they would be willing to vanquish men. Three "Loop" hotels that recently established women's floors—for women only—with every convenience and luxury, complain that women do not want to patronize these floors. There is a dearth of patrons, they say, and at least one of the hotels is about to abandon the idea. When women are queried as to why they dislike a woman's floor some evade the question, while others say simply they would rather be on a regular hotel floor, patronized by both men and women, because they feel they get better service. The same thing occurred when a railroad tried to put on a sleeping car for women, a short time ago, running out of Chicago. This is what the women said when asked why they wouldn't patronize it: "When we go away from home we want to see somebody, if it's only walking up and down the aisles. We don't want to be shut up with just women." And these weren't the vamp types, either.

* * *

A "gold coast" butler has organized a union for housemaids and butlers, asking for a certain number of working hours each day and one day and a half off a week. The butler has fitted up on office on West Madison street, and his four assistants—a former chauffeur, housemaid, houseman and butler—have canvassed the homes of families whose names appear on the social register of the city, and whose income taxes run into hundreds of thousands. To date he has 700 members. Now and then the members come to him and register complaints. A butler, one of the modern kind, not the good old-fashioned type like you see on the stage or in some of the old families, complainend he must have more evenings off a week so he can take his family riding in his new car. Also, he said, his wife is suspicious and she doesn't always believe him when he tells her he has to work "late". A second maid said she had only been able to use her seat at the opera three times this season because her mistress had so much company.

Two Are Dead In Gasoline Blast At Newspaper Plant

Two Pressmen Killed As Can Of Gasoline Is Exploded By Hot Filament

(International News Service)

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., May 25.—Two men were dead today and several others were suffering from injuries received when a can of gasoline exploded at the plant of the Evening Journal here late yesterday.

The dead are: Jack Welty, 18, who was instantly killed, and A. Douglas Nessick, 22, who died in a hospital. Both were pressmen.

Fire followed the blast but was quickly extinguished. No estimate of the damage had been made today.

Officials of the newspaper said that other pressmen told them that the explosion occurred when an electric light bulb struck an iron beam and broke, dropping the hot filament into the gasoline which was being used by Welty and Nessick to clean an emergency press.

Eighteen Miles Added To Perry Highway In Year's Construction

Eighteen miles of the Perry highway will be built during the summer of 1928. Work is under way on ten miles of the route northward from the Allegheny county line, it was announced yesterday by F. P. Filer of Mercer, chairman of the Perry Highway Association that eight additional miles will be let to contract soon.

Mr. Filer states that he has been in communication with State Highway Commissioner Stuart, who informed him that plans and specifications were ready and that bids would be asked soon. The engineering work has been completed, and grades are reported as being all that could have been desired.

The Perry highway is the eastern route north and south through Lawrence county. It is expected that the road will be completed into Portersville during the summer months.

Thousands To Attend Camps

All Records Broken For Applications For U. S. Military Camps

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Applications for Citizens Military Training Camps this summer have broken all records, the War Department announced today.

On May 20, applications numbered 47,069, approximately 10,000 more than at the corresponding period of last year, and 17,000 more than at the same period of 1926.

The Second Corps Area, headquarters New York, leads the other eight areas of the country with 7,944 applications. The Fourth Corps Area, Atlanta, is second in the list to date with 1,211.
